

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Wednesday Morning, February 19, 1862.

The Horn Horn, to come off at the house of the company, in Second street, next Friday evening, promises to be the great social festivity of the season, and every exertion is being made to insure a delightful occasion. Tickets are in demand, and the ladies are making extensive preparations to contribute to the brilliancy of the occasion.

SAVONARD'S OPERA HOUSE.—This popular place of fashion grows more and more in favor with the public. The enterprising manager, Mr. Savonard, always obliging, has consented to repeat the opera La Sonnambula two evening's more, in consequence of the bad state of the weather, many having been unable to get out to witness its previous representations.

JUVENILE DEPRIVITY.—Two little girls, of but nine or ten years of age, have for some time past been going from store to store, and house to house, in the city, presenting a paper setting forth the merits of a proposed charitable object, and soliciting five cent subscriptions.

THE BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—"The poor ye have always with you." This is scriptural truth, strong and practical. Every day life proves it to us. It is our duty then to provide for their necessities.

TURKEY.—The paragon of poultry is in full perfection now. It pervades the market. Everybody buys him, but everybody is not competent to cook him. Opinions differ, and have always differed, as to the best mode of dressing him.

GENERAL PILLOW, FLOYD AND BUCKNER.—The glorious news of the Union success at Fort Donelson, and the defeat and capture of rebels in all quarters, we hope will be ratified in the capture and suitable disposition of the princely rebels Pillow, Floyd and Buckner.

FOR A CONSIDERABLE TERM—our young laddie and lasses have had a good time riding down the hill at the Capitol Park, on sleds, boards, or anything that would glide over the icy streets.

THE LATEST NEWS.—Bargains! Selling off the entire stock of winter goods below cost, viz: Woolen, merino, cotton and canton flannel, under shirts and drawers, 40 and upwards; woolen mufflers, woolen and cotton Hose, 104 and upwards; silk ties, 18 and upwards; suspenders, 12; also fine shirts, $1.00@1.25; actually worth $1.50@1.75; collars, all linen, 12; and night shirts, 50; also a large lot of heavy jackets, all wool, from 75c@1.00; also a large lot of Union shirt-breasts, 10c; fine bleached muslin, 1 1/2 yard wide, 15c; also bleached muslin, 6c, and fine Irish linen, 8c@20c per yard; Brookes, Clark and Coal's embroidered spool cotton, &c. Ladies and gentlemen this is the place to get a bargain. Please call and examine for yourselves, as one call will suffice to convince the public of the above facts.

THIS CITY YESTERDAY.—Great Rejoicing.—The jubilant feelings excited among our citizens by the reception of the news of the victory of Fort Donelson last Sunday evening, its confirmation yesterday, together with the additional glorious news of the capture of Savannah, culminated this morning in a grand, spontaneous, public demonstration, which for a time fairly shook the city to its centre, and made the streets resound with the merry peals of joy.

At an early hour the gorgeous flag of our Union was unfurled from a hundred flag-staffs, and displayed from the windows of a number of private residences throughout the city, giving the streets a gala and picturesque appearance that was cheerful to look upon.

About ten o'clock Ulman's famous battery, preceded by a full brass band, arrived in the city, and took a position with their field pieces on the public grounds in front of the State arsenal, where, after some preliminary arrangements had been made, the company proceeded to fire a national salute of thirty-four guns.

The House of Representatives, in session at the time, adjourned one hour, the members, doubtless, not being able to stand the pressure of the excitement, and concluded to "go in" themselves.

After the firing of the salutes, the artillery company, preceded by the band, favored our citizens with a street parade, and attracted much attention by the soldierly-like appearance of the men, and the precision with which they executed various military evolutions.

Altogether the demonstration was highly creditable to the city, and especially so to the few gentlemen to whose exertions alone, we are indebted for the bell-ringing feature of the occasion.

BURGERS AND BUTCH.—The meat shop of FLEX HOOVER, Butcher, in South street, near Second, was burglariously entered Monday night last, and robbed of about sixteen dollars of meat, and a small quantity of silver change in the money drawer. The robber effected an entrance to the establishment through a window on South street, but made his exit by the door leading to a small alley running between South and State streets.

TWO HUNDRED POUNDS of beautiful new spring calico; a large lot of bleached and unbleached muslin of the best make; blue checks, at 12 1/2 cents per yard; white stockings, at 12 1/2 cents; another lot of those good white, ribbed stockings; ladies' pocket handkerchiefs, at 12 cents; children's pocket handkerchiefs, with border, 5 cents; shirt-breasts 12 1/2, 15 and up to 37 1/2 cents; 25 pieces new put stuff; undershirts and drawers very cheap; cotton and woolen socks, at all prices; 40 dozen woolen stockings, for children, 12 1/2 cents; 14 yard bleached muslin 12 1/2 cents; all wool flannel, all colors, at 62 and 75 cents.

Referred to the Committee on Corporations, Transportation of the REMAINS OF DECEASED SOLDIERS.

Mr. LONDON called up Senate bill entitled, an act providing for the transportation of the remains of deceased soldiers.

The bill was read.

Mr. IRISH. It occurs to me that this act does not point out the mode by which railroad companies are to be compensated for the services contemplated by the bill.

Mr. MCCLURE. I suggest to the Senator that authority for this transportation may be found in the fact that the Executive issues passes on the different railroad for military purposes. The transportation of the remains of deceased soldiers being included in the category of "military purposes," the State will be made liable for this expense.

Mr. LONDON. There is a certain department connected with the soldiers, Mr. Speaker, which has the care of the transportation business. Yesterday I was informed a member of the army, in camp here, from one of the counties I represent, had died, and his friends desired certificate of transportation. I went to the proper department, and they said they had no authority to grant any such certificate on such a matter. They regretted this very much, and upon the suggestion of that department, this bill was drawn up to meet the emergency. The expense of transporting in this particular will come under the general authority of bills for army transportation.

The bill then passed finally.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE LIEN OF MECHANICS AND OTHERS.

Senate bill No. 70, entitled "A supplement to the act relating to the lien of mechanics and others," came up in order on third reading, and was passed finally.

Passed finally.

Passed finally.

Mr. KELLY called up Senate bill No. 118, an act to incorporate the American shaft company.

In committee of the whole, (Mr. MERRILL in the chair,) the bill was amended and so reported. Laid over on the orders.

Mr. KEVCHAM called up an act relative to our army and navy that have participated in the engagements referred to therein, with the request that they may be read in the presence of their respective commands.

The resolutions were severally read a second time and agreed to.

On the final passage, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WILLEY and Mr. CESSNA, and were as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, The joint committee of both Houses, authorized to confer with the Committee of Ways and Means, of Congress, and the Secretary of the Treasury, in regard to the revenue likely to be required from the State of Pennsylvania, by such tax-bills, and bills revising our laws for the assessment and collection of State county taxes, as, in its judgment, may be required.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO RAILROAD COMPANIES.

Mr. CONNELL called up Senate bill No. 183, entitled "An Act relative to railroad companies."

The question being on the section, Mr. IRISH asked for an explanation of the bill.

Mr. CONNELL. I do not think I will be able to make the Senator comprehend the effect of the bill. If he desires it, I will over for examination, I am perfectly willing to do so. The disposition shall be made of the bill for the present. To my mind, the original act is sufficiently explanatory upon its face.

Mr. IRISH. I am not familiar with the provisions of the general act referred to; but it is altogether probable that while certain sections of that act confer privileges, others impose necessary restrictions. If this bill comes under any of these restrictions, it should be amendable to all of them.

Mr. SMITH, (Philadelphia), this bill strikes me as one of the most extraordinary I have ever read. It authorizes all the railroad companies of the State to accept just so much of the general railroad law as may be advantageous to their interests and tend to promote their welfare and to accept or reject all that is of a restrictive character in that law. They may reject all provisions but those which do not increase their wealth, power and influence. My objection to this bill explains itself. So I think it does; that they may accept or reject so much of the existing law as they please. It is to me evidently a general bill to allow companies to accept certain liberal conditions of the law and to exclude those which seem to operate onerously or restrictively.

Mr. PENNEY. It seems to me the Senator from Philadelphia has exactly stated the objection to this bill. There are a number of railroad companies throughout the State who have obtained their charters on certain conditions. By the passage of this bill, those companies would be enabled to retain all the peculiar advantages they now possess, and mutilate the general law which was designed to protect the public generally. I move that the consideration of the bill be postponed for the present. The motion was agreed to, and the bill postponed.

On motion of Mr. LAMBERTON, the Senate then Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, Feb. 18, 1862.

The SPEAKER called the House to order at ten o'clock, a. m.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Shoemaker, of the Second Bethel Church, Harrisburg.

The Clerk read the journal of yesterday, which was approved.

Mr. CRANE, in view of the fact that a salute was to be fired at the hour of ten in honor of our victories at Roanoke Island, Fort Donelson, and Savannah, City, moved that this House take a recess till eleven o'clock.

The motion was agreed to.

The House was again called to order at eleven o'clock.

Mr. CESSNA moved, that the consideration of the bills on the private calendar be postponed for the present.

The motion was agreed to.

JOINT RESOLUTION ORATORY OF THE VICTORIES OF OUR ARMY AND NAVY.

Mr. WILLIAMS, chairman of the following on Federal Relations, reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met, &c., 1st. That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania has received with a thrill of exultation to which no language can give adequate expression, the glorious tidings which have flowed in rapid and dazzling succession from the fields of Mill Spring, Fort Leno, and Boanoke, and culminating in the bloody but triumphant and decisive struggle of Fort Donelson, and that in acknowledgement of the holy patriotism and unflinching valor which have reflected new lustre upon the American name and given those fields to history, they do hereby tender to the officers and men who have so nobly sustained the honor of our flag, the hearty felicitations of the people of this State.

Resolved, 2nd. That it is not among the least gratifying facts connected with the recent triumphs of our arms, that the navy of the United States, which had already contributed so largely by its prowess upon the sea in giving us a name and a position among the great powers of the earth, should have done so much in the present struggle to testify its unshaken loyalty to the nation, and to indicate its ancient and well earned renown.

Resolved, 3d. That while they thus testify to the sacrifices of those hard-fought fields, their sense of the great service rendered to our common country, they desire to give a tear to the memory of the martyred dead, who have consecrated their devotion to the cause of freedom by the offering of their lives, and to tender their sympathies to every loyal heart and home that has been desolated by the calamities of war.

Resolved, 4th. That the Governor be requested to forward copies of these resolutions to the commanding officers of the several divisions of our army and navy that have participated in the engagements referred to therein, with the request that they may be read in the presence of their respective commands.

The resolutions were severally read a second time and agreed to.
