MAY DAY .- Beautiful May, dwelling in the Nature, is apt to be practically synonymous with clouds and chilly rain. The first of the month, for centuries the anniversary of joyous sports, broke upon us, dreary and wet as November, and through its lengthened hours covered the land with a pall; and the drizale, drizzle, with its "lengthened aweetness (?) iong drawn out," made us wish ourselves or the weather in a different climate. However. let us thank our good fortune that it doesn't drizzle all the time, but occasionally comes down in the style of a good, old-fashioned rain. We heard a voungster remark the other day, (there have been so many rainy days, we csn't remember which,) that "it will soon be rained out, and have to dry up"-a consummation which was evidently achieved last promise of beautiful weather.

RELIEF FOR THE WOUNDED. - Frightful carnage is expected to occur at Yorktown. Over one vited to attend. Preaching every night this hundred thousand well trained rebels are there. Thousands of reinforcements are daily arriving via Richmond. Lee, Magruder, Johnson and Jeff. Davis stimulate their toiling troops to desperate exertions in defence of their capital and lives. Our brave M'Clellan and his fearless band, are now investing their stronghold. Myriads of Pennsylvania troops are in the Union army, and nobly will they sustain the honor of their banner and the State in the impending deadly strife. Soon will the omnious long roll beat; the bugle's shrill "Forward!" greet the impatient ears of the heroes of the nation; a hundred regimental standards be firmly borne aloft, sabres and lances glistening over the fuious war horse; while the shouts from battallions of impulsive infantry, the fearful flash and heavy boom of the artillery, and the reverberating earth itself, attest that the battle has begun, and the first duty of those who will rejoice at the great victory achieved by our troops, is to provide promptly and liberally for the relief of the wounded. Contributions for demonstrations of joy are of secondary importancecompared with the expected urgent demand for relief created by overflowing hospitals.-Other cities have already acted in this matter, and we hope to see a similar movement at the capital of the State. We have had great pleasure in recording some of the results of female patriotism in our city; and there has been much of which we shall never hear. But there has been no period when their humane efforts were more imperatively needed than now. CARPET! CARPET!
