PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

PENNOTLLY INTIAL HOSPIAL REPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1860.—Ellen S., sat. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ugo she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house eleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, hot had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the fance joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashlonably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptons which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. In mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journats, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we hould be sufficient to the case to us recommended so highly, that we have to the come to us recommended so highly, that we have to the come to us recommended to highly that we have to the case of the case of the come to us recommended to highly, that we hould be sufficient to the case of the case of the come to us recommended to highly, that we have to the case of the ca (FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.)

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER! SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steedily taken it in doses of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a bronic rhouwatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her shronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swollen and terso. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatisms treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which, your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do welt. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute theumatism, and if the result be satfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdet in favor of propylamin.

Ho is a seaman, zet. 28, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had ocasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains bogan in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. Those joints are all swollen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin, at present dry, though thore has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He bas now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points congected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical cuse, as I have called it, than which there co uld not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anolynes, that there may be no melegitings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

JUNE 9, 1860.—The next of our convalencents is the case of acuterheumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by us to the val-ue of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride of Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condense extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the heaf med ical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctor and rejoicing patients.

During that time I have been under the treatment of ten of the best Doctors in Harrisburg, Baltimore and Cumberland county; but all could not effect a cure. A little over a year past, going into my blacksmith shop after dark, I hart my right leg also, below the knee. It spread all around the leg, and became a running sore. Several Doctors told me I must have my leg taken off, mortification having taken place. Fortunately I got a bottle of your Golden Electric Oil for my child's sore mouth. It cured so soon that I thought I would try it on my legs. I have been using it about six weeks, and my legs are now healed up—sound and well.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1959.

Dr. J. C. AYEE: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have calized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recummended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Veneral and Mercurial Diseases. One of my patients had syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his patient and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five week. Another was attacked by sociondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulcers'ten had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that helieve the disorder would soot reach his brain and kil. Jim. But it yleided to my administration of your Sarsaparilla: the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating main in her joints and bones. She, too, was nource entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which you agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkeble results with it heve not surprised me.

Fraternally yours,

G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

J. O. Ayre & Co., Gents: I feel it my duty to admowl. edge what your Sarraparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scorollous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes the burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes turred inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much reitef from anything. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoced to read in the Gostel Ressenger that you had prepared an alternative (Sarsaparilia,) for I knew from your reputation that anything you made must be good. I sent took it, as you advise, in small doess of a teaspoonful over a mouth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon beçan to form under the scab, which after a while fell off, my skin is now clear, and I knew by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel wnst I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the a ostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours.

I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhosa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the ulcrus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals. Our physician thought nothing but extipation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

the Bones.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the atternative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

of the Disease This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the oure of throat and iung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth.—Yew are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their miast of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreatful famility of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the condence of manking.
