

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Thursday Afternoon, April 17, 1862.

WITHIN the past four or five weeks, from twenty to twenty-five locomotives passed through this city on their way to Washington to be used by the Government.

PARASOLS and umbrellas of every variety can be obtained at first cost at Lee's, No. 69 Market street, a few doors west of Dewberry alley.

IN ACTION.—By reference to our telegraphic dispatches from Gen. Banks' command, this afternoon, it will be seen that four companies of Col. Knipe's (46th) Pennsylvania regiment, in connection with a body of Birdgold's cavalry, yesterday morning succeeded in capturing sixty-one of Ashby's famous rebel cavalry, including three officers.

PROMOTED.—We are pleased to learn that Maj. L. Todd, of the 1st Regiment, F. V. C. has been appointed Colonel of the 84th Regiment P. V. vice Col. Murray, killed in battle.

WE clip the above from a Carlisle paper, and also find a similar announcement in the Patriot and Union this morning. From enquiries at Headquarters we learn that the statement is incorrect, no appointment of Colonel of the 84th Regiment having yet been made.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR.—The following bills have been signed by the Governor since the adjournment of the Legislature:

An act to restore a separate representation to the counties of Bradford, Perry, Cumberland and Somerset. An act relating to certain children's homes. On the 12th inst. Resolution relative to a bill entitled an act to incorporate the Union Express company. On the 16th inst. An act to provide for the adjudication and payment of certain military claims.

THE VERDICT.—The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury who held an inquest over the remains of the dead infant found on the river bank, a short distance below the Cumberland Valley railroad bridge, a notice of which appeared in last evening's TELEGRAPH. We publish it in order to correct a misstatement of our morning cotemporary that the matter had not yet been investigated.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS CONNECTED WITH THE M. E. CHURCH.—From an elaborate statement published by the Sunday School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church, we learn the following Sunday school statistics, ending with the year 1861. The total number of schools is put down at 13,600, an increase of 163 over the previous year. Number of officers and teachers, 149,705; number of scholars, 826,239; volumes in library, 2,412,869. There are in the total number of schools, 16,680 Bible classes, and 108,677 infant scholars. The expenses are set down at $139,578.

PHOTOGRAPHIC ALBUMS.—These are now all the rage. Everybody must have one, and everybody's friends and relatives must occupy a place in it. Sometimes the grandfather and grandmother occupy the honored place on the first pages, while father, mother, brothers and sisters, uncles, aunts and cousins constitute the most truthful, beautiful and perfect gallery of family portraits. In other cases the school girl acquaintances fill the pages in all the varieties of smooth cheeks, soft eyes and carefully dressed hair, the collection being spiced with an occasional curling mustache or well-brushed pair of whiskers. This fashion having become the rage, the photographic galleries are completely overrun with demands for the album pictures. One negative is taken from the sitter, and then six, eight, twelve, or more positives are printed from it, according to the desire of the customer. Very pretty photographic albums of all kinds can be obtained at Bergner's book store, Market street.

SPRING AND ITS INFLUENCES.—The advent of fair weather is now hopefully looked for, with the belief that we shall soon be privileged with basking in bright sunlight, and genial air.—That very soon now we shall see the hills and valleys robed in their mantles of green, decorated as they will be with bright and beautiful flowers. The little rivulets released from their icy chains which have so long bound them, already begin to flow along with a silvery sound of joy; and the beautiful foliage which will soon skirt their windings, will be mirrored in them, leading a charm to that which is already budding. Merry birds will flutter among the trees, and in their joyousness will sweetly sing their melodious songs. Little lambs will frisk upon the hillsides; the now housed herds will go out and graze upon the green grass in the fields; the cheerful plowman will be heard whistling as he moves along the upturned sod; and all nature will manifest her joy by renewed signs.

IN our pleasant city, we already have evidence of new life; the influences of spring have already been exerted. Tradesmen and manufacturers are bestowing unusual pains in the performance of their business; and our thoroughfares are alive with people and vehicles.—The stores are rapidly filling with new and choice stocks; and our citizens and neighbors will find all they may wish for in them. The young ladies, whose cheeks flush with nature's dye, whose lips bespeak kindness and sweet, whose eyes reflect the purity of their hearts, whose voices are harmonious in melody, are then tripping along the side-walks with a smile in hand, on their way to visit the clerks, who kindly wait upon them in the dry goods stores. Having matched their samples, the next west of them is in an attire though gaudy yet modest; and their cheerful faces and bright eyes bespeak their satisfaction.

SNOW.—The Lewistown Gazette says that the northern sides of the mountains, in the Narrows still present an unbroken sheet of snow, a sight not often witnessed at this time of the year.

CAMERON GUARD.—A meeting of the members of the Cameron Guard, of this city, who served in the three months service, will be held at the Exchange, Walnut street, to-morrow (Friday) evening, the anniversary of its organization in defence of the Government against the southern traitors. A full attendance is requested.

RELIGIOUS.—This being Holy week, is observed by the Catholics with the usual ceremonies. This evening and to-morrow evening the office of the Tenebrae (darkness) is chanted. This consists of the matins and lauds for the following mornings, which it is customary to recite over night. To-morrow, which is Good-Friday, there will be no mass, and the altars will be stripped of all ornaments. On Saturday, the service will commence by the blessing of fire and water, and of the paschal candle, an emblem of Jesus Christ, which is lighted in token of his resurrection, and burns during part of the mass, from Easter until the ascension. Easter, the festival of the resurrection, will be observed as the Christian passover.
