PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1860.—Elles S., set. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheematem, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequenty from a relapse fer four more. She has been well since then till last Saturday, while engaged in house denning, she took-cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, hot had so deeded chill. Two days later her ankies being sywell, which was followed by swelling of the last's joints and of the hands. She has now dull paint in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rhemmalism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the sees, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a formed y which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. Im an propylanism. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommended in the highest terms, having derived great counds it in the highest terms, having derived great ouesfit from its use in 250 cases witch came under his care. Various commendatory feditables respecting it has care yeared in our journaks, and I propose therefore to give it another fatal; it meantonfess Lam slways moredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to ur recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamnae, and was cheat labor-ing under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in does of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I dead her muck more confortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.). The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot full to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gantlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a declued opinion as to what is to be the result.

The result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a bronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervaning upon her chrouic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swollen and tease. She took the chloride of Propyla-paine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will bereive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished,

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of soute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and in now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be tollowed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last fecture, has also continued to do well? I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acube rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we small justly render our verdict in favor of propylamin.

He less seaman, sat. 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had occasional rheumatic pains, but not so se to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains negan in his right kines, subsequently affected the left kines, and laser, the joints of the upper extremittes. These joints are all swollen, tables and tender. His tongue is forred; his skin, at present dry, though there has begen much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case, of soute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of semilarity and the strong of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism. Dut to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which the propulse in the medicine in quantity, as it is not all etherumedicines, even therefore, avoiding the medicine in quantity as it is not all etherumedicines, even therefore, avoiding the medicine in quantity as it with was the efficient remedy. You that she the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE IVERDICT.

Jums, 1860.—The next of our convalescents is the sase of anuschematism before you at our clinic of May 186h, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore stuadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nucly, and is now able to calk about, as you see. I do not bestate to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acute rhou natism sees seen restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as forthe valled of the remedy we have used. I doe bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride of Propylamine, the primuts have resaund thirty health mach carrier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.
