CHURCH CONSECRATION .- St. John's (Episcopal) Church was consecrated at Carlisle yesterday. The sermon on the occasion was preached by Rev. Mr. Leacock, of this city.

CANAL NAVIGATION.—The Lewistown Gazett of yesterday says that canal navigation may now be said to be at an end for this season, as the water will be drawn off in a few days. The construction of a new aqueduct at that place will we suppose be at once commenced.

THE WEATHER was again delightful to-day, the mercury having marked 47 degrees at noon. The sky was clear, but the barometer indicated some humidity in the atmosphere. There is, however, very little prospect of an early unfavorable change in the weather.

THE HAYTIAN EMIGRANTS .- By letters received last week we learn that the party of colored people who left this neighborhood about the truth we will strike hands with all the people who left the reached St. Marc. middle of October for Hayti, reached St. Marc, of the loyal States, and invoking the blessings a port of that island, on the 2d of November, of God of battle, contend to the end with all after a favorable passage of eleven days. So far foes without and within. One hundred thousthe emigrants were well pleased with their new HEALTH OF OUR TROOPS .- The Philadelphia Press says :-- It is a remarkable fact shat there is less sickness in the Pennsylvania regiments on the opposite side of the Potomac than in the regiments from any other State. This is attributed, in a great measure, to the many necessaries and comforts which are sent to them by their friends at home.

PROF. M'COYS ORATION.—This great oration was repeated in the Fourth Street Bethel last evening to a large and fashionable audience, who listened with breathless attention to the thrilling eloquence of the orator. Ex-Governor Porter presided, and among the audience we observed all the government Heads of Departments, excepting his excellency, the Governor, who had been called suddenly from the city on important State affairs. The fine band attach ed to Col. Murray's regiment was present, and furnished excellent music for the occasion.

SOLDIER'S MITS.-We have been requested to publish the following card: CAMP CURTIN, Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 18.

We have the pleasure of acknowledging the receipts of one hundred pair of excellent military mits, received through the influence of our Colonel, H. C. Longnecker, received by him through Mrs. Hymon Longnecker, from the pa-triotic ladies of Shiremanstown and Allen township, Cumberland county, for which we return thanks in behalf of the members of the CAPT. E. R. NEWHARD, company.

LIEUTS. WAGNER and QUIER. of Allentown, Pa.

Engaging Manners.—There are a thousand pretty, engaging little ways, which every person may put on without running the risk of being deemed either affected or foppish. The sweet smile, the quiet cordial bow, the earnest movement in addressing a friend, or more especially a stranger, whom one may recommend to our good regards, the inquiring glance, the graceful attention which is so captivating when united to self possession—these will insure us the good regards of even a churl. Above all, there is a certain softness of manner which should be cultivated, and which, in either man or woman, adds a charm that almost entirely dred gross for a season's sales, are now unable would thrill to receive from him another book, would thrill to receive from him another book, which which compensates for lack of beauty. The voice car be modulated so as to intonate that it will speak directly to the heart and from that elicit an answer; and politeness may be made essential to our nature. Neither is time thrown away in attending to such things, insignificant as they may seem to those who engage in weight-Police Matters.—The following cases were

"worked up" yesterday and last night by the consolidated Police. Station, Raspberry alley, opposite the Court House:

Wm. Curtis (colored) charged with assault and hattery. Committed by Justice Beader to answer.
Mrs. Howard and Elizabeth Howard (both colored,) drunk and disorderly. Discharged by Justice Beader. Jesse Howard, (colored,) assault and battery on his wife. Committed by Alderman Cald well to answer.

Samuel Derham, (white) drunkenness and indecent conduct on the streets. Committed for 48 hours by Alderman Kline.

Geo. W. Tnomas, (white) drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the streets. Committed by Alderman Kline for 48 hours.

Wm. Carher, (white) drunk and disorderly. Committed by Alderman Kline for 48 hours. Emma Lutz, (white) larceny of a watch from her husband, and disposing of the same to a soldier. The watch was recovered. Committed by Alderman Maglaughlin for 30 days. THE BLUE OVERCOATS.—Time was, says the Philadelphia Bulletin, when the blue regulation overcoat was a sort of badge of disgrace. Enlistment in the regular army, in peace time, was generally considered the last resort of desperate men. Poor foreigners stranded on our shores, after striving in vain to obtain some other employment, sank down into the ranks as they would into an almshouse. Our own countrymen, whom reverses in fortune or love, diseased imaginations, misanthropy or whatever else of an unhinging sort had made reckless, would finally lounge into a recruiting office, and put down their names, just as a bear seeks out a hollow tree in winter, wherein he may naintain a simple existence. But the war has anged all this. The regulation suit having en adopted very generally among the volunthe is now a badge of honor. It does not demate the wearer as a lounger in barracks, tion of countrymen.

DEPARTURE OF COL. WYNKOOP'S REGIMENT. regiment of cavalry left here last evening by a where it will be exhibited this evening. special train of cars for Pittsburg, en route to Kentucky. The State stand of colors was presented to the regiment at 4 o'clock yesterday cellency the Governor, in the following eloquent structive and bewildering.

SOLDIERS :where a loyal people are in arms to defend themselves against the mad and wicked efforts of the rebels and conspirators to force them out of the Union, to defend the State against the ravages of the enemy and the homes of the people from the desolations of the incendiaries. We must all remember that we are engaged in there treason, even within the portals of the ear of Pennsylvania with no other effect than and of our people are now bearing arms to maintain the suppremacy of the Constitution, and as with one voice we ask the powers at Washington to maintain the dignity of our na-vices may be required. and the crowd of people present, as being the two months," pointing as he spoke to a tiny first official recognition of the attempt of England to interfere in our struggles to crush rebellion, and the first bold avowal of a determination to resist such interference with any means and at all hazards. It will elicit a hear-ty remonse wherever it is read as being emi-of any other association. ty response wherever it is read, as being emi nently patriotic and peculiarly Pennsylvanian in temper and spirit.

The flag was received on behalf of the regiment by Col. Wynkoop, in a neat speech replete with patriotic allusion.

The following is a list of the field and staff officers of the regiment:

Colonel - George C. Wynkoop, of Schuylkill Lieutenant Colonel - William B. Sipes, of

FASHION AND SHAVING BRUSHES.—The changes of fashion operate oddly upon business. Since the beard and monstache followed the wake of lager and meershaums, and became Americanized, the number of barbers' shops in this country has fallen off from over one hundred per cent. A leading brush maker informs a cotemporary that five years ago he constantly employed tentive wife, but that the romance and chivalthree journeymen the year round for the sole purpose of making shaving brushes. At the present moment a single journeyman can supply the entire demand, without occupying more than one half his time. While this is true of shaving brushes, it is equally true of razors al- Christmas tree, or stuffed the turkey and mouldso. Things hang queerly together. It is in the power of fashion to ruin any busisiness in a single season. The class of manufacturers who have had the best and longest run of luck, are the makers of hoop skirts and adjustible bustles. At one time quill pens sold so high that geese took on more airs than any fowls in existance. At this moment goose quills are scarcely worth the task of preparing them for market.

THE USE OF TOBACCO.-It is not enough to know that Dr. Parr smoked twenty pipes in an evening, and lived to be seventy; that Thomas Hobbes smoked thirteen, and survived to ninety. two; that Brissiac of Trieste died at one hundred and sixteen, with a pipe in his mouth; and that Henry Hartz, of Schleswig used tobacco steadily from the age of sixteen to one hundred and forty-two, nor would any accumulation of such healthy old sinners prove anything satisfactory. It seems rather overwhelming to be sure, when Mr. Fairholt assures us that his respected father "died at the age of seventy-two he had been twelve hours a day in a tobacco Together with a large lot of other Goods such manufactory for nearly fifty years; and he both as Blankets, Shirt Breasts for 12½c., Satchels manuactory for nearty nity years; and he both smoked and chewed while busy in the labors of and Collars, and 200 Towels at 12c. But until we know no means rivals him." But until we know also ladies callars, cuff setts, under-garments, precisely what capital health the venerable to-bacconist inherited from his fathers, and in what condition he transmitted it to his sons, the statement certainly has two edges.

THE TIDIOUTE OIL WELLS.—The Eric Dispatch says: "The oil wells of Tidioute refused to give oil to pumpers during the summer, but, by some strange and unaccountable means, within a week past oil has been found in all the within a week past oil has been found in all the grocery store. hitherto pumping wells, and now they yield a fair product of oil. THE MYSTERY EXPLAINED.—The Lebanon Advertiser thus explains the case of mysterious disactual war, and you go my friends to share in its vicisitudes and dangers. Kind father, but thoughtless husband! Had he forgotten a certain Christmas eve of years since, when he had gladly expended a whole week's earning upon a richly bound volume of Burns' Poems, as a gift for sweet Anna Brown whom he would soon call wife? Did he not remember her timid acceptance, and how fresh it still looked, gracing a table in their neat parlor as one of her choicest treasures? Has he forgotten the ring, with its pure ruby, which, as he placed it upon her finger, he bade her mark was a symbol of his love, which, like it, had no end? True the sentiments and remark were very old fashioned, but it was love's own truth, and he had the right to use it. She had been his wife for almost a score of years. The girlish beauty of her round, bright face, was partly lost in shadows which motherhood and its serious duties had brought upon her, yet she linked the green spots in her own happy child-hood with her children's joys, and like them, thought no love token or new pleasure
