so amended as to be entirely satisfactory, and would not only do the corporation a simple act of justice, but you would convince your readers

there is nothing objectionable in it. The business men of Harrisburg can have very little interest in it. The question involved in the passage of the bill is whether pawns broking shall be carried on by sanction of law on the payment of traction, or whether it shall be carried on by evading the law, and dlte.

For the Telegraph.]

To the Mechanics and Business Man of the City of Habrisburg:—Your attention is directed to the provisions of a bill now before the Legislature, called the "Harrisburg Exchange and Mercantile Company." A high sounding name truly for a mammoth pawn-broker estab-lishment! The bill is about being rushed through the Legislature, and unless an effort is benefit of one or two individuals, to the great injury of a large class of our citizees. The bill was published in full in the Telegraph yesterness men of the city to the following extract from it: Certain parties 'are hereby erected into a body politic and corporate, under the name style and title of the Harrisburg Exhame style and title of the narrisping of change and Mercantile company, for the purpose of buying, selling and exchanging moneys, goods, were and werchandles; and for the im-provement of the facilities for transacting such nished.

The regiment then saluted the Governor, law of this kind, and I think our citizens will when the line of march to Camp Curtin was say so by "scotching the snake."

"OUR GOVERNMENT: an explanatory statement of the system of government of the country, presenting a view of the government of the United States, and of those of the several States." By M. M. KIRREY. At the present juncture a pair total sentiment, founded on a knowledge of our civil institutions, should be specially cultivated, as the chief element of nationality. It can be operative and ablidug it useful purposes, only as induced by an intelligent approbation of the nature and rinciples of our government. Such intelligence, familia and general among all classes of the poople, is essential to the permanence and property of the government. This is requisite especially now, from the extraordinary events of the time, and the vasity important questions or notices to policy scope to be solved. The above work elves national pointy soon to be solved. The show work gives the construction of the provisions of the Constitut on of the United States, and of those of the several Seates, is determined by judicial authority and settled practice, or derived from standard writers. It is a fact, that the views of constitutional aw thus presented on some subjects of the greatest importance, which formerly and as riews of constitutional aw thus presented on some st lects of the greatest importance, which formerly and the time of the first publication of the book were discu at with much difference of or inion, have become rec-nized as settled doutrines, to be acted on in reference the highest interests of the nation in this moss event period.
