PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

[FROM OFFICIAL HOSTIAL REFORMS.]

MAY 19, 1860,—Ellem S., set. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequently from a relapse fer four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her book, felt cold, hot had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles betwee joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is new fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various say mptonss which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylaneine. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimontals respecting it have appeared in our journaks, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are yaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial. FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot rail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; ehe has long been suffering from a bronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an soute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swellen and tense. But took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!

May 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do wel? I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verticit in favor of propylamin.

He is a scaman, at 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has has consalonal rheumatic paus, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin, at present dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attiendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the linearition of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there co uid not the medicine, even anodynes, that there may be no migriving as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future ofinio.

THE RESULT

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

JUNE 9, 1860.—The next of our convalescents is the case of anuterneumatism before you at our citiele of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acute rheu antism se soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of the remedy we have used, I see bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamics, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and repert the results.

For a full report of which the above is a cond extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med. ical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous osrtificates from astonished doctor and rejoicing patients.

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New Orleans, 25th Agust, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the circuit. I have realized with your Sarsaparilla. I have coursed with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the curse of Veneral and Mr. cerical Diseaser. One of my patients had Syphilite tulers in his threat, which were consument his pelate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, sleastly taken, oured him in five week. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulcere healed, and he he week again, not of course without some disafguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her tones. They had become so sensitives to the weather that or a damp day she suffered exercuctating pain in her joints and sones. She, too, was cursed entirely by your sarsaparilla is a few weeks. I know from its formula, which you agent gare me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; connected my, these truly remarkeble results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally your,
