PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

[From Official Hospital Reforms.]

May 19, 1860,—Elios S., sci. 22, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of soute rhoumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two yeaks and subsequenty from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, hot had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the lines joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This; then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylemate. It is the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must vonless I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER! SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1850.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doese of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found har much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—
Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a hronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swollen and tense. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 28, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very counfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it, has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdict in fayor of propylamin.

He is a seaman, set, 28, who was admitted a few days ago. Has has coassional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains bogan in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin, as present, dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentieman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is lever and the profuse sweating, so generally attlendant on acute rheumatism. I do to bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points congected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there co uld not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgiving as to which was the effectent remedy. You shell sea the case of a former above. other medicines, even anodynes, that there may misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy, shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reorier. It is the report after a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.

In all cases the medicine is warranted to cure of acuter heumatism before you at our cliule of May 38th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very cledy, and its now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never a seen as severe a case of acute rheu natism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of the remedy we have used. I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentiemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

Oarland, Ind, the June, 1859.

J. O. Ayre & Co., Gents: I feel it my duty to be decompled what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infectien, I have suffered from it unvarious ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in ward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago with one sore, which was painful and my sculp and ears it broke out on my head and covered my sculp and ears description. I tred many medicines and several physical control of the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had proposed in the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to alternative (Barsaparilla), for I knew from jour reputation that suything you made must be your reputation that suything you made must be your reputation that suything you made must be not incommation and got it, and use it till it curred me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a kasponding that the disease has gone from my six over a mouth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off, my skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the at ostics of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Your, Alfred B. Talley.

I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhoes by it, and some where the complaint was caused by selectation of the selects. The selection itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Redward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A diagrous coarists hasnow on one of the females in my handy, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely curred by your Extracted Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but ettingtion could affect relief, but he advised the triat of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cuting, and proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease. NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1959.

Dr. J. C. Ayen: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effect I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have realized with your farsaparilla. I have comed with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found in effects truly wonderful in the cure of Veneral and Mr. cartal Diseases. One of my patients had symilitic uters in his threat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily utica, cured him in five week. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the uterrion had act at away a considerable part of it, so that believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kit. Jim. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparila: the uters would soon reach his brain and kit. Jim. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparila: the uters have been a sensitive to the weather that one adamp day sinfering from this poison in her bones. Incy had become as sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered entered to the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. Incy had become as sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered entered by your Sarsaparilla a few weeks. I know from its formula, which you agont gare me, thet the Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkeble results with it have not surprised me.
