HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The House then proceeded to consider Mr.

lawful money and a legal tender in payment of all public and private debts.

An incidental debate ensued, during which Mr. Morrill (Vt.) mentioned the fact that the pending bill was reported by only one-half of the Committee of Ways and Means. The other four members wish to have it understood that they are as cordially united on their own protute proposed by him was not his particularly, but had been modified in order to meet the views of those who had submitted amendments.

Mr. Highman (Pa.) thought that the control of the substitute of the control of t Mr. Hickman (Pa.) thought that the tax bill for his rank and extensive possessions in Scotshould have been first reported and the basis land, than for his intellectual qualities, aspired of credit thus exhibited, but having been in to the distinction. Lord Derby, contrary to formed that the treasury and administration regard this as a governmental necessity, he was disposed to waive the question of propriety.

He briefly argued that the impress of sovereign-ty could as well be made on paper as on gold or silver. Mr. Lovejov, (Ill.) said that if they commence, the issue of such paper would not stop short of paying all the expenses of the war in depreciated paper amounting perhaps to 1,500: 000,000 dollars. He desired to have the bill recommitted with instructions to frame one with a clause driving back to their homes all which would plunge the country into an abyes rom which there would be no resuscitation ar esurrection.

Mr. Hooper, (Mass.,) briefly argued that to strike out the legal tender clause would render the bill useless to the Treasury Department. Mr. CRISPIELD's amendment striking out the legal tender was rejected—yeas 58, hays 93. Various amendments were offered and rejected, when Mr. Hoaron offered Mr Morril's substitute, with amendment, for the bill.

Mr. STEVENS, (Pa.,) presented a modification of the original bill. It was then agreed that the committee should rise and report these measures to the House.

The House then rejected the amendments of Mr. Horton to Mr. Morrill's substitute for the bill—yeas 55, nays 93.

Mr. Stevens' substitute was then passed yeas 93, nays 59. It limits the amount of the two kinds of notes, providing that they shall at no time exceed $150,000,000, and retains the legal tender clause. Adjourned.

am thinking, dear mother, as from thee I roam, Of days when in innocent mirth, When all seemed a heaven in my childhood's sweet home,
As we'd sit round the old family hearth. But changes, sad changes, has over us swept, And gone are some dear ones we loved;

Oft, as I've sat thinking, I've bitterly wept, To see how fate dooms me to rove. Yet one thought, dear mother, gives case to

Such joy as few others can know,

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6, 1862. Army Correspondence.

CAMP GRIFFIN, Va., Feb. 8d 1862.

Written for the Telegraps.] Mr. Editor: —Why is it the promises which were made to the volunteers of Dauphin Co., before their enlistment, in regard to the sup-port of their families are not carried out in good faith? Is not the cause as holy and just, as then? Do our families need less for their comfort and sustenance now, when the rigors XXXVIIth Congress--First Session: of a hard winter are upon them, than they d when those promises were made? Or do the commissioners and tax-payers of Dauphin think $13,00 per month enough to buy (at two prices,) what necessaries the soldiers need here, and rent, provisions, clothes, light and fuel for their families at home? If they do they are sadly mistaken.

The families of the soldiers from the counties in the Old Keystone are all provided for, and have their weekly remittances handed over Mr. Doolitie (Wis.) suggested to add that to them; then why is it stopped, and refused the mileage be computed by the most direct to our families, who need it as much, if not mail route, and the mileage of members of more, than those who live in the country. where necessaries can be had at a less cost? We, soldiers here, Mr. Editor, hope that you.

your influence to have it continued, so that our families may again get the support so freely, and as we,thought, in good faith made to them. If it is not given to them, it does not require a very far-seeing man to know what the consequences will be in case another requisition is made upon the flowerment for Mr. Doolittle, (Wis.) offered an amendment quences will be in case another requisition is reducing the mileage of members of Congress made upon the Government for another quota fifty per cent. to be computed by the most of volunteers from Pennsylvanis, at least in direct traveled route, provided with railroad; the wicinity of Harrisburg.
