PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

[FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1860,—Ellen S., et. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years, ago she had an attack of acute rhoumantsm, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks, and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house deaning, she took cold, had pain in her beck, felt cold, life had no dedded chill. Two days later her ankies began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the fines joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knutckles are very thoder, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most soy. This, then, is a case of acuter rhoumatism, or, it is her fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time east your attantion to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chiefobject is bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a nemedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatiam. It man propylamine. Dr. Avjenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great cenefit from its use in 250 ease, which came under his care. Various commends it in the highest terms, having derived great cenefit from its use in 250 ease, which came under his care. Various commends it in the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly; that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER! SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was shen laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in dose of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more confortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has a teadily propersived and you cannot represent the state of her forms. Wildle are now mearly all of their natural size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the results.

Here is inother patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from o bronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swolled and tense. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER !!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do welf I will now bring before you a very character-likit case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdict in favor of propylamin

He is a seaman, set. 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had coassional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right kines, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremitles. These joints are all swollen, tense and under. His tongue is furred, his skin, at present dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and, strong, and about 90.—He, has pow used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical cash of catter rheumatism. Here was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of saldpees, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually dock, it the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse awarding, so generally attendant on a coute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the interdock, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse arreading, so generally attiendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rhetmatism, but to again give a trial to the new reunedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there could so be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anotynes, that there may be no missivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall be the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

June 9, 1860.—The naxt of our convalencents is the seas of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 28th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doese every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism 80.8004 restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of the remedy we have used, I teel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamine, the patients have regated their health much carlier than under the treatment ordinarily, pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med ical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from autonished doctor and rejoicing patients.

J*C. Arks & Co., Gents: I teel it my duty to acknowledge what your Saraparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infectiou. I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulear ao my hands and arms; sometimes turned inwart and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it bruse out on my, head and covered my Scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. Utried may medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Goopel Reasenger that you had propared an alternative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your repitation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Chionnati and gou it, and used attill it cured me. I took it, as you advize, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used althout three bottles. New and healthy skn soon began to form under the scab, which after is while fall of my skinianow clear, and I knew, by my fealings that the disease has gone from my system. I tell you, that I bold you to be one of the acostles of the acc, and remain ever gratefully. Yours,

Dr. J. C. Ater: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the edicots I have realized with your sarsaparalla.

I have ordered with it, is my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonerful in the care of Veneral and Mercurial Disease. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparills: the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill hum. But it yielded to my auministration of your Saraparills: the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman with had been reacted for the same disorder by mercury-was suffering trum this polson in her bones. They had been me so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day the suffered exorunating rain in her joints and bones. She too, was dured entirely by your Saraaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which you agent gave min, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkeble results with it have net surprised me.
