Two years ago able had an attack of acute rheuma-tium, from which ahe was could need to her bed for two weeks and subsequent.y from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, het had no dedded chill. Two days later her ankles be-gan so swell, which was followerd by awelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatim, or, as it is new fashious by called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the coas symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her bafore you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been : ecommends it in the highest terms, having derived great penedit from its use in 260 cases which came under his care. Various com-mendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journaks, and 1 propose therefore to give it another trial.
