PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

FROM OFFICIAL HOSTITAL REFORMS.]

May 19, 1880,—Eller S., set. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago sire had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which ahe was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since them till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, but had so dedded chill. Two days later her ankles became of the same of the hands. She has now dull pain to her shoulders, and her knuckles are very leader, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, thou, is a case of scate rheumatism, or, as it is new fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My object object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. Im can propylantiate. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommended in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimontals respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess I ham slawsys inbredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifics; but this domes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER !... SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1880.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom 2 prescribed Propylamine, and wa at then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attact. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her foints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gontlimen, we must wait a little white before we can give a 'decided opinion as to what it to be the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Suuday last; she has long been suffering from a hronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chrosic affection. The wrists and kauckles were much swellen and tease. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminshed.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do welr I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verded in favor of propylamin.

He is a seaman, set 28, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had occasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremittes. These joints are all swellen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin, at present dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of soute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever und the profuse sweating, so generally atthendant on acuto rheumatism. I did not be a fairer opportunity for itsiling the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even and ynee, that there may be an emisgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

June 9, 1860.—The next of our convalencems is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 36th, which I their called a typical case, and which it was remnrked was a far opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grant closes every two hours for four days. The pastent has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism so gioù restored to health as this man has been, and will the remain the cases in which used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamics, the patients have regained their health Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condense extract see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med ical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from autoulahed doctor and rejoining patients.

During that time I have been under the treatment of ten of the best Doctorain Enerrisburg, Baltimore and Cumberland county; but all dould not effect a cure. A little over a year past, going into my blacksmith shop after dark, I hurt my right leg aiso, below the knee. It spread all around the log, and became a running sore. Several Doctors told me I must have my leg taken off, mortification having taken place. Fortunately I got a bottle of your Golden Electric Oil for my ohlid's sore mouth. It cured so soon that I thought I would try it on my legs. I have been using it about aix weeks, and my legs are now healed up—sound and well.
