A BATTLE WITH A MUSERAT. - A few days ince, a desperate and rather novel battle occurred in Swatara township, this county, be tween a young man named Ulrich, and a large muskrat. It appears that while Mr. Ulrich was walk ng along the Union canal, he noticed muskrat in a field, secreted behind some oushes. Quietly moving up to the animal, he thought with one blow to lay musk dead at his feet. But not so easily done. The rat, on the application of the young man's boot, showed battle, and made at him like a savage dog, compelling Mr. U. to retreat a short distance. The art. tance. The animal, however, took advantage the gold water of the deceased. It appears of its victory and followed his assailant, making several attempts at the throat of the young man, fortunately, succeeded only in tearing his vest and coat. At this stage of the battle,bas awarded to John Snodgrass, of this both belligerents pretty nearly exhausted,—the the contract for 4,000 beeves, with the young man happily procured a stick, and soon the contract for 2,000 stored, either at ended the battle by taking the life of the fightisburg, Chambersburg, or York, at three ing rat. That a muskrat would attack a man or give battle, is something new, at least to us; but we have the above from authority that
