OUR PLATFORM. THE UNION—THE CONSTITUTION—AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW. HARRISBURG, PA. Monday Afternoon, January 6, 1862.

CAUCUS.—The Republican members of the Senate met this afternoon at three o'clock. LEWIS W. HALL was unanimously nominated for Speaker, GEO. W. HAMERSLEY for Chief Clerk, and G. S. BERRY for Assistant Clerk.

OUR SENATORS. Pennsylvania has always been fortunate in her selection of men to represent her in the United States Senate, and, with one or two exceptions, those who have been appointed to represent our interests in that august and influential body, have wisely advocated our claims, and as zealously guarded and maintained our rights.

THE CANADIAN RECIPROcity TREATY. The irritation naturally generated by the abusiveness of the Canadian press, or rather of a portion of it, towards this country during the recent controversy, has been taken advantage of by the western men to create a feeling favorable to the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty.

Hon. Edgar Cowan, though not as popularly known to the masses of the people of Pennsylvania or the country, as his colleague, is nevertheless one of the most accomplished gentlemen in the country, and will soon rank high as a legislator and statesman.

THE CONSERVATISM which looks at wrong in all its imports and tendencies, is working a wonderful influence in the south, while the boldness with which it points out the real causes of the rebellion, is as much a rebuke to the dough-faces of the north, as it is a deadly blow to the desperadoes of the south, who are fighting now that wrong and evil may be perpetuated hereafter in the entire Union.

A YEAR AGO. The month of January last year was marked by a rapid succession of events in development of the rebel conspiracy—the seizure of forts, arsenals, custom-houses, &c., the formal secession of several states following South Carolina, which seceded on the 20th of the preceding month, and other proceedings of like nature.

THE BRAVER ARGUS, one of the most influential and intrepid organs of the Republican party in Western Pennsylvania, has changed editors, and will hereafter be entirely under the editorial control of T. C. Nicholson.

A LIAR AND A LIBELLER.

The world can afford to tolerate the insolence and the tergiversations of the English government, because the rotten fabric is likely to go to pieces any day, either by a blow from an Irish shillalah, the collapse of an ale keg, or the refusal of John Chinaman to eat opium—but it seems to us that the toleration of the Englishman Russell, who is delighting cockneyism in Great Britain, through the medium of a correspondence in the London Times, is more than we owe even to our self-respect, and more than should be asked of this government or people on any account.

NEWLY ELECTED MEMBERS. IMPORTANT DECISION.—The long contested land claim between James H. Lane and Gains Jenkins, involving the title to a valuable quarter section adjoining Lawrence, Kansas, has been finally decided by the Commissioners of the Land Office, Indian Department, and Secretary of the Interior, unequivocally in favor of Gen. Lane. The merits of the case have been exhaustively presented on both sides by eminent legal advisers, and involved the original parties in a personal conflict on the claim, resulting in the wounding of Gen. Lane and the death of Mr. Jenkins. The case has excited great interest in legal circles, the various Departments, and the country at large. The final decision, vindicating Gen. Lane in his right to the property, and in his identification with the Jenkins tragedy, was rendered Dec. 31, 1861. The following day Gen. Lane presented to the attorney of Mrs. Jenkins the sum of fifteen hundred dollars as a free-will New Year's offering of kindness and sympathy.

THE NEWSPAPERS state that a sketch of the battle of Bull Run has just been published in Richmond, being lithographed in Charleston. It was drawn by Captain Samuel P. Mitchell, of the First Virginia regiment. It is not much in the matter of art, being but poorly printed; but it illustrates the plan of the battle, and confirms the fact that Gen. McDowell's plan was both admirably formed and executed. The confederates acknowledged that they were attacked on their weak part and outflanked, when some unaccountable panic seized upon the Federals. As a matter of justice to an able general, this evidence from the enemy is invaluable.

A CURIOUS theory relative to the Trent affair has been started in France. It is that the seizure of Mason and Slidell entered into a general plan of rebel tactics for the success of secession. In other words, that it was a trap laid for our government, into which it incontinently fell. In proof of this, it is asserted that Capt. Pegram, of the rebel steamer Nashville, announced in England that Mason and Slidell would not arrive at their destination, and that the La Plata would bring news of their arrest. It is also contended that the British government was in the plot.

THE PRIZE schooner Wm. H. Northrup, formerly a Charleston pilot boat, arrived here this morning, having been captured by the gun-boat Fernandina while trying to run the blockade at Wilmington, North Carolina, with a cargo of coffee and quinine.

A SCHOONER BURNED.

GALVESTON TO BE BURNED.

CAPTURE OF REBEL STEAMERS.

Six hundred submarine batteries have been planted between Columbus and Memphis by the rebels. A gentleman who witnessed the experiments made with these batteries stated that they were entirely successful. The crews of the Federal gunboats were mustered in on Saturday, and the whole fleet will probably be anchored in the stream on Monday. The Memphis Appeal of the 18th ult. has the following from Texas. The Galveston Civilian of the 18th says that last night's mail brought advices from the Rio Grande to the effect that one of Lincoln's steam propellers had arrived, and was blockading the river. She had captured and burned a schooner. The fight was still progressing at Matamoros. The Houston Telegraph of the 20th ult. says that the people of Galveston are in a considerable state of alarm. General Herbert has ordered the destruction of Galveston, if the city could not be defended. The Federal fleet near New Orleans and Lake Pontchartrain have captured several rebel steamers.

From Washington.

Rumored Arrest of a High Officer in the Army for Treason.

Commotion Among the Army Surgeons.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.

It is stated very positively that a very high officer of the army, has been arrested to-night on the charge of being a medium through which the rebels have been constantly obtaining important information relative to military movements. Prominent persons here are understood to be involved in the same affair. The hour is too late to admit of verification of the story, and I give it on rumor only. It is said that the introduction of the Homeopathic practice of medicine has raised somewhat of a commotion among many of the regular surgeons of the army. Commissioner Dole will soon leave for the west on business of importance with the Indian tribes. It seems that a definite though informal mode for exchange of prisoners has been inaugurated. The prompt reciprocity by the Southern authorities will soon be followed by our government in forwarding another large party for a similar corresponding return.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The painful rumors in regard to the arrest of a prominent military officer of the Government for treason is without the shadow of foundation in fact. Some matters of importance in the shape of correspondence have been discovered, but in connection with parties entirely different from the officer named in the rumors now current. All the parties implicated are now under arrest. This city is full of southern sympathizers and spies in high social position. The time has arrived when they must be rigorously dealt with.

IMPORTANT FROM POINT OF ROCKS.

ATTACK OF THE REBELS.

THE FEDERAL TROOPS RETIRE.

RAILROAD AND TELEGRAPH DESTROYED.

AN ARTILLERY FIGHT.

Six thousand rebels attacked the Fifth Connecticut regiment, near Hancock, yesterday, while protecting the railroad. After a slight skirmish, our men retired to this side of the Potomac to await reinforcements. Meanwhile the rebels destroyed the railroad and telegraph line, breaking our communication with Cumberland. Gen. Lardner is marching to the relief of the Fifth regiment with a sufficient force. The loss on either side is unknown, but is believed to be trifling. The rebels have been shelling our position at intervals all day. Our artillery is responding. The rebel shells did no mischief.

FROM NEW YORK.

Arrival of a Prize Schooner.

The prize schooner Wm. H. Northrup, formerly a Charleston pilot boat, arrived here this morning, having been captured by the gun-boat Fernandina while trying to run the blockade at Wilmington, North Carolina, with a cargo of coffee and quinine.

SHIPWRECK IN GASPEE BAY.

On Monday last the shores of this bay were strewn with half barrels of butter and boxes of cheese, and small portions of the cabin of some wrecked ship; also a number of boxes, one of which contained twenty pairs of Canadian boots of the rifle brigade, marked "Australia," one case of butter marked R. Lemant, Liverpool, and a box covered marked G. Smith. A portion of the keel with copper attached, and a portion of the wheel came ashore yesterday, but no bodies have yet been discovered. It is supposed that some vessel has struck on St. Pauls.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT DOVER, N. H.

The Union block of buildings was burned this morning. It was occupied for offices by traders, mechanics and others, who suffer a very heavy loss.

FROM FREDERICK, Md.

REBEL ATTACK ON HANCOCK.

Union Troops Ordered to Evacuate the Town.

GENERAL LANDER'S REPLY.

THE TOWN SHELLED BY THE REBELS.

NO INJURY TO THE FEDERAL TROOPS.

Advices show Gen. Landers arrived at Hancock, also that Jackson with a large force, one 24 and two 12-pounders, appeared opposite Hancock and threatened to shell out our troops unless they evacuated. Gen. Landers gave them a fitting response. They commenced shelling, which continued up to the latest advices last night doing little injury to the town and none to our troops. At an early hour this morning the third brigade left Hancock for Frederick, leaving the 48th Pa. at Williamsport. The rest of the division was under order of preparations complete, and were awaiting marching orders. Nothing from Hancock this morning.

FROM CINCINNATI.

The Rebels Attacked at Huntersville and Routed.

$0,000 Dollars Worth of Army Stores and Clothing Captured.

A special dispatch to the Gazette from Huntersville, Va., says an expedition consisting of four hundred of the Twenty-fifth Ohio, three hundred of the Second Virginia, regiments, and forty of Bracken's cavalry, sent out by Gen. Milroy to attack Huntersville, was completely successful. They attacked the enemy on Saturday, consisting of four hundred cavalry and three hundred and fifty militia. After skirmishing an hour, the enemy retreated with the loss of eight killed and wounded. On our side, none. Eighty thousand dollars' worth of army stores and clothing was captured and destroyed.

XXXVIIth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. IN SENATE.

Mr. SMITH, (Oregon), presented the credentials of Benj. Stark, appointed Senator from Oregon, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Baker.

Mr. FESSENDEN, (Me.), moved that the administration of the oath be suspended for the present and that the credentials with certain papers, he held in his hand be referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. He had papers well attested by many of the most respectable inhabitants of Portland, Oregon, stating that Mr. Stark was understood to have been an open and avowed secessionist during the course of the war, and had given utterance to sentiments at war with the government, such as approving the attack on Fort Sumter and declaring that in case of war he would sell his property and go south to fight for the rebels. He (Mr. Fessenden) had examined the papers with deliberation, and therefore made the motion. Mr. BRIGER, (Ind.), said there was no precedent for such a motion. He had never known a case where a Senator had been denied the oath. He thought the Senator had better be sworn in and then let the Senate take cognizance of the papers. There had never been baser falsehoods uttered than those which have been sent to the Senate about himself. He had in his pocket a copy of the New York Herald where it was stated that he (Mr. Briger) was a Brigadier General in the rebel army. Mr. FESSENDEN, said there was no precedent for the course he proposed, but the present state of the country was without a precedent. He said these papers were all attested from the neighbors and townsmen of Mr. Stark. Mr. BAYARD, (Del.) thought the case had better go over till to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. DURELL, (N. Y.), a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on the District of Columbia to inquire into the expediency of establishing a steam fire department similar to that of the city of Philadelphia. Mr. ROSCOE CONKLING, (Ky.), rising to a question of privilege, called attention to the fact, that on the second day of the session a resolution was adopted with reference to the battle of Ball's Bluff. The resolution proposed no investigation into any further transaction whatever. He simply requested the Secretary of War to inform the House whether any steps had been taken to ascertain who was responsible for the disastrous affair at Ball's Bluff. The resolution invited in Chief had read the resolution, because he could not impute to him a design to trifle with the House and return an evasive answer. If he did read it he certainly misunderstood its purport. He seemed to have received the impression that a future inquiry was to be instituted, and that of a very general character and ac- tively he expressed an opinion to the adjutant which was reported to the Secretary of War, and by the latter transmitted to the House. The response was an evasive one. This is a disregard of the privileges of the House which required prompt notice. Unless we consent to our rights being trampled on we should watch with a jealous eye the right of wholesome inquiry.

The inquiry proposed in this resolution related to a great national calamity to the most atrocious military murder ever committed in our history—to the most humiliating triumph of the rebellion, to a blunder so gross that every man can see and none has ever dared to deny or defend it. Besides the defeat and the large loss of arms and munitions of war there was a sacrifice of nine hundred and thirty men. The resolution to which he referred proposed, out of respect to the memory of these men and in deference to the public propriety and self-respect of the nation, to inquire whether the military authorities have taken any steps whatever to ascertain who is responsible for the slaughter of the sons of New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

It was proper that the House should be informed, and the same inquiry should be made. Gen. Stone, who was in command, is a member of the regular army. Col. Baker was a volunteer officer, and the respective friends of these gentlemen had raised a question as to the merits of the case involving the efficiency of recruits and volunteers. He had no toleration for such a controversy, but an inquiry was absolutely necessary. Suppose it should turn out that Gen. Stone was only half way proficient either in soldiership or loyalty, investigation? Was that a reason why he should be relieved from the responsibility of the disastrous fall upon his knees and ask pardon. If Baker was responsible, most lamentably has he suffered. If Stone is responsible a greater weight of guilt never rested on any other man than upon him.
