AYER'S SARSAPARILLA FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD

ND for the speedy cure of the sub-Scrofula and Scrofulous Affection such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OARLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

Distants, and sait skill Discasce.

J. C. Ayra & Co., Gents: I teel it my duty to sake owledge what your Sarsaparille has done for me. Having inherited a Scrottlous infection, I have suffered from it warious ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out or my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an iternative (Sarsaparilla,) for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincimisti and got it, and used it lill it oured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a, teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin som began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off my skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the a postles of the age, and remain over gratefully. Yours.

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New ORLEANS, 25th August, 1969.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I cheerfuily comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects! I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Veneral and Mercurial Discusses. One of my patients and Syphillia ulcers in his threat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Saraparilla, steadily laken, oured lim in the week. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had exten away a considerable part of it, so that helicye the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Saraparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his sheet. A woman who, had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poisson in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather, that on a damp day she suffered exercicating main in her joints and bonds. She, too, was cured entirely by your Saraparilla in a few weeks, it know from its formula, which you wagent gave md, that this Proparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkeds results with it have not surprised me.

MAY 19, 1860,—Eilès S., set. 28, single, never was very strong, Two years ago alse had an attack of acute rhoumattum, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequely from archapperfur four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold; had join in bler back; felt cold, hot had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles he gan so swell, which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very lender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is new fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case: Was will carefully waston to a case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptonis which pressnit themselves. SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylemine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in dose of three grains every two hours intermiting it at night. The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging, from her of her, attack: (The patient now walked that the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you changed fall to notice a marked phange in the appearance of her foilis, which are now wearly all of their matural rise.—Thus far our experiment, would have essented very senoncessful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided optime as to what is to be the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has loft been suffering from o bronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her obronic affection. The writer and knuckles were, much swollen and teres. She took the chiefied of Propylamine in three grain dose every-two hours, and you will here. SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

THREE DAYS LATER !!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attenuous at our tast chinds. She is still very comfortable, and is mow taking three grains thrice; daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very, satisfactory results. The second case to which your attaintion was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. If will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatian, and if the result be sake factory, I think, as good jurymen, we snall justly render our verdict in 'svor ef propylamin.

He is a seaman, set 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has that occasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains ocgan in his right tree, imbeequently affected the left knee, and later, the joining of the upper extremities. These loining are all swollen, tense and tender. His fongue is furred, his skin, at persent dry, though there has been into the sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He bas now used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rhearmatism. There was exposure to cold and wel, and this exposure is followed by a shalling, of coldness, severe arithilar pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower points. There as fover and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on sents rheamatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the Intention of giving your, lecture on all the points: connected with rhedmatism, but to again give a trial to the new rendey we are toking, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there co, pid, not be a fairer opportunity for issting the mobile in eined of the resulting as to which was the efficient remedy. THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDIOT.

June 9, 1860.—The next of our convalencents is the case of acuter heumatism before you at our clinic of May 28th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It wis therefore sheaftly given in three grain doses overy two hours for four days. The patient has got along very cicely, and is now soble to walk about, as you see. I do not healtast to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acuté 'rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used, I seel, beend, so state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chieride of Propylamine, the patients have registed their health mach earlier than under the treatmest of dinarily persued. I wish gentiemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condenextract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reorter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med ical anthority in this country, and makes it unnec to give numerous certificates from astonished doctor
