FROM WASHINGTON.

THE MISSOURI MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Report of the Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, April 2.

The commissioners to examine into the affairs of the Western or Missouri department, have made a voluminous report, in which they state they examined one thousand two hundred witnesses, and had obtained a large amount of information, amounting to eight millions dollars. They remark they have devoted the principal part of their report to an exposure of the abuses which characterize the late administration of that department, and testify to the integrity which generally has been displayed by merchants, mechanics and manufacturers, when permitted to deal directly with the government. Wide-spread has been the demoralization in official circles, and among their dependants and favorites, and starting as are the frauds which have been attempted and consummated, a large majority of the claimants have unhesitatingly refused to present their claims until such time as they should receive their full pay.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE MISSOURI MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Report of the Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, April 2.

The following despatches were received here to-day, dated Woodstock, Va., April 2.

"We have driven the enemy from Strasburg to Woodstock, a distance of twenty miles, and then to Edinburg, seven miles beyond. He contested the march most of the way, and at a strong position, which he contemplated making a stand at Edinburg, quite a sharp contest occurred. He burned the bridges in his flight, except that at a narrow passage, which we were enabled to reach in time to extinguish the flames, we lost but one man, and had but one wounded."

MENTALLY.

Usually, the fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded—Loss of Memory, Disruption of Ideas, Disorganization of Spirit, Etc., and a general prostration, self-distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evil effects.

Thousands of persons of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their decline in health, losing their vigor becoming weak, pale, nervous and excited, having singular appearance about the eyes, cough, and symptoms of consumption.

designed to facilitate the management of our forces in the various departments or in the field.

Mr. BIDDLE (Pa.) and Mr. COX (Ohio), severally pointed out the ambiguity of the resolution, the latter suggesting that it be recommitted, as it proposed important military changes.

Mr. STEVENS (Pa.) did not believe that this resolution was necessary. He moved to lay it on the table. Disagreed to. The resolution was then passed—yeas 81, nays 40.

On motion of Mr. DAVES (Mass.) of the government contract committee, it was ordered, that Aaron Higgins, of Boston, be brought before the bar of the House on the charge of contempt, for neglecting or refusing to appear in accordance with the subpoena of the Speaker, before a sub-committee of the same.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union on the Tax bill (Mr. COLfax, (Ind.) in the Chair)

An amendment was offered, but rejected, to tax bridge and canal companies three per centum of their dividends.

Mr. STEVENS requested the committee to pass over sections concerning the income duty, in order to allow further time to agree upon the proper words to be used, their being some difficulties existing in this respect. Stamp duties were next considered. Among the amendments was the exemption of promissory notes or inland bills of exchange from taxation.
