NO. 96.

The Death of the Old Year. BY ALFRED TENNYSON.

Full knee deep lies the winter snow, And the winter winds are wearly sighing; Toll ye the church-bell sad and slow,

And tread softly and speak low, Old Year, you must not die; You came to us so readily; You lived with us so steadily; Old Year, you must not die.

He lieth still; he doeth not move; He will not see the dawn of day; He hath no other life above:
He gave me a friend, and a true, true-love,
And the New Year will take 'em away.
Old Year, you must not go;

So long as you have been with us, Such joy as you have seen with us, Old Year, you shall not go. He frothed his bumper to the brim:

A jollier year we shall not see; But though his eyes are waxing dim, And though his foes speak ill of him, He was a friend to me Old Year, you shall not die; We did so laugh and cry with you,

I've half a mind to die with you, Old Year, if you must die. He was so full of joke and jest, But all his merry quips are o'er. To see him die, across the waste His son and heir doth ride post-haste,

But he'll be dead before

Every one for his own. The night is starry and cold, my friend, And the New Year, blithe and bold, my friend, Comes up to take his own.

How hard he breathes! over the snow heard just now the crowing cock. The shadows flicker to and fro; The cricket chirps; the light burns low; 'Tis nearly twelve o'clock.

Old year, we'll dearly rue for you; What is it we can do for you? Speak out before you die. His face is growing sharp and thin. Alack! our friend is gone.

Shake hands before you die.

A new face at the door.

Close up his eyes; tie up his chin;
Step from the corpse, and let him in
That standeth there alone,
And waiteth at the door. There's a new foot on the floor, my friend

And a new face at the door, my friend.

CURIOUS OMEN, OR COINCIDENCE. -On Wednesday night, March 20th, or rather Thursday morning at three o'clock, the inhabitants of the metropolis were roused by repeated strokes of the new great bell at the houses of Parliament, Westminster, and most persons supposed it was for a death in the royal family. There might have been about twenty slow strokes when it ceased. It proved, however, to be due to some derangement of the clock, for at four and five derangement of the clock, for at four and five o'clock ten or twelve strokes were struck instead of the proper number. On mentioning this in the morning to a friend who is deep in London antiquities, he observed, that there is an opinion in the city that anything the matter with St. Paul's Cathedral great bell is an omen of ill to the royal family; and, he added, "I hope the opinion will not extend to the Westminster bell." This was at eleven on Friday morning; and it was not till one A. M., the Duchess of Kent was considered in the least danger, and then she expired in less than twonty-four hours. I do not pause to comment on ty-four hours. I do not pause to comment on demand, however, for it. Arrangements have this curious coincidence, but I am told the same notion prevails at Windsor.—Notes and banks to pay a portion of the State debt and the same notion prevails at Windsor.—Notes and

ONE OF CROMWELL'S DESCENDANTS DEAD,-The Rev. Robert Johnson, who died recently in New Castle, Lawrence county, Pa., was a lineal descendant of Oliver Cromwell, by Bridget, his eldest daughter, who was first the wife of Gen. Fleetwood, and afterwards of Gen. Ireton. He was licensed to preach the Gospel by the Pres-bytery of Ohio in 1803, spent a year as a mis-sionary in Ohio and Kentucky, and was success-ively pastor of the churches of Scrubgrass and Bear Creek, Meadville, Sugar Creek and Con-neaut Lake, Rehoboth and Round Hill, and Bethel in Indiana county, and took an active part in all the educational, temperance and religious movements of the last fifty years. The E. P. Swift, D. D., delivered a sermon before the Synod of Allegheny at its late meeting in New Castle, in which the labors of the deceased in the cause of religion were reviewed and a glowing tribute paid to his memory.—Pittsburg

SOUTHERN ITEMS.—Memphis papers as late as the 10th, have reached the office of the St Louis Republican. They are filled with accounts of thefts, highway robberies and other private outrages, the natural results of the political misdeeds of the rebet politicians. A gang of ruf-flans, is prowling about the streets of Memphis, and twenty-fours rarely pass without unpleasant evidence of its presence.

At Boudon, Talladega county, Ala., from two to three hundred weight of sulphur is turned out daily from a bed of sulphret of iron. A rebel government steamer recently stopped at Napoleon, Ark., early in the morning, and commenced hauling citizens from their beds to join the service. The people were very angry, but could not help themselves.

ROMANTIC .- Memorial de Lille says; "Two days ago a young girl named Maria H——, who was abut up in the Convent of the Ben Pasteur, resolved to make her escape from the place, but which she could only do by scaling a wall. On reaching the top of it she was preparing herself to drop on the other side, a depth of eight-een feet, and was already hanging by her hands, when a man who was passing rushed forward and attempted to catch her in his arms. The shock to him was, however, so great that he was knocked down and rather severely shaken, and before he had recovered himself the young girl had fled. She has, it is thought, taken refuge with her family."

Paris.—The social commotion in Paris is remendous, The rats are deserting the sinking ship by thousands. Every day brings news of the departure of some remarkable personage on some pretext or other. The Empress heads the emigration by going to Nice for the winter. Everybody is selling their goods and chattels.

Mosselman, the banker, Madame Lehon's brother, sells his collection to-morrow, and Madame Saletter disposes of hers the day after.

By studying the two together the abblecohole. By studying the two together the philosopher might imbibe some very curious and novel franca to M.
