[FROM OFTIGIAL HOSSITAL REFORMS.]

MAY 19, 1860,—Ellen S., wt. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatam, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequently from a relapse fer four mora. She has been well since then till hast Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, falt oold, hot had no deeded chill. Two days later her anties becam so swell, which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has now dult pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acuto rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylomates. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommended it in the highest terms, having derived great bought from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess I am always moreculous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vanued as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a bronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervoning upon her chrosic effection. The wrists and knuckles were much swellen and tease. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminstated.

THREE DAYS LATER !!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second one to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do welf! I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satfactory, i think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdets in favor of propylamin.

He is a seaman, sat. 28, who was admitted a few days sayo. Has had occarional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swellen, teuse and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin, at present dry, though there has been much asweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a stricity typical case of soute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually dose, in the lower joints. There is favor and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acuto rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points congected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remady we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there co did other medicines, even anolynes, that there may be no mingiving as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

Junes, 1850.—The next of our convalescents is the sage of soute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 18th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that have neves seen as severe a case of soute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to six is that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylanded, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condense extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med ical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctor

BARR—DRAR SIR —As I have learned that you have purchased the right to manufacture and sell M'Oon-nell's Golden Electric Oil, for the benefit of the afflicted, I send the following:—I have been siflicted with a running sore on my left leg for ten years. During that time I have been under the treatment of ten of the best Doctors in Harrisburg, Baitimore and Cumberland county; but all could not effect a cure. A little over a year past, going into my blacksmith shop after dark, I hurt my right leg also, below the time. It is pread all a round the leg, and became a running sore. Several Dectors told me I must have my leg taken off, mortification having taken place. Fortunately I got a bottle of your Golden Electric Oil for my child's sore mouth. It oured so soon that I thought I would try it on my legs. I have been using it about six weeks, and my legs are now healed up—sound and well.
