Medical.

DR. JOHNSON

BALTIMORE

LOCK HOSPITAL.

HAS discovered the most certain, speedy, and effectual remedy in the world for

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

RELIEF IN SIX TO TWELVE HOURS.

No Mercury or Noxious Drugs.

☞ A CURE WARRANTED, OR NO CHARGE, IN FROM ONE TO TWO DAYS. ☜

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Pains in the Loins, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, Decay of the Physical Powers, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Tremblings, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Stomach, Affections of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin—those terrible disorders arising from the indiscretion or Solitary Habits of Youth—those dreadful and destructive practises which produce constitutional debility, render marriage impossible, and destroy both body and mind.

YOUNG MEN.

Young men especially who have become the victims of solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talent and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

ORGANIC WEAKNES

Immediately cured and full vigor restored.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J., may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

DR. JOHNSTON.

Dr. Johnson member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greatest part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who having injured themselves by private and improper indulgencies, that secret and solitary habit which ruins both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.

MENTALLY, the fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded:—Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evil effects.

Thousands of persons of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their decline in health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, have a singular appearance about the eyes, cough, and symptoms of consumption.

YOUNG MEN

who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hopes of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating effect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DR. JOHNSON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

By this great and important remedy, Weakness of the Organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored.

Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous, Trembling, Weakness or Exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured.

TO STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last twelve years, and the numerous important Surgical operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the reporters of the papers, and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.—When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, affecting the head, throat, nose, skin, &c., progressing on with frightful rapidity, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveler returns." It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miserable.

To STRANGERS.—The Doctor's Diplomas hang in his office.

SENATORS POLK AND JOHNSON EXPELLED.

THE TRAITOR BROKER, SMITHSON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10, 1862.

The Secession Senators from Missouri, Trusten Polk and Waldo P. Johnson, were expelled to-day without a dissenting vote.

Smithson, the broker of this city, who has been arrested and sent to Fort Lafayette, is found to have communicated to the rebels full plans by which they might capture Washington.

He had also given them full information as to the number of troops, and the position and strength of the forts constructed for its defence, the number of their guns, &c.

The Telegraph.

From the Eighteenth United States Infantry.

For the Daily Telegraph.]

CAMP THOMAS, OHIO, Jan. 7th, 1862.

MR. EDITOR:—Imagine a rail car filled with a band of jolly soldiers, some of whom are butchering the English language, with such accents, while others give it the nasal sound of a regular Yankee, and occasionally rising above the babble a rough brougue from the tongue of Erin.

All jesting and laughing at the lone rose of Ireland, to whom they have facetiously applied the respectable and somewhat unclassified cognoman of the Irish nagar for having pretended to be enamored with a sable daughter of Africa. Pat takes it coolly, however, throws back his turnip-shaped head, with the grace and dignity of a corpulant alderman, closes one of his butter-milk blue eyes as though he considered himself a pearl amid swine, and gives back retorts that create peal after peal of laughter. Imagine this, and if fancy is not a stupid artist you will have a correct picture of the proceedings of a small band of men belonging to the 18th Infantry, regular army, who bade farewell to the neat city of H— and its hospitable people a few days ago, and journeyed westward to join their companions in arms, and share with them the sunshine and shadow of Camp Thomas.

Our journey was a little tedious, yet not altogether void of pleasure. It was a variation of joy and some a medley of laughter and grumbling, a combination that did not appear to injure us mentally or physically, as we arrived with good appetites, whole heads, and (perhaps) whole hearts, in Camp Thomas, which is situated three miles north of Columbus, the capitol of Ohio.

Its location is not more beautiful than that of Camp Curtin, and its rural surroundings, I will admit, are not so picturesque, or so likely to inspire the bard and excite the admiration of the artist. Yet, for the neat and artistic arrangement of its tents, the cleanliness of its streets and the conduct of the men, I deem it the most beautiful camp I have seen in all my travels.

All are supplied with the Sibley tents, which have good floors, stoves, ticks filled with straw, and blankets sufficient to keep the men warm and comfortable. A large kitchen, constructed of rough pine boards, is erected at the east end of each company street; it has in it a cook-stove and other utensils necessary for the soldiers' cullinary department, so that all can eat, drink, and, if necessary, be merry.

At present their are four hundred men encamped here, all belonging to the Third battalion of the 18th Infantry, regular army. The First and Second battalions are in Old Kentuck, and when we join them, which we will ere long, we hope to find them crowned with the laurels of victory. They are a fine, stalwart set of fellows, armed with excellent rifles, and commanded by skillful officers. Yet the Third battalion, commanded by Major Will. A. Stokes, which is composed of the daring and patriotic sons of the old Key Stone State, many from Harrisburg and vicinity, is universally acknowledged to be the elite company C, which is to be commanded by Captain J. M. Eyster; although having been here but a brief period we have been highly complimented by the officers. They are as accurate in company and battallion drill as those companies that have been here a number of weeks, and I doubt not that under the command of such an excellent officer as Captain E. it will, in a short time become the most correctly drilled and orderly company in the regiment.

The band is an excellent one. It consists of a good large number of silver instruments, whose sweet tones are full of such mournful melody, that it transports the weary soldier in fancy back to his distant home, soothes his drooping spirit and fills his brain with delightful visions of the future. Its melodious echoes chime upon his ear with a sweetness that would make him stand and fight as bravely as did the Spartan heroes at Thermopolae. It is said by connoisseurs, to be one of the best bands in the army, and I fully coincide with them in their views.

The officers here are all active and energetic. If ever a colonel was loved by his men, it is Colonel Carrington. He is a good soldier, a fine scholar and withal, a perfect gentleman; ever diligent in the performance of his duty, is not ashamed to work among his men, and never expects them to perform more than they are capable of doing. I think if his example was imitated by a large majority of our army officers, it would not only be highly beneficial to themselves, but add greatly to the comfort of their brave men.

It is expected by the officers, that the Battalion will be completed in a few weeks, when we will start for Kentucky, and ere smiling spring has robed the hills and valleys of the north in its verdant mantle, and garlanded it with dainty flowrets, I hope to dine in the heart of Secessia and pen you a letter in the shadow of some fragment orange-grove.

A Bear Story.

The Calais (Me.) Advertiser relates that last week, as Mr. Nickson Peters, of Baileyville, was returning from the woods, with his axe on his shoulder, he espied an animal near the foot of an old tree, a little way off, and on going to the spot discovered it to be a large bear, which had taken refuge under the roots of the tree. He furthermore found that there were two or three of the "varmints" under the tree, and that they had three places of egress and ingress to the den. His dog commenced the attack by stationing himself at one of the holes and barking furiously. Mr. Peters stationed himself at another, axe in hand, ready, should any of them attempt to leave the den, to give battle. Soon the oldest and largest one essayed to run the blockade, when Mr. Peters struck her a blow between the snout and the eyes, which cut through to the lower jaw, and drove her back to her den with a growl, where she remained some time. She then attempted to escape by one of the other holes, but Mr. Peters was too quick for her, and dealt her a blow on the small of the back, which laid her out dead. In the meantime one of the other bears got out and Mr. Peters immediately gave it his attention, despatching it with a blow just back of the foreshoulder, the axe penetrating to the heart and producing instant death. By this time it had got quite dark, and the other one showing no disposition to leave his den he concluded to suspend operations for that night. So shouldering the smallest one he started for home. Next morning he returned with three of his neighbors to the scene of his previous night's exploits. They found the old one where he had left her, dead. On looking round they soon found the other one up in a tree. The party had two guns with them, but neither of them would go off. Presently Bruin began to descend the tree, and as soon as he struck the ground Mr. P. again raised the fatal axe and dealt him a blow which killed him. Thus Mr. Peters killed all three of the "varmints" with his own right arm. The largest would weigh upwards of 350 pounds, and each of the other two was as big as a large sheep.

THE WONDERS OF THE MICROSCOPE.—We understand it is through the agency of this marvel-viewing instrument that Dr. Ayer has at length succeeded in finding the PALUDAL MIASM and determining its character. Of its effects we in this section have abundant evidence in the FEVER and AGUE which it alone produces when absorbed through the lungs in the blood. It has long been held to be a vapor or something in the vapor of water from decayed or decaying vegetation. Under a great magnifying power, the Doctor has found this vapor to contain distinct organisms, or living bodies, corresponding precisely with those found in the blood of Ague subjects. They are 13,000 times less than visible to the naked eye, but have distinct character and form. He thinks they are reproductive in decaying matter or in the blood, and hence their long continued life, or the remote effects of them in the system.—He maintains that they resemble in character the other fermentative poisons, or such as the virls of rabies or of a dead body, &c., all of which are known to reproduce themselves with great rapidity like yeast in moistened flour, so that the slightest quantity impregnates the whole mass. Yeast through a powerful magnifier is seen to be a forest of vegetation which grows, blossoms and goes to seed in a short time. Miasm is not so distinctly vegetable, but has more the appearance of animal life, although its motions cannot be perfectly distinguished. What the Doctor claims to have settled is that it is an organic substance, and he has further found and embodied in his "Ague Cure" what will destroy it.—Leader, St. Louis, Mo.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.—It is amusing to read the London Times lecturing the Prince of Wales about behaving himself, now that his mother is a widow. The poor boy is talked to as if he was inclined to be a ruffianly debauchee.
