OUR PLATFORM THE UNION—THE CONSTITUTION—AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

HARRISBURG, PA. Friday Morning, May 2, 1862.

THE ANDERSON BODY GUARD

The operations and services of this gallant body of men, in the south-west, have heretofore attracted the attention and the applause of the country, but the following official recognition of their worth is the most gratifying evidence yet had by their friends of their real value to their country.

Headquarters Army of the Ohio, Camp on Field of Shiloh, April 18, 1862. I am directed by the Gen. Bull, commanding the Army of the Ohio, to call your attention to the good conduct of the man of your company who accompanied him in the late action on the field of Shiloh.

Very respectfully your obedient servant, J. M. WRIGHT, Assistant Adjutant General.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE OHIO

Headquarters Army of the Ohio, Camp on Field of Shiloh, April 18, 1862. I am directed by the Gen. Bull, commanding the Army of the Ohio, to call your attention to the good conduct of the man of your company who accompanied him in the late action on the field of Shiloh.

In the name of the people of Harrisburg we respond to the honor thus conferred on one of our gallant young soldiers, and thus offer the pledge of praise to the valiant young Hummel and a higher authority renders him a just reward.

THE BRECKENRIDGE DEMOCRACY

As full of venom as copper-headed snakes. They are ready to persecute every Democrat who evinces higher regard for his country than for his party, while no man is regarded as a Democrat who refuses to denounce abolitionism and extol slavery; or who neglects a single opportunity to give aid and comfort to the rebel slave drivers.

It is not necessary to enlarge further on the games and tactics of these Democratic leaders and process. They are playing their part of the rebellion programme faithfully. They make the failures of the rebels to destroy the government their excuse to attack the struggles of patriotic men as extravagance. They no longer play a secret game. It is openly in opposition to the administration—in opposition to every attempt that has for its object the crushing out of rebellion by removing its cause. The next movement on the part of the dough-faces will be the bold proposition of removing our armies from the south, reconstructing the Union on the basis of a general pardon of all who were engaged in the rebellion.

DISCHARGE FOR PHYSICAL DEBILITY

A new measure is proposed in Congress, to facilitate discharges of enlisted men from military service, in case of physical disability incapacitating for active service. Soldiers afflicted with chronic maladies had much rather be discharged than to remain in hospital.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS LESS REGIMENTS

in the field than New York, and yet Pennsylvania has more men in the service of the country. This is accounted for by the fact that the New York regiments are all below the maximum number of those from this State; and thus, with less men than Pennsylvania it requires more money to pay the New York troops, for this reason New York, with more regiments, has more men in the pay of the staff of each of these officers. It swells the expense considerably beyond that of Pennsylvania. The people of New York are sharp. We recommend this subject to the illustration of Harper's Weekly.

ANOTHER TACT FOR TREASON

This time one year ago, the obituary of Virginia and the "flower of the southern army," was preparing for the conquest of the free states. The "mud sills" of the north were not only to be conquered, but they were to be carried off, enslaved and held to eternal bondage, as the African is now held by his southern master.

The rebellion of the southern people was not merely inaugurated to vindicate certain domestic institutions and maintain certain local rights. Its leaders had higher aims in view, and they struggled for a larger power than that of ruling over the darkened minds of their degraded slaves.

There is nothing unjust in such a charge, as this, because it is fair to presume, that the Democratic leaders at the north who were privy to the preparations for rebellion, should also be anxious to aid it to success.

The vigor of the federal government in the prosecution of the war has changed not only the policy of the rebels, but it has altered the tactics of those in the north who were pledged to the rebellion in all the aid they could render it for success.

THE VIGOR OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT in the prosecution of the war has changed not only the policy of the rebels, but it has altered the tactics of those in the north who were pledged to the rebellion in all the aid they could render it for success. We hear no more of the injustice of "coercion"; we are not reminded of the "sovereign rights" of the slave drivers, nor is it popular any longer to denounce the war as an unholy crusade of brother on brother.

They make the "nigger" and the almighty dollar the issue, so far as they are concerned. They pay the blows of the army, when it seeks to strike for the Union, fearful lest slavery may be injured. They are continually howling on the tracks of contractors, raking among the supplies of the army for fraud, and impeding the general cause of the Union, in their mad efforts to destroy the organization of the Republican party.
