before daylight was a scene of bustle and syste matic confusion, and rumors of a chance for a skirmish with the rebels being circulated, our boys were in a glorious mood. Though surprised at the order, as all had anticipated spending a portion of our winter here, yet they greatly preferred the toil of a march and the hardship of a biyouac, with the prospect of a "brush," to leading the monotonous life of camp duty so far from any apparent danger. The genial, in-vigorating rays of the morning sun served to brighten the general joy and hilliarity which have again settled down to the usual routine and will in all probability in a few days begin erecting our winter quarters.

The detachment from Gen. McCall's division which took part in the battle, did not arrive at Drainesville until about noon and remained there till about half past two o'clock, when the enemy appeared in force coming from the direction of Centreville. Previous to this Gen. Ord had placed his force in position to repel an anticipated attack. The fire was first opened by the rebel battery throwing solid shot, shell nd canister. This was immediately responded to by Easton's battery with marked effect. The nfantry on both sides soon engaged in the conflict, and at times they were not more than sixty yards apart. After fighting about an hour, a shell from our side exploded the ammunition of one of the rebel's caissons, making fearful navoc. Three of the rebels having their heads blown completely off and others being horribly mutilated. At this time the enemy wavered and showed a disposition to run, when General Ord gave the command to charge which was Ord gave the command to charge which was galantly obeyed, and at once the rebels precipitately fled. They were pursued for upward of a mile, when Gen. McCall arriving on the ground ordered a recall to be sounded. Our troops then fell back to the position vacated by
