Volunteer Relief Fund.

Report of the committee appointed by the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin county, to make distribution of county fund to the families of the volunteers residing in Harrisburg and the immediate vicinity.

At the commencement of the Southern Rebellion in 1861, a meeting of the citizens of Harrisburg, promptly resolved that the familles of those who volunteered in defence of our liberties, should be provided for as far as possible, until such time as the conspiracy should be crushed out, or the war fully in-augurated, and the National Government hould make ample provision for them by law. The meeting named a committee of gentlemen, who immediately entered upon their duties. and advanced the means necessary, until the Common Council of Harrisburg, responding to the wishes of the people, passed an ordinance, and by an uniform tax levied and collected, reimbursed them. A full statement of their receipts and even them to their receipts and expenditures up to that period, was published at the time. On the 16th of May, 1861, the Governor approved the act of the Legislature, which required the Commissioners of Dauphin county to raise ten thou-sand dollars for the purpose abovenamed. By this act the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions were empowered to devise and carry out the proper means of distribution. At their request, the gentlemen who had been entrusted with the distribution of the city fund, attended a meeting of the court, and made a full exhibit of their system of payments while acting on behalf of the city. This system met the approval of the court, who expressed the desire that the same persons would agree to act as their agents for the distribution of the county funds so far as concerned this city and immediate vicinity. This request was acceded to, and our labors have been continued from that period until the 10th of January, instant, when they were terminated by the fund being

At a special meeting of the committee held January 17th 1862, Messrs. W. H. Kepner, R. F. Kelker and A. J. Herr, were appointed a Capt. Kinney ordered one section of his committee to audit the account of the Scoretary. This duty has been performed, the account found to be perfectly correct, and a detailed which statement showing the amount paid each individual, certified by the auditing committee, and this account with the books of the committee submitted to the Court. Here it might (by but being a matter in which the public at large strations. are interested, we have deemed it proper that they should be made fully acquainted with all they should be made fully acquainted with all was observed transporting troops across the that has been done, and therefore present the annexed statement of weekly expenditures, guns were brought to bear on the boat which in a few minutes afterwards was in flames.

During the month of June 1861, the allowance made by the Court, to the wife of a volunteer, was two dollars per week, and to each child wider fourteen years of age, fifty cents per week. It was found that this rate of allowance, might exhaust the fund before the winter would set in, and the Court, very judiciously, ordered that from and after July 1st 1861, a wife should receive but one dollar and thirty-three cents, and each child as aloresaid, but thirty-three cents. The rebel forces in the attack were led by Canarals Crittenden and Zollicoffer, and were [332] premium. each child as aloresaid, but thirty-three cents per week. This change prolonged the period of relief. No allowances were made to the families of commissioned officers. The lowest did not exceed (3000.) number, at one time, upon the pay list, was twenty eight; the highest, one hundred and twenty-four. The highest number of children at any one time, one hundred and seventy. Whole number of families relieved, two hunlars and seventy-six cents was expended among the families of volunteers in different portions duties devolved upon and were performed by the Secretary. Immediately upon an applica-tion for relief, he visited the house of the ap-plicant, ascertained the true condition of affairs, the number of children under fourteen years. and all facts necessary to a proper decision of the case. Upon this report the Committee acted. His faithfulness may be inferred from the fact, that of the two hundred and forty families re-lieved, not the was placed upon the pay list without his nersonal supervision. He prepared without his personal supervision. He prepared and paid out to the recipients more than thir-teen hundred and fifty checks, and more than one thousand three hundred payments in cash besides. The amount allowed him by the court for his services to the county in this matter which it will be perceived is very moderate, constitutes the only item of expense attending the entire distribution. The Committee also desire publicly to thank the officers of the Me-chanics Bank of this city, for their uniform skating, and says, judiciously, as well: "Let the balmorals attend to it. Skating must be done. It is a duty we owe to the "fair women of America," who have been sitting in doors so long, making havelocks, and flags, and mittens. Let them come out and skate. The country's safe! The women of America, and especially that portion of them who reside in this patriotic section of the confederacy, want the very thing that skating alone supplies. They want exercise, they want a little of that endurance which exposure to winter will give; they want to exercise less in ball rooms and parties, and over planes, and more in the northwest air."

> SKATING FOR THE LADIES. - The Milwankee Sentinel waxes gallant in the prospect of good
