ACTIVE PREPARATIONS AT FORT LEAVENWORTH.

GEN. HUNTER'S EXPEDITION.

LEAVENWORTH, Feb. 11.

The greatest activity prevails at Fort Leavenworth in preparation for the expedition to start from here under Gen. Hunter. Troops and supplies being concentrated in the south-ern portion of the State, and indications appear favorable for an early advance.

The General himself is working earnestly and unceasingly in perfecting the details of the ex-pedition, and every department is pushed to its utmost capacity.

Seven regiments of cavalry, four regiments of infantry and three full batteries of artillery, with parrot and wiard guns, are now in route from the east and are daily expected to join the expedition, which will be one of the most formidable yet organized during the war.

XXXVIIth Congress-First Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. IN SENATE.

Mr. Wilson, (Mass.,) introduced a bill for the establishment of a national foundry and fur-Also, a bill for the appointment of a warden at the jail in the District of Columbia. He said he wished to make a brief statement: Some days ago the Secretary of State addressed an order, the object of which was to clear the jail of persons held there under the charge of being jugitive slaves. That order was received at that jail of course with the disposition to evade it, because it is well known that the jail is under the control of the deputy of the marshall of the district and under the superintendency of a negro thief named Wise. To evade this order of the secretary, a person in jail owned by a man named Chap-man, of Charles county, Md., who is a secs-sionist, was taken out and before a justice to be formally committed. This person was put in the jail by this Wise, who visits the regiments and places to steal all negroes that he can. A week ago he stole a negro from the Rhode laland regiment, who he got away, but this person believed that he was to be sent back to his master, so he cut up his blanket and let himself down from the jall near fitty feet, but fell, and was taken back by the guard. A loaded revolver was placed at his breast, and he told them to shoot, that he had rather die than go back to his master. He was put in a dungeon. There his hands were tied over a berrel, to be "hogged," as they call it. Yesterday muraing he was taken to the slavid pen at Baltimore. He wanted it understood by the country and the people that these crimes against humanity are committed by this negro thief; that these men control that jail by our votes, and we are responsible before the nation and before God. He wanted to wash his hands and denounce these crimes, and take his hands and denounce these crimes, and take this jait from the care of Marshal Lamon and hauds of a warden. The Treasury note bill was then taken up.

Mr. Fresendan referred to the speech of Mr.
Sherman where he said, that not only the army person in contempt to put his answer in writedelayed, but that Congress also wasted time

He concluded that Congress was not at all to blame. It had not wasted time. The Senate could not consider this important bill until it could not consider this important that the first committee of Ways and Means had done as well if not age prior to its delivery to Congress and caused it to be communicated through the telegraph to the large prior to its delivery to Congress and caused it to be communicated through the telegraph to the of the Treasury had proposed very important measures in relation to treasury notes, taxation and banks. These were very important measures, and had to be considered carefully. They had received a thorough and long attention of the other House, and he thought the time well spent. The measure of forcing on the country millions of irredeemable paper, was something never done before, and it required much attention. It was admitted by all that it was with great reluctance that such a mea-sure was adopted. He explained the features of the House bill and the amendments of the finance committee. The committee had deemed it necessary that the government should pay the interest in coin, as calculated to sustain the credit of the government and to give confidence country should know that such was not to be a permanent policy.

Mr. Collames, (Vt.,) opposed the legal tender clause in 'long argument, showing that it was unconstitutional, and would destroy all House, and that the sergeant-at-arms be dicredit, public or private. It is a practical deception of the people, in which they are not custody until he shall purge himself of said willing to participate. He did not believe in Contempt, or until discharged by order of the rected to hold the said Henry Wikoff in close any necessity for this measure.

Mr. Shenman offered an amendment to the Mr. Shraman offered an amendment to the diciary Committee, wished to say a few words, amendment of the committee that the notes but Mr. Hickman declined to withdraw his

Mr. Hows spoke at some length in favor have money to carry on the government f currency and coin. The government owe government had tried such experiment as this. He declared that the country was dying for want of currency, and currency needs inflation. He contended that England preserved her credit for a long time on paper currency. into bonds: duce the per centage to one per cent. Rejected imblect themselves to prosecution.

The amendment providing for deposit at five per cent, was rejected. The amendment, setting apart proceeds, public lands and confiscated property and duties on imported goods as special fund for the payment of interest debt on bonds and notes, U.S., and for sinking fund, was adopted.

Several other verbal amendments of the comnittee were adopted.

Mr. Freenden moved to amend the first section so as to make bonds for which notes funded redeemable at pleasure in five years, instead f twenty, and payable in twenty years.

Mr. SHERMAN opposed the amendment as tending to depreciate the character of the bonds.

Mr. Fresenden said the amendment was to prevent paying too high an interest for a long number of years.

Mr. CHANDLER said there was no time since the first of November that the war could not be ploced in sixty days. Only one obstacle stood n the way for four months, which Congress could remove to-morrow. He believed that the order forward would be given, and the well closed by the first day of May.

The Senate then adjourned. No quorum. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House acted on the Senate's amendnents to the civil and miscellaneous appropria tion bill. The Committee on Ways and Means had re-ecommended disagreements to the Senate amendment, appropriating $6,800 for painting and papering the White House.

Debate occurred on the question, during which it was said that this amount exceeded the sum heretofore appropriated for refitting, Mr. KELLOGG, (III.) said the discussion was in the character of a mutual admiration society to-day. The Secretary of the Treasury had been both soundly abused and beautifully admired. Gentlemen had been anxious to sound his praise and become competitors for the champlonship of his fame, and yet others voted to stab him by their votes in refusing to pro-vide for the settling the accounts for the treas-ury notes already printed. Gentlemen now seem to be anxious to be leaders of the admin-istration and champions of the President's fame, and yet they cause scurrilous paragraphs to be read, and then vote to stab the President. God grant that he (Mr. Kellogg,) might never have such friends. The Senate's amendment was then agreed to. All the other amendments were acted upon. At this point the sergeant-at-arms appeared, having in custody Henry Wikoff, whom the House to-day ordered to be arrested for contempt. The prisoner was brought before the bar of the House at the instance of Mr. HICEMAN.

The Speaker then informed Mr. Wikoff that had been arrested by order of the House, charged with contempt of its authority in refusing to answer a question propounded by the judiciary committee, and asked him what he had to say.

Mr. Wikoff replied that he hoped not to be considered wanting in respect either to the Honse or to the committee, but the informa-tion which the committee demanded was re-an opportunity until to m rrow to reflect.

Mr. Hickman said the witness had declined this jail from the care of Marshal Lamon and to answer the interrogatory propunded on the his negro-catching creathres, and put it in the ground that certain information was communicated to him under a pleage of secrecy. There could scarcely be any necessity for the House

> ing, therefore he was opposed to his colleague's (Mr. Stevens) motion because there was no necessity for it. This was an extraordinary case. The witness testified that he received informa-New York Herald, but when he was saled by the Committee on the Judiciary, who were appointed to inquire into the consorship of the press, how he obtained this information, he de-clined to answer by saying he received it under the pleage of secrecy. The committee believe no witness has a right to withhold so important a fact under such a pledge. The answer to the question propounded by the Speaker to Mr. Wi-koff, as furnished from the reporter's notes, was read to him, which he pronounced correct.

Mr. Hichman offered the following: Whereas, Henry Wikoff, a witness subpoened to appear and testify before the Committee on the Judiclary in the matter of the investigation by said committee into the alleged telegraphic censorship of the press, and retusing to an wer to creditors. The committee thought that if certain questions propounded to him in his the legal tender clause was to be adopted the examination, upon being brought before the country should know that such was not to be a bar of the house has tailed to satisfy the House of the propriety of his retusal; therefore, Be it resolved, That the said Henry Wikoff, by
