CAIRO, May 13.
In the naval engagement on Saturday the gunboat Cincinnati was more seriously damaged by the frequent buttings she received from the rebel rams than was first reported. She was compelled to run into shoal water on the Tennessee shore, where she grounded and had at the last arrival from the fleet, four feet of water on her gun deck. The government wrecking derrick had gone down to raise her, and it was supposed she would be shot again by today. The federal gunboat Mount City did excellent service during the engagement. She was struck in a similar manner to Cincinnati, but not so badly damaged. She was run into shoal water when she settled to the bottom. She has been pumped out, and arrived here today in tow for repairs. During the heat of the engagement, one of the rebel gunboats got hold of one of the federal bomb keelers, and was towing it away, when the Benton bore down upon her, and, after a brief skirmish, compelled the rebel to release the prize. The casualties on board the Cincinnati are as follows: Captain Stemple shot through the neck—wound not expected to prove serious; fourth master Reynolds shot through the abdomen—since died; two seamen, names not known, slightly wounded in the hands. No arrivals from Pittsburg since Sunday.

She was struck in a similar manner to Cincinnati, but not so badly damaged. She was run into shoal water when she settled to the bottom. She has been pumped out, and arrived here today in tow for repairs. During the heat of the engagement, one of the rebel gunboats got hold of one of the federal bomb keelers, and was towing it away, when the Benton bore down upon her, and, after a brief skirmish, compelled the rebel to release the prize. The casualties on board the Cincinnati are as follows: Captain Stemple shot through the neck—wound not expected to prove serious; fourth master Reynolds shot through the abdomen—since died; two seamen, names not known, slightly wounded in the hands. No arrivals from Pittsburg since Sunday.
