Ho! FOR THE HOLIDAYS!—The beautiful and practical blended in the Gifts offered for sale at Bergprating Store !- The approaching Christmas Hollidays are bringing with them their accostomary anticipations of gifts and presents, one of the honored costoms, too, in the observance of which there is a pleasure that is equally shared by the dener and the recipient of a gift. Nor is it the cost or the extent of a gift which increases friendship, because the simplest remembrance betokens often the sincerest friendship. In order that all testes and means may be gratified in the shape of articles for presents during the in the shape holidays, the stock of Books and appropriate at Berguer's Book and Stationery Store has been most extensively enlarged, and now embraces a variety of the beautiful, the useful, the practical and economical, such as cannot be found in any other establishment outside of New York or Philadelphia. The advertis ment in another column presents these articles in detail, and to this we invite the attencles in actan, one that the Book Stores tion of the reader desirous of supplying himself the evening of the Lecture. or his trictals with rare articles for Christmas presentation. In the article of books, there is every description, tom the well established and popular standard writers, to the young and timid author, full of life and hope and ability, just about to do batde for public favor and applause. Books of Poetry in every possible style and binding, more beautiful than the thoughts of the authors themselves could have invested their productions. Books of History and Memoiers, in solid library style or the ornamented binding so deirable for adornment. Books of Romance embellished with every conceivable fancy of the artist and the painter. Books, in fact, from the grave to the gay—designed as gifts for all tastes and as companions for all ages, can be found at Bergner's.

One of the most beautiful gifts of the season is the Photographic Album. This is an entirely new construction in the shape of an Album. gotten up in size for the preservation of the ordinary photographic pictures. They will contain from 10 to 100 pictures, and when the photographs are inserted between their folds, they can be preserved and handled for years without danger from light or injury from the touch of the hand. As a suitable and valuable present we consider these albums in all respects superior to any other articles which can possibly be purchased. The stock at Bergner's is more extensive and more select than that at any other establishment in the city.

The other articles at this establishment, in the line of superior Cutlery, Turkey Morocco Satchels. Purses and Pocket-books, Stationery, and in fact all that is beautiful and useful, must e examined to be fairly appreciated and valued. A mere description is inadequate to an idea of their extent and value. Call at the store, and realize by actual observation, the extent and beauty of this immense stock of Books, Fancy Articles und Stationery.

Police-Before the Mayor .- Eliza Foster was rraigned, charged with keeping a disorderly bawdy house, and selling liquor to minors. Her establishment is located somewhere back of the much annoyance to the surrounding neighbor-cork-screw curls, silks, satin and expensive occupants of the aforesaid Eliza's residence.-Sent to prison.

Benj. Fry was charged with being a drunken vagrant, and ordered to leave the city forthwith.

John Dunn, Irwin Hill and John Ellis-a patrol guard with muskets, from Camp Curtinwere arraigned charged with being drunk, and assaulting a sergeant of Capt G. W. P. Davis' company Discharged with a reprimand.

Ellen Canada-un Irish lady, of rather prepossessing appearance, was charged with being drunk and disorderly. Remanded to the Lock-up.

Mrs Keim-one of the "frail sisterhood"the dashing lady insilks and satins, whose mysterious escape from the Lock-up night before last, was noticed in yesterday's TELEGRAPH was arraigned for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Fined $2, and remanded for hearing on another charge.

By the Consolidated Police.—Henry Kneer and Joseph Weltmer-"unhappy Jeremiah"-were arrested for drunkeness. Committed by Justice

Two soldiers, whose names we could not learn, were arrested for drunkeness and having in their possession a number of chickens, which are supposed to have been stolen. The soldiers were committed to prison, and the chickens to the Police station, Raspberry alley, where they can be got by their owner.

THE CASE OF ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.—We are oleased to learn that Mr. Halbach, who was shot yesterday by the accidental discharge of a a pistol, is not seriously injured. The ball entered his loins, but it has since been extracted, and Mr. H., under skillful medical treatment, is now rapidly recovering.

LEGIURE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.-Prof. McCoy will deliver his celebrated lecture, entitled "A Historical Vindication of Temperance Societies" in the Fourth Street Bethel, next Monday evening, for the benefit of Advance Lodge No. 39. I. O. of Good Templars. Tickets, 15 cents; the Constitution. to be had at the Book Stores, and at the door on

PROF. DONALDSON, the renowned Magician, still continues to please and astonish large austartling description, causes an evening with the Professor to pass most pleasantly, and sends the Professor to pass most pleasantly, and sends Again I assure you of a heartfelt interest in the bewildered spectators home to cogitate upon the probability of the age of miracles having returned. The Professor gives his last performance to-night, and we advise all who are fond of the marvelous to be on hand.

TARGE MORTAR .-- A mammoth bomb mortar passed through our city yesterday en route for the west. We had previously met a large number bound in the same direction. They are intended for throwing shells about thirteen inches in diameter, and their immense strength was a source of astonishment to the curious. who inspected them. Some idea of their strength may be formed from the fact that although they are only about four feet in length, they weigh nearly nine tons each. -

ORATION AT CAMP CURTIN .- Prof. M'Coy delivered his great oration "On the London Times and the Rebellion" at Camp Curtin at one o'clock this afternoon. All the troops in the Camp were on parade, formed into a hollow erected for the occasion, the Professor delivered the oration. A large number of our citizens were present, and altogether the occasion was one of great interest. We understand that the Artist, Keet, succeeded in taking a very fine photographic view of the interior of the Camp, with the orator and assemblage in the foremilitary gentlemen, who desire to preserve copies of the picture as a memento of the inter- and wield it in time of battle that it may reflect esting occasion.

THE HUNTINGDON GLOBE hears that it is strongly suspected that the man Patrick Mc-Laughlin, a member of the McClellan Regiment, and whom we noticed as being killed by the cars the night before that regiment left Camp Crossman for this city was unfairly dealt with. As the story runs, he and some others Capital, and from all accounts is a source of were at a house in the lower end of Hunting. don, and while there they got to fighting, and hood. In default of bail, Eliza was committed after beating this man almost to death, they after beating this man almost to death, they carried him out and laid him on the railroad, railroad ticket from Williamsport to Philadel-Mary Aikerman, Mary Carney, Anna Meyers to hide their crime. The editor of the Globe, phia, was found in Judge Murray's lumber yard. nd Burbara Edwards—all dashing specimens of however, doubts the story, and adds "we know the "frail sisterhood," with painted cheeks, to our own personal knowledge that the man was intoxicated in the early part of the evencrinoline --were arraigned, charged with being ing, and we are inclined to believe that he laid down on the railroad of his own accord and went to sleep, and was struck by a locomotive.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The teachers of Derry chool district, held their sixth semi-monthly meeting, of the present term, at school house No. 14, near Hummelstown, on the 7th inst.— The weather was favorable, and at an early hour a number of patrons and friends had assembled to welcome the teachers as they arrived. The directors of the district, who are zealously devoted to the common school cause, were also present, and participated in some of the discussions. The Institute opened by singing and prayer, when after the transaction of business some questions of a scientific character, referred to certain members, were answered. This was followed by an exercise in reading, conducted by one of the members in an interesting manner. A spirited discussion on school government took place, and an essay read on Botany, which elicited high encomiums for original thought and practical ideas. After a few closing remarks, the Institute adjourned.

SAD ACCIDENT AND DEATH .- The Huntingdon Globe of Thursday announces the death of Mr. David M. Confer, Dispatcher for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at that place. It appears that last Wednesday evening about five o'clock, while in the act of coupling some cars, he was caught between them, and so severely injured internally, that he died in about two hours af-

PRESENTATION OF A SWORD TO LIEUT H. C. WEAVER, OF COMPANY I, COMMANDED BY CAPT S L. HUYETT, 110TH REGIMENT -Lieut. Weaver, recently an employee of the Canal Department, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was presented with a sword by the employees of the company at the office of T. T. Wierman, Engineer and Superintendent, on Thursday evening, many of the officers of the regiment and citizens being present. The presentation devolved on John Runk, Jr. He observed:

LIEUT WEAVER:—I have been delegated on behalf of your friends to bear you this sword, in remembrance of the many virtues that prompted you to join the great army that is now arrayed in defence of our country and Constitution. s with feelings of no ordinary pride, by virtue of old associations, that your officers and fellow employees congratulate you on your p sition, and that one of our number is found sacrificing the comforts of home and all domestic enjoy ments for the purpose of assisting in establishing our Government again on its criginal basis You are going to march in defence of law and Government against rebellion, and the most unholy of all rebellions of which history affords a record. You are not marching to destroy plunder and overthrow, but to build up, to ssist in asserting the power of our Governmen and enforcing the observance of all laws.

Be you, therefore, in consideration of the importance and divinity of the cause, true to the purpose, just and firm in your endeavors, and invincible in your devotion to the Union and

You, as Lieutenant of a company, have most important trust. Be you mindful of the comforts of your fellow-soldiers, and ever looking to their efficiency and capacity to defend themselves against our enemies. Lieutenant, be a soldier, and let your record be a good one. diences at Brant's Hall. Feats of amusing and Honor this tribute-wield it in all justice to > your welfare, on the part of your friends, and hope to see you return soon, crowned with laurels earned by good soldiers, that we may welcome you back,

To which Lieut. Weaver replied in the following happy and patriotic manner: Gentlemen: It is with feeling of no ordinary character, I assure you that I accept this beau-tiful and valuable sword. When the traiterious villians in the south struck the first blow at Fort Sumter and compelled the brave Anderson with his little band of patriots to surrender, I was following my usual vocation in the employment of the Canal Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company under your costrol. I felt it my duty at once to resign the position I then held as assistant master carpenter, join the ranks of the Union army and march in defence of our Constitution and laws, but my situation was such at that time that it was impossible for me so to do. But as soon as I could so arrange matters to leave my home, my wife and little children, I callisted in the service of my country; and this evening, gentlemen, let me assure you that whilst I live I shall at all times be willing to sacrifice all that I possess for the welfare of my country, my once prosperous and happy country; but now since the arch friends square, in the centre of which, from a platform of hell has plotted their damnable treason, and have undertaken to overthrow our free institutions and all the rights and privileges that have been bought by the lives of our forefathers and cemented by the shedding of their blood, we feel it our duty, yes, we feel it our imperative duty, to join the great Union army and fight if needs be until the last infernal rebel shall have been exterminated from our land. In conclusion, Mr. Runk, let me assure you that I ground, done at the instance of a number of accept this beautiful sword with many thanks to my friends who have honored me so much in presenting it to me. I shall endeavor so to wear credit alike to the kind donors and to myself.
