

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Thursday Morning, February 20, 1862.

PASSING THROUGH.—Brigadier General Kelly of the Union army in Western Virginia, passed through our city on Tuesday afternoon en route from Pittsburg to Philadelphia.

RECOVERING.—We are pleased to learn that the persons injured by the recent collision at Allentown on the Pennsylvania Railroad, are all recovering, with no probability of any permanent injury.

IF YOU need the services of a skillful physician and surgeon who has had a thorough medical education in Europe and America, employ Dr. Jones, at Herr's hotel in this city. The doctor's stay is getting short, and this is your last chance.

RECOVERING.—Patrick Moore, tried and convicted at the last court for keeping a disorderly house in this city, was sentenced on Tuesday, to pay a fine of five dollars, the cost of prosecution, and undergo an imprisonment of thirty days.

LETTER.—A brown felt hat with edges turned up for a small boy. The owner's name is written on a piece of paper and pasted in the hat. It can easily be recognized, and any person returning the same will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office, or Bergner's Book Store.

IN TOWN.—First Lieutenant Andrew Krause, of the Second New Jersey volunteers, arrived in town yesterday on a brief visit to his parents. The Lieutenant is looking remarkably well, and seems to bear the fatigue of camp life with the fortitude of an old campaigner. His regiment is located at Camp Wilkes, Accomac county, Va.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The "passenger return" on the Pennsylvania Railroad, on its regular trip to Altoona, a few days since, run over a man near Kittanning Point, crushing his head into a shapeless mass and killing him instantly. The victim was a stranger, whose name we did not ascertain. Another person, who was in company with him, stepped from the track just in time to escape injury. The remains of the unfortunate man were taken to Altoona for interment.

THE CONTINENTAL OLD FOLKS.—This celebrated company of singers whose fame is world-wide, will, according to advertisement in another column of this paper, give four entertainments at Brant's Hall, the first of which takes place on Thursday evening of next week. The reputation of this company as singers is sufficiently well known to need no comment from us. The costumes worn by them are mostly genuine dresses that were actually worn by our ancestors in the days long gone by; the most of these dresses are very elegant and costly, and in an excellent state of preservation. Mrs. Emma J. Nichols, styled the Young American Songstress, whose beautiful Ballad singing, our readers who attended the Old Folks' concerts when they were last here, will still remember, is still with them and will enliven the performance each evening, with some of her best songs. The Old Folks have added to the ranks Mrs. Georgia Sheppard, a lady of rare musical ability. The solos of Mr. J. T. Gulick, the famous bass of the troupe, are really very fine; this gentleman has but few equals as a bass singer. We earnestly say to all our friends go hear the Old Folks.

THE TWENTY-SECOND.—Grand Military Parade.—The military authorities are making arrangements to favor our citizens with a grand parade of all the troops at Camp Curtin next Saturday, the twenty-second inst. The force comprises about two thousand men, all of whom will be fully armed and equipped, and accompanied with excellent bands of music, which will form altogether a military display well worth looking at. In addition to these arrangements, it is suggested that the stores of the city be closed on Saturday, the bells rung, salutes fired at sunrise and noon, and a grand gala day generally inaugurated, the festivities, of course, closing with a general illumination in the evening. The idea is a good one, and in the hands of a few industrious and persevering men could be successfully carried out. Who will volunteer their services in this matter? We see by some of our exchanges that the citizens of Reading, Lancaster, Easton, and in fact nearly all the principal towns of the State are making arrangements to celebrate the day with unusual eclat, and most assuredly we of the capital should not be behind our brethren elsewhere in testifying our reverence to the memory of the great and good Washington.

A GOOD ORGANIZATION.—A correspondent writing from "Camp Edwards," the headquarters of the Ninety-Third Pennsylvania regiment, Colonel M'Cartier, encloses us the following resolutions, recently adopted by Company I, of the above named regiment, with the request that we give them a place in the Telegraph.

Resolved, That we, the members of Company I, 93rd Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, do hereby establish a company fund, for the purpose of raising means to convey any of our members of company I, should they depart this life, to their respective homes, or friends, as the case may be.

Resolved, That each and every member pay monthly into this fund the sum of fifty cents, the said fund to be used for no other purpose.

Resolved, That the members of company I select and appoint a treasurer from the company, whose duty it shall be to report monthly the amount of cash on hand, or in the company fund.

Resolved, That at the expiration of this war, all money that remains in this fund, be equally divided among the remaining members of this company.

Resolved, That the company have the power to vote as much money as they deem proper for any use of the members of the company that should happen to be disabled in action.

OLENA.—An unpleasant disease of the nose, destroying the sense of smell, cured by the successful Dr. Jones, at Herr's Hotel—and old standing diseases not generally understood by physicians, skillfully treated, and all delicate operations in surgery performed. The great number of chronic diseases and capital operations successfully performed by Dr. Jones during the four weeks that he has been practicing in this city, has brought him so many patients that he has deemed it advisable to prolong his stay till the third of March; as he will not be able to visit this State again, professionally at least.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH DAY.—Governor's Proclamation.—By reference to another of his legislative proceedings, published in another part of this evening's TELEGRAPH, it will be seen that a joint resolution has passed both Houses requesting the Governor to issue his proclamation recommending a general suspension of business throughout the State on next Saturday, the 22d inst. Directly after its passage the resolution was transmitted to the Governor, and we have no doubt that ere this it has received his approval and signature. In this case the proclamation will probably appear to-morrow, and be published throughout the State by means of the magnetic telegraph.

THE REV. J. C. FLETCHER gave us, last evening, a brilliant lecture on the religion, customs and people of Brazil. Seldom have we witnessed anything more than the picture he laid before his audience of that exuberant garden of the tropics laden with its strange variety of fruits and flowers, teeming with perpetual harvest for the hand of man. Surely that country must be the garden of the world, and if its people had the enterprise which moves this Yankee nation, imagination could not set a bound to the results they would produce there. As relevant to this comparison the Reverend gentleman stated that the best remedies employed there for the diseases to which they are subject, are invented and supplied to them by our own well known countryman, Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, Mass., and that not the people only but the priesthood and the court of the Emperor down, have constant recourse in sickness to the remedies of this widely celebrated American chemist.—Ledger, Boston.

THE INFLUENCE ON YOUNG WOMEN.—Next to mothers, young women have the greatest agency in forming the characters of the other sex. Their influences commences at a period when it is most needed. Young men, although their characters are in a great measure formed, require some powerful restraints, just at the time when they are becoming acquainted with the world, and beginning to move beyond the inspection of a mother's eye. Young women with whom they associate are the guardians of their virtues, and accountable for the most of the evil practices into which they fall. It requires but little observation to see that multitudes of young men, who are destitute of religious principle, pursue that line of conduct which is most likely to meet the views of the women with whom they associate, and whose approbation they desire.

None but the most hardened blasphemer will utter an oath in the presence of a respectable woman. If the omission to do good or to prevent evil, when in one's power, be a crime, what a tremendous account we have to render on the score of profaneness, gambling, smoking, and chewing tobacco. These practices, which disturb the peace of society, mar the happiness of families, hurry multitudes to death and perdition, and must ultimately call down the indignation of heaven on our guilty race, might be greatly, if not entirely exterminated, by a vigorous and judicious effort on the part of woman. Let such practices be uniformly mentioned in terms of reprobation, and let us avoid those who pursue them as we would the midnight assassin, or the great adversary of God and man.

Resolved, That we congratulate them upon the promised speedy termination of the fearful civil war, in the suppression of which they have taken so prominent and honorable a part, and extend to them the privileges of the House.
