AYER'S SARSAPARILLA FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A ND for the speedy cure of the suberofula and Scrofulous Affection such as Tumors, Vicers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

Blains, and all Skin Discuses.

Olexami, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. Ayre & Co., Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarasparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways; for years. Sometimes it burst out in ward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago to broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alternative (Sarasparilla,) for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as yon advise, in small doese of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skn soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off my skin is now clear, and I know by my-feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours, ALFRED B. TALLEY.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes; "I must cheerfully comply with the respect of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alternative in the numerous complaints, for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Famale Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorhoas by it, and some where the complaint was caused by silveration of the interest. The ulceration itself was soon; cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."
Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous occiran tamor on one of the females in my lamily, which had defied all the remedies we could employ; has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarlsaparilla. Our physisian thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last recort before outning, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Some of them may be found in our American Almanao, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish grains to all who call for them:

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia. Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alternative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has been required by the accessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

of the Disease Of the Disease

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colda, and its truly wonderful cures of pulminary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth.—Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its; effects.—some living trophy in their minds of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

May 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of soute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in does of three grains every two hours (intermiting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better that she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot full to indice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their naharal size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a hronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute statck supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swollen and teose. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much dimining the dose.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This, is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our list clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very, satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory. I think, as good in your, we shall justiv render do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisatory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our vegetict in favor of propylamin.

He is a seaman, as. 25, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had coassional rheumatic pama, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right these, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extrainities. These joints are all swollen, tense and tender. His bongue is furred this skin, at present dry, though there has been much sweating. His pities is full and strong, and shout 30.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatilism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severé articular pin, beginning, as it was ally does, in the lower joints. There we have and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remody we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there on uld not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoidings, the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

June 9, 1860.—The next of our convalsacemts is the case of souterheumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity, for besting the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doese every two hours for four dkys. The patient has got along very two hours for four dkys. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have neves seen as severe a base of soute rheematism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the vall use of the remedy we have the I field: bound: to state that in the eases in which we have tried the Chloride of Propylantine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatments ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.
