SOMETHING FOR THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. Wednesday, in the House, Mr. Pershing, (r-h) the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a resolution, which passed, that the Comuissioners of each county be requested to inform their respective representatives of the pumier of families of volunteers, and the number of persons composing each family, who rethe roll period a wakebod a give aid from the county, and the amount paid ism among our citizens. end finily per week, and the aggregate autouat paid by the county up to this date; and the information required.

TOBABLE ALJOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLAtert -The committee appointed by the Legi-lature to proceed to Washington and confer with the Finance Committee of Congress as to the probable quota of tax to be imposed upon the proceed upon the state, the payment of which could be asamed by the Legislature, failed, as was anticlpated to gain any satisfactory information. Case quently the Legislature can do nothing util after Congress has passed a tax bill. A joint insolution was introduced into the Senate Wednesday providing for the adjournment of the Legislature from the 21st of March to the 17th of June. As there is really nothing for this Legislature to do, after passing the General Appropriation bill, but to enast tax ington. laws, it is not improbable that this proposed adjuarnment will take place.

DEDICATORY SERVICES .--- The services incident to the dedication of the new Methodist Mission Church, on Ridge Road, will commence aext Thursday, in the Locust street Methodist Church, at three o'clock and at seven o'clock, P. M. Rev. Dr. Bartine will preach on both these occasions, and he will be assisted in the religious services by Rev. Andrew Manship and others.

The concluding dedicatory services will take place on the following Sabbath, March 2d.

Rev. Charles Cook, D. D., will preach in the Locust Street Church at half-past ten, A. M. on that day, and Rev. J. H. Torrence at seven o'clock, P. M.

The form of dedication will be held in the new church, on Ridge Road, on Sabbath, March 2d. at three P. M.

The celebrated choir of the Locust Street M E. Church will be present, and favor the congregation with some choice music.

DEATH OF A DROVER .- A Mysterious Affair .-On Wednesday a drover, named Ross, from the state of Indiana, was found in a helpless condition, in a passenger train which had just arrivel at Pittsburg from the east. He was quite sick, and almost speechless. He was placed in an onnibus, and hauled to various hotels, but no one was found charitable enough to give him a bed He was then conveyed to the railroad station, and laid upon a bench in one of the rooms. Here he became utterly insensible, and was finally sent to the Western Hospital where he could not be admitted under the rules -the parties having no permit, and no one be ing willing to assume the cost of his keeping. He was then hauled back to the railroad depot where his pockets were searched, with a view o learning his name Papers were found upon im, showing that his name was Ross, and that he had lately delivered hogs in Baltimore to the amount of $1,800. In his pocket-book were found $175, and he was forthwith conveyed back to the hospital, with better success than before, having "lucre" enough to gain admittance. He continued to grow worse, however, and died in a few hours. Coroner Mc-Clung investigated the cause of his death, which is somewhat mysterious. There were no marks upon him indicating violence, and the occasion i his idness can perhaps only be determined by a post mortem examination. He may have been drugged with liquor and robbed on the natural, as he is known to have had a partner in Baltimere, to whom he may have given the money which he received for the hogs.

THE DECORATIONS.

That which could not fail to attract the eye that the clerk be directed to have circulars of the observer, was the great number of that the other of the commissioners American flags that decorated the streets of of the respective counties, to be returned with the city. These were visible everywhere. They waved from lofty flag-stafs-from ropes suspended across streats, and from the windows of private residences. Juveniles too, of both sexes, went in strong on the bunting, and nearly every one we met on the sideway waved a "star spangled" piece of silk or cotton from the end of a lath or piece of shingle, and felt as proud of the minature national emblem, as if she was the Goddess of Liberty, or he the Nation's Defender. It was emphatically a festival of flags; and as we gazed upon their bright colors we involuntary recalled to our memory the following beautiful poem of Rodmann Drake, which no American citizen can read without feeling inspired with a deeper love for his country, and veneration of the memory of its immortal founder, the great and good Wash- horses at the corner of Market street, as the bri-

> When Freedom from her mountain height Unfurled her standard to the air, She tore the azure robe of night, And set the Stars of glory there ! She mingled with its gorgeous dies The milky baldric of the skies, And strip d its pure celestial white, With streakings from the morning light, Then, from her mansion in the sun, She called her eagle-bearer down, And gave into his mighty hand The symbol of her chosen land !

Majestic monarch of the cloud ! Who rearest aloft thy regal form, To hear the tempest trumping loud, And see the lightning lances driven, When strides the warrior of the storm. And rolls the thunder-drum of heaven Child of the sun I to thee 'tis given To guard the banner of the free-To hover in the sulphur smoke, To ward away the battle-stroke, And bid its blendings shine afar. Like rainbows on the cloud of war, The harbinger of victory I

Flag of the brave! thy folds shall fly, The sign of hope and triumph high I When speaks the signal trumpet's tone, And the long line comes gleaming on, Ere yet the life blood, warm and wet, Has dimmed the glistening bayonet— Each soldier's eye shall brightly turn, To where thy meteor glories burn, And as his springing steps advance, Catch war and vengeance from the glance, And when the cannon's mouthings loud Heave in wild wreaths the battle shroud, And gory sabres rise and fall, Like shoots of flame on midaight pall! There shall thy victor glances glow, And cowering foes shall fall beneath Each gallant arm that strikes below That lovely messenger of death !

Flag of the seas! on ocean's wave, Thy stars shall glitter o'er the brave. When death, careering on the gale, Sweeps darkly round the bellied sail, And frighted waves rush wildly back Before the broadside's reeling rack. The dying wanderer of the sea Shall look at once to heaven and thee. And smile to see thy splendours fly, In triumph o'er the closing eye.

THE DAY AND ITS OBSERVANCE - Grand Mili- during the Mexican war, stationed on the pubtary Parade.-Throughout the city on Saturday lic ground in front of the State Arsenal, and a bright blaze of pure patriotic sentiment was fired by some of the attaches of that establishtillery, detached itself from the right of the brigade, and proceeded to the corner of Front In accordance with the suggestion in last and State, where the guns of the company were Friday's TELEGRAPH, the day was ushered in unlimbered and placed in regular battery posi by the simultaneous ringing of the city bells, tion for the purpose of firing a national salute, which duty was performed with a regularity depot, and a number of those belonging to and celerity that spoke volumes for the proficiency of the firing squads. Indeed the fine appearance of this company was the subject of general remark and admiration.

> The salute terminated the military ceremo nies of the day.

THE DAY IN THE GERMAN REFORMED CHURCH. The members of the German Reformed congregation assembled in their church at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of hearing their pastor, Rev. Mr. Gans, read Washington's Fare well Address. The pulpit was decorated with a handsome American flag, and the national an them was played on the organ with fine effect. After an impressive prayer by Rev. Mr. Cattell of the Old School Presbyterian church, the choir sang the "Star Spangled Banner," in which many of the congregation heartily joined. The Address was then read by Mr. Gans, and was listened to with great interest by the large and intelligent audience. The exercises concluded with prayer, the doxology and benediction.

INCIDENTS. A lad, eight or ten years of age, narrowly escaped being run over by one of the artillery gade was passing along Front street.

We did not witness a solitary case of drunk enness on the street during the day, nor have we heard of any arrests by the police for violations of the peace a result chiefly due to the precautionary measures adopted by the Mayor which prevented the indiscriminate sale of During the afternoon several of the volum. teer companies favored our citizens with independent parades through the city, and some of them attracted much attention, for the soldierly appearance of the men, and their proficiency in the drill movement.

Altogether the observance of the day in our was of the most gratifying character. It not only bore unmistakable evidence of the love and devotion of our citizens to the Union, and their veneration of the memory of the illustrious Washington, but it gave evidence also of their unfeigned gratitude to Divine Providence for favoring them with so great and glorious a character to imitate, and that the victory so lately achieved by our armies give promise of perpetuity to that flag and country for which it may be said he devoted all the energies of his life.

GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON .- The principles and deeds of Washington, though the material and frame work has mouldered and ecayed, has stamped his greatness upon the tablet of his country's heart; it is our privilege and duty then to render the admiration earned and to awaken emulation by the proper obser-vance of the day that gave birth to one so closely identified with his country's history, aud now with the reader's permission, we respectfully call your attention to the large stock of dry goods at the cheap store of Urich & Bowman.
