> A SIGHT OF ZOLLICOFFER'S CORPSE. - A COTTESpondent, who saw Zollicoffer's corpse after the battle, says: He lay in a tent wrapped in an army blanket, his chest and left arm and side exposed. A tall, rather slender man, with thin brown hair, high forehead, somewhat bald, Roman nose, firm wide mouth and clean shaved face. A pistol ball had struck him in the breast, a little above the heart, killing him instantly. His face bore no expression such as is usually found on those who fall in battle-no malice, no reekless hate, not even a shadow of physical pain. It was calm, placid, noble. But I

Lancaster Evening Express.

The Ebensburg Alleghenian last week noticed the sudden death of the Cambria county pedestrian, Wm. Singer. Starting from Loretto one evening very much intoxicated, with a party in a sled for Cresson, he fell off his seat and was allowed to lie in the bottom of the sled. On arriving at Cresson he was found cold and stiff and dead.
