Member of the Royal College or surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most embent colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spant in the bospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and eisewhere, has effected some of the most sixtonishing cures that were eyer known; many troubled with ringing in the head and cars when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing attended somestimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

Take Particular Notice.

Take Particular Notice.

Dr. J. addresses at those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solurary habits, which roin both body and mind, uniting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melaucholly effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: We kness of the Back and Limos, Palos in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Musudar Power, Paloitation of the heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous Irratibity, Derangement of the D gestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.,

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded—Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forbodings, Avers on to Society, Sef Distrust, I ove of solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their decilining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaclated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

Young Men

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the convequence of deviating from the path of nature and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requivites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life broomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despars and filled with the melancholly reflection that the happiness of another become, blighted with our own.

Disease of Imprudence.

When the mi guided and imprudence.

When the mi guided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibe: the seeds of this paintful disease, it to often hapens that an ult-timed sense of shame or dread ef discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from eluction and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms on this borr disease make their appearance, such as ulterated and limbs, dimness of sight, dealness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the ad, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease become a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful suiterings, by sending him to "that Urdiscovered Country from whence no traveler returns."

It is a melanchally fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease owing to the unstifuliness of ignoant pretenders, who by the use of that Deadly Poison, Mecary, ruin the constitution and make the residue of the meserable.

Strangers.

Trust not your lives, or heatth, to the care of the many Unlearned and Wo thless Pretenders, destitute of knowledge, name or characler, who copy Dr. Johnson's adververtisements, or style tuemaleves in the 'newspapers, regularly Educated Physicians imcapable of Curing, they keep you trifling mouth after mouth taking their fixiny and poisonousn'ss compounds, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair, leave you with ruined heatth to sigh over your gailing disappointment. His remedies or treatment are unknown to all others, prepared from a life spent in the great haspitals of kurope, the first in the country and a more extensive Private Practice than any other Physician in the world.

After the battle of Pigeon's Ranche, Colonel Slough fell back to Fort Union, where a despatch was received from Gen. Canby, ordering junction to be formed with him at Galesto.

Major Paul was placed in command.

Maj. Duncan, of Gen. Canby's command, who was in command of the advance guard, had fallen in with a large party of Texans when a fight occurred; the latter being routed. Major Duncan was slightly wounded. General Canby reached Galesto on the 11th, and an immediate pursuit of the Texass was ordered, who were thirty miles south. No doubt was entertained of the speedy capture of Sibley's command, as they were destitute of everything, having lost at the battle at Pigeon's Ranch all their baggage and supply trains provisions for

After discussion, the resolution was laid over. Mr. Wilson, (Mass.,) introduced a bill to amend the bill passed at the last session, conascating slaves, so as to include the wives and children of slaves. On motion of Mr. Powell, (Ky.,) the resolution calling on the Secretary of State for the number of names, &c., of persons arrested by his order in Kentucky, was taken up.

Mr. Summer, (Mass.,) moved a substitute, that the President, if not incompatible with the public interest give any information in his

the public interest, give any information in his possession touching the arrest of persons in Kentucky since the 1st of September, 1861.

Mr. Powert thought this was merely a dodge o evade his resolution.

The special order, which was the confiscation bill, was taken up.

Mr. Cowan moved that the bill, together DRUGS, CHEMICALS & PAINTS. SANTA FE ABANDONED BY THE REBELS. with all substitutes, and amendments, and all bills on the subject be referred to a select committee of seven.

Mr. Browning said if the passage of the bill tended to crush rebellion and restore peace, even then he should hesitate; but he had ; strong conviction that it would tend to exactly opposite results; and in addition to that he believed its passage to be a gross violation of the Constitution, and he could not hesitate as to his duty. He said his colleague complained of the bill; misrepresented? if so it is entirely owing to the language of the bill which certainly makes eweeping confiscation. He contended that Congress had no power to undertake to exe-cute any law of confiscation. The Executive only has power to carry such a law into effect. We must refer to the law of nations to ascertain what property can be confis-cated, and then the Executive only can execute the law. The laws of nations are binding on this nation, an obligation expressly acknowledged in the Constitution. All exigencies are fully provided for in the law of nations, much better than by any legislation of Congress. No greater mistake was ever made than in supposing that the Constitution in any way hampers the crushing out of rebellion by fierce or strong blows. Its passage could have no other power than to exasperate of the Constitution, we have no right to pass such a bill—we must first ascertain what relation the rebels are to sustain to us during the war—we cannot admit them to be alien ene-mies; that would be admit their independence and the success of the rebellion. They must stand in one or the other relation's:—

first, as citizens in so formidable a rebellion as to reach the dignity of civil war, in which they must be recognized as belli-gerents and public enemies while the war lasts, and to deal with them according to the laws of war with the right to resume authority over them when the rebellion is subdued, or second, to treat them as insurgent citizens, entitled to no belligerent lasts. If we recognize them as beligerents while the war lasts, we are bound to deal with them precisely as we would with a foreign na-tion. Could we pass any such bill as this in regard to a foreign nation, or could we execut t if we did pass it? Mr. Browning then argued at some length that the bill in fact and effect is a bill of at-tainedr which is expressly prohibited by the Constitution, and closed with an appeal to stand by the Constitution in all its force and purity. Mr. Wade presented two petitions from citizens of Ohio for the confiscation.

Mr. Doolitie introduced a bill for the collection of taxes in insurrectionary districts. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The House then resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on government contracts. Mr. CONKLING, in the course of his remarks, said he regarded the committee as one of these ornaments too expensive, under the circum tances, to be indulged, and in this connection humorously commented on the allowance to the committee, by their own order, of twenty cents mile for traveling, and two dollars per day, besides other necessary expenses. He was unaware that any other committee had thus provided for themselves. If this committee have been engaged in assailing men and blacking their characters, it was proper to know how much it cost. As a fine point was being put on such things, it benooved them all to know whether any persons round the board had been getting anything they ought not to have. A

Mr. WASHBURNE, in reply said it was the unkindest cut of all when the chairman (Mr. Stevens) of the Committee on Ways and Means. the leader of the House, and holding the purse strings of the nation, recently rose in the House and attacked the committee in their absence charging that they had committed more frauds than they had detected, the committee had been notified that they should feel the biting sarcasm and blistering invective, and to-day they had listened to what might be called a pitiful imitation from the extraordinary member, (Mr. Conkling,) from New York, who had ing bark Carib; cruise whale ship, W. Mr. Moorement protested against such sweeping denunciations. If any persons were guilty, let them be exposed, and he would go as far as one for punishing them. If such charges continue to be indulged in, honest contractors would be driven out and business fall into the bands of scoundrals. Thus, the call for a larger amount at the end of the first fall into the hands of scoundrels. Thus, the committee were destroying the very interests we are trying to build up.

Mr. Holman referred to Mr. Cameron's patronage to the Central Penusylvania Bailroad which was enormous, as exhibited by the figures. The employment of Cummings in contaction with the transportation showed Cameron with the cameron with the transportation showed Cameron with the cameron nection with the transportation, showed Cameron was willing to advance the interest of his own family at the sacrifice of the public good. On the subject of arms Mr. Comeron had made a contract amounting to thirty millions of dollars, and on which the profits would have been seven and a half millions of dollars over and ture of the Printers' Free Library .- N. Y. Post. WE relate a true story, which is a gratifying instance of successful Yankee enterprise. A girl, belonging to a respectable family in reduced circumstances, 4 years ago learned to operate sewing machines, and then went out from New York to Peru to teach the art to Spanish girls and to establish the business in that country. She has since enjoyed uniform good health, and has realized between three and four thousand dollars a year, beyond her expenses. About a year ago she married a little mileage was a dangerous thing. Like wealthy old Spaniard, who, dying, bequeathed liquor, if it was tasted too much the habit gets to her a fortune of eighty thousand dollars, and to her a fortune of eighty thousand dollars, and thus placed her in very comfortable and independent circumstances. She now writes to urge her relatives to emigrate to Peru and share her good fortune.
