HARRISBURG, PA.

Thursday Afternoon, January 30, 1862.

THE WEATHER.-Rain, snow and sleet, were the prominent features of the weather here ibouts to-day.

THEIR SENTENCE.—The parties tried and convicted by the Court last week, will receive their sentence next Tucsday.

WILD BEAR SHOT .- We understand that a Blue Mountain, about seven miles from our city.

THE LOCHIEL CAVALRY and the Forty-ninth, we see it stated, have both been paid off, so that a consider ble amount of money has already, or will shortly, find its way to the families of soldiers in this county.

COMMENCEMENT FXERCISES. -- The annual commencement of the Harrisburg [Female Seminary, will take place at the Seminary, at 7 o'clock to-morrow evening. The affair promises to be very interesting.

THE PANORAMA OF AMERICA.—The Panorama of America and the great Rebellion, painted by Harry Davis, in this city is now being exhibited at Easton, Pa. The newspapers of that ancient borough speak very highly of its merits as a work of art.

SANFORD'S OPERA HOUSE -- The continued success of Sanford is convincing proof that the public appreciate his efforts to please. Sanford's is a model establishment. The bill for to-night is very attractive, and will doubtless draw a crowded house.

SALE OF PROPERTY .-- A. Boyd Hamilton, Esq., recently sold his fine brick residence, in Market street near Fourth, to Henry Thomas Esq. of Wiconicco, for the sum of $14,000.

A lot at the corner of South street and Dew berry alley, fronting 22 feet 3 inches on the street, and running back 105 feet, was recently par-boiling themselves in close, heated rooms sold by Theopolis Fenn, Esq., to A. Boyd Hamilton Esq., for the sum of $3,750.

More Money Sent Home. -- We yesterday noticed the fact that the paymaster was engaged Balmoral boots; she skates fer a couple of paying off the troops at Camp Curtin, and that hours daily, be the same more or less, as a relibomes the sum of eight hundred dollars. We ning, now that the lungs are allowed fair-play ent of the Montour American, printed at Danville, in alluding to the amusements in our lature on or before the third Tuesday in Februcity, thus speaks of Sanford's Opera Troupe, ary, and said commissioners shall each receive and the energetic manager:

"In conclusion, we have had Madame of one hundred dollars.

Anna Bishop, to enliven us for two evenings at Brant's Hall—besides a fixed feature in Sanford's Opera Troupe, on Third street, just below Herr's Hotel. I am pleased to endorse my old friend "Sam," as an energetic manager fully disposed to cater to our locality during the gloomy season of legislation. The performance is pleasing and laughable, it rids one of the "blues" and I take a dose of it regularly for this purpose especially."

THE SEWER INLETS. -The intersections of the street crossings with the sidewalks, in most parts of our city are flooded with water and slush to such an extent as to render them almost impassable, especially to ladies. The cause seems to be owing to the obstructions formed at the sewer inlets by the snow, which prevents the water from flowing into those conduits. If we are not mistaken, it is the duty of the supervisors to see that these inlets are kept in a proper condition; and their neglect by the Governor, two by the Senate and two to perform it renders them liable to a penalty. A smart reminder of this fact by the Mayor, to the supervisors might produce a wholesome reform in this matter.

"MR. MICAWBERS" ADVICE. - There is a world of wisdom in the following brief exhortation to live within one's income, and like many of Dickens' condensed and powerful paragraphs, contains more sound doctrine than is often to be found in entire chapters of others. We need not say to the readers of the inimitable "David Copperfield," that that true philoso-Copperfield the necessity of living within his ncome. The reflections as to what "may turn up" in consequence of the expenditure of the sixpence in excess of the income, are admirable, and the catastrophe, the doom of being "floored" for an indefinite period, is enough, we should think, to deter any one from extravagance: "My other piece of advice, Copperfield, you

THE FUNERAL of John C. Gratz, will take place from the residence of his grandfather. the family are invited to attend.

ABMY GUNNERS .- Some of the newspapers adwear oiled wool in their cars to protect them from the concussion. A writer who professes to know, says "No man's ears will be hurt by the report of artillery, if he will open his mouth. Just as we throw up a sash to prevent our glass being shattered by the discharge of cannon, so we should open our mouths to save our ears .-The concussion comes then on both sides of the drum of the ear, and has no ill effect." The large black bear was shot last Monday on the recommendation can be easily tried without doing any harm, if it should not be effectual.

> How to Do It.—Persons having friends or relatives in the Union army or fleet at Port Royal, South Carolina, should address their letters simply with the name of the soldier or of ficer, number or letter of company, number of of regiment, and New York volunteers, Massachusetts volunteers, or Pennsylvania volununteers, as the case may be, "Port Royal, S. C." All letters are sent to the New York Post Office, from whatever place mailed, and are there overhauled to prevent mistake. Correspondents, by following the above directions, may rest assured that their letters will reach their destination at their earliest opportunity.

Hoods are all the Rage.—Every lady wears hood. Some of them are composed of knitted worsted; others are of silk, satin and velvet trimmed with fur. The latter are chiefly affected by those gorgeous creatures who vote worsted vulgar. But they are all warm and comfortable, and serve as bona fide protectors from the cold, which ladies' bonnets, but a short time ago, did not. They are becoming to pretty women—as most things are—and are the very article needed in skating. There is some hope now for the future physical wellbeing of femininedom. The girls are on the right track to secure health and beauty, if they only stick to it. No more paper-soled shoes!-no more flimsy bonnets worn half off the head, and inviting attacks of neuralgia !- no more over air-tight stoves or feetid registers! The young woman of to-day is getting to be a sensible institution. She is warmly and comfortably clad; she sports a pair of thick-soled the soldiers of one company had sent to their gious duty; her chest is deepening and wide-

Two of the commissioners shall be appointed by the House of Representatives, and shall receive no compensation for their services beyond their actual expenses, and shall report to the Legislature on or before the third Tuesday of February, 1862.

Annual expenditure—nineteen, eleven, six; result—hap iness. Annual income—twenty pounds, ought and six; result—misery. the soldiers of one company had sent to their bomes the sum of eight hundred dollars. We have since been informed that the soldiers of other companies have sent home equally large sums of money, and that the aggregate of the several amounts thus disposed of, will reach a very high figure. All honor to the brave soldiers who are not uomindful of the "loyed ones at home," while serving their country.

Arrests for Murder.—Officer Martin, assisted by ex-Sheriff McCartney, of Carlisle, on Thursday last, arrested a man named William J. Smith, and Crockett Smith, James Smith and Levi Smith, his sons, on suspicion of being the murderers of John Berger and his negro boy, noticed in the Telegraph server a weeks since. The Smiths reside near the place where the murders were committed, and circumstances which have transpired sloce then, led to their arrest. They were taken before A. L. Sponsler, Eq. of Carlisle, who committed them to prison.

DR. ADDISON, he celebrated Medical Examiner has arrived at Harris

Room No. 45 at the Jones' House, where he will remain a short time for medical examination of persons efficted with any form of disease or suffering. The remarkable correctness of the knowledge he acquires of each person's case without asking any questions whatever, is fully shown to each one he examines, by his accounts at their feelings and sensation arising from the disorders he finds existing in the system, the blood or say organ affected. In consequence of this, his cures in Philadelphia and Roston and other places where he has practiced to any extent, have been numerous and remarkable for many of the most extreme case, have been brought to his care, and his success in health and, comfort, has corresponded with his great skill in mastering and showing the nature of complaints.

Dr. Addison's Examinations and Consultations are made wi hout charge, so that a visit to him does not used anything; and to many it may be the means of our lmost beyond valuation. Where medical treat meant is desired, charges will be made moderate and t jun26-lw.
