

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Thursday Morning, May 13, 1862.

NAUTIC IN HONOR OF THE VICTORIES.—A national salute in honor of the recent Union victories was fired from a cannon on Capitol Hill at noon to-day, making everybody feel jubilant.

SENTENCES OF PRISONERS.—The prisoners tried and convicted at the last term of court will receive their sentence to-morrow.

SPRING AT THE SOUTH.—Everything is very forward at the South at present. The Union flag, now in the bud, will soon be in full blossom. The federals are shooting, and the rebels begin to leave.

INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED here of the death of Charles D. Hines, Esq., which occurred at the residence of his father-in-law in Philadelphia last Friday. Mr. Hines was formerly publisher of the "State Sentinel" in this city.

MUGGINS' LAST.—Muggins was passing up street one day with a friend, when he observed a poor dog, that had been killed, lying in the gutter. Muggins paused, gazed intently at the defunct animal, and at last said: "Here is another shipwreck." "Shipwreck! where?" "There's a bark that's lost forever." His companion growled and passed on.

SUDDEN DEATH.—William Beamsheart, son of Nicholas Beamsheart, the well-known butcher of this city, died very suddenly Saturday night last, at the residence of his father in Locust street. He was in good health on Saturday, and attended to his usual daily avocation. The immediate cause of his death is supposed to have been congestion of the brain.

EGGS THAT WERE NOT EGGS.—At Fortress Monroe, recently, a number of flour barrels were received which were marked, "eggs—handle with care." They were addressed to private parties, but some army official opened said barrels, when the eggs were found to be made of glass with long necks, and their contents were found to consist of the oil of corn.

CONNECTION.—In our article of Friday afternoon, headed "Improvements," we were mistaken in the name of the party about erecting a new and handsome three story house in Market street, next door to the property of Mr. Cyrus J. Bees. It is not Mr. Kunkle of the firm of Eby & Kunkle, but the enterprising George G. Kunkle, of the firm of Gros & Kunkle, who intends putting up a very handsome house with press brick front, for a private residence, and when completed will be an ornament to the city.

THE DAINTY-FOOTED.—"Dainty-footed May" furnished us with a very fair specimen of her best "ticks" to-day. The skies were bright as a new silver half dollar, and the air was as balmy as a breeze from a hay field. The ladies, who were in ecstasies at the unusual opportunity afforded them of wearing their new spring fashions, turned out in force, and they made the principal streets look at a distance like a vast kaleidoscopic millinery and dry goods establishment. The wearers, of course, looked blooming and beautiful. The warm sunshine finds the birds in their growing order; and while we are luxuriating in the sight of the bright green that Nature is donning, we can indulge in hopeful and pleasurable anticipations of the "good time" rapidly coming, when green peas shall be available, and grass butter purchasable at cents per pound.

HUMAN LIFE.—Men seldom think of the great end of death until the shadows fall across their own path, hiding forever from their eyes the faces of loved ones whose living smiles were the sunlight of their existence. Death is the great antagonist of life, and the cold thought of the tomb is the skeleton of all fate. We do not want to go through the dark valley, although its passage may lead to Paradise; and with Charles Lamb, we do not want to lie down in the muddy grave, even with kings and princes for our bed fellows. But the fact of nature is inexorable. There is no appeal from the great law which dooms us to dust. We flourish and fade as the leaves of the forest; and the flowers that bloom and wither in a day have not a truer hope upon life than the mightiest monarch that ever shook the earth with his footsteps. Generations of men appear and vanish as the grass, and the countless multitude which fills the world to-day, will to-morrow disappear as the footsteps on the shore.

OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.—To men loving order, discipline, and decorum in children, a visit to some of our well-ordered public schools is gratifying and instructive, and leads us to compare the conduct and habits of children when brought under proper discipline, and to contrast them with the same children under different circumstances. Probably there is nothing that could be said or written which would be of such value to parents or others having the charge of them, as an hour's visit to a well-ordered public school. They will there see from one to two hundred children in perfect order, the teachers loved and respected, and may, perhaps, be led to think how much better the children under their charge might be if they continued the lessons of order that have been taught them in school. And they might be led to think, if the children were kept under proper discipline out of the school, how much pleasanter it would be for parents and guardians and how much better for the children. The plan of a parent or guardian that they cannot do it, is simply absurd. The principal of the school has those hundreds of the same children to control, and has to counteract the evils of the lax discipline, evil example, and often the direct opposition of those out of the school, who should be his best assistants. If he can do much without this assistance, surely they can do as much with his assistance. And how different would be the after history of many of these children if they were thus disciplined at home.

Y. M. C. A.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at their room on this (Tuesday) evening, at 7 o'clock. A punctual attendance is requested.

THE FUNERAL of the late Washington Weaver will take place from the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Willis, in Third street, at 3 o'clock, (Tuesday) afternoon. The members of the Friendship and other fire companies together with the Odd Fellows will attend the funeral in a body.

THE MEMBERS of Harrisburg Lodge No. 68, I. O. O. F., are requested to meet at the lodge room at 2 o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon to attend the funeral of their late brother Washington Weaver.

The members of No. 160 and 70 are invited to participate in the funeral obsequies.

A WELL KNOWN REMAINDER of the ancient and honorable fraternity of bummers was arrested by one of the police last Saturday. Her crime was that "she drank not wisely, but too much." In her defence she said that she had gone into a shop back of the hill and called for a little peppermint as a medicine for a complaint of that harmless "arb," however, the merchant had given her a "camphene cocktail." This very naturally had fired up the old lady, and, having once started, she found it impossible to hold her horses. The consequence was a temporary oblivion from all her woes and a corresponding increase of them the next morning. She was sent to prison for twenty-four hours.

A NUISANCE.—The crowds nightly congregated at the corners of the principal streets is a great subject of annoyance, especially as the language indulged in by the members of the crowd is characterized rather by emphasis than delicacy, and not calculated in any remarkable degree to improve the morals or enhance respect for the refinement and generally respectable character of those who indulge in it. We observe that ladies generally give these assemblages a wide berth, at the expense of no little inconvenience, preferring to brave the material which clings to their feet, rather than take the chance of having their ears filled with immonable filth of another and decidedly more abominable description. If the parties were aware of the figure they cut—the reflections which such crowds instinctively suggest, and the comments to which they subject themselves, they would thank us for the hint, and take the nuisance.

THE COMMON SCHOOL LAW.—The further supplement to the Common School law, passed at the last session of the Legislature, provides in addition to making twenty-two days the school month, that the President and Secretary of a School Board can file a certificate of the indebtedness of the collector of the School Tax, in the Prothonotary's office, and the certificate will have the same operation as a judgment. The County Superintendent, before entering on his duties, shall swear or affirm that he will perform the duties of his office honestly, impartially, obediently and according to law.—Section 16 authorizes the trustees of any academy or seminary in this Commonwealth, which received money or land therefrom for educational purposes, by deed of not less than two-thirds of their number, to convey all the real estate, buildings and property and funds of, or belonging thereto, to the Board of Directors or their successors of the common schools of the district. Section 18 requires that the Board of Directors shall publish an annual statement of the amount of moneys received and expended, and the amount due from collectors, and setting forth all the financial operations of the district, in not less than ten written or printed handbills, to be put up in the most public place in the district.

IN "DURANCE VILE," AT LAST.—Our readers will recollect the accomplished swindler of Boarding School Principals, whose operations have been frequently noticed in the TELEGRAPH. It seems that he has been caught at last and lodged in the Westchester (N. Y.) jail, where he awaits his trial on two or three indictments formed against him. His plan was to call at a respectable boarding school and represent that he had a ward, or nephew, or niece, or brother, or sister whom he wished to place in such a school, and having arranged preliminaries he would pay in advance the tuition bill, offering a draft for a considerable large amount, making it necessary for a difference to be returned to him in money—say 25, 50, or 100 dollars, as the case might be. A week or two since he returned to try his game a second time in the same place, after the lapse of two years, and after he had learned that the school had changed hands. But it happened that an assistant teacher who had long been in the school, recognized the voice of the present bearded military colonel hailing from Columbus, Ohio, as quite identical with a certain lawyer from Washington who had made a memorable call there about two years before. Accordingly when he presented his "draft" it was arranged during the delay of "making change" that an officer was brought who took him into custody. It happened that two or three "victims" of his imposture in the same county came forward, identified him and made affidavit against him.

HARRISBURG ENGAGED.—Jacob M. Barr and Dr. Ehrman, both of this city, were on board one of the ships of Commodore Porter's bomb flotilla, which participated in the bombardment of Forts Phillip and Jackson, and the subsequent capture of New Orleans. It will be gratifying to their friends to learn that neither of them were injured.

FOR CONGRESS, F. K. BOAS.—It is not our purpose to take part in politics, but in associating the name of F. K. Boas, with the next Congressmen from this district, we give but expressions to the popular voice, and in his election will secure an able advocate, and high-toned gentleman, to protect our rights in the halls of national legislation, the importance of which is as patent to thinking minds, as the facilities offered to the public for good investments, at the cheap dry goods house of Ulrich & Bowman, corner of Front and Market streets.
