Saturday Morning, May 17, 1862.

THE CINCINNATI DAILY TIMES, like the people of Ohio generally, can see no attraction in any one but those of its own breed, and unless the Buck Eye state is permitted to monopolize whatever of good and glory there are in every what they call the frauds and the wrongs of such themselves. And we can therefore understand the malignity with which the Times attacks an absent American citizen, abroad on a mission of high trust in the service of his country. We can understand why the Times first admits that pointed speculators and a horde of wretches who a coward; but in the case of an innocent gentleman and brave man, such a defence is always promptly made, while the assassins are within reach, and when the slanderer occupies a position in which it will justify a respectable man to approach and notice him. GOLDEN OPINIONS.

The public officer who can elicit the ap proval of the press or the people at a time when criticism and condemnation seem to be the only reward of those who serve their country faithfully, must have a peculiar attraction and must also be rendering the most important hurt service. In this respect Hon. John A. Kasson, first Assistant Postmaster General, is winning golden opinions among the people and the press of the country. To quote all these expressions of good will and commendation. pressions of good will and commendation, would occupy more space than we could afford to devote in the present crowded state of our learned that the netorious Colonel Morgan, by the rebelactured giment, a brief account of which has been given in our dispatches:

"CAPITOL C. S. A., RICHMOND, April 18, 1862. Siz: It cannot be denied that the prospects of success for the Southern Confederacy are white Mich. $1.86. Com any and #2.339. Whether tack of skill or the open treachery of of officers of our army and navy, it matters not, we meet with disasters and defeat. With a continuance of such results, ere three months shall elapse and pass away, our boasted Confederacy will exist only in history.

The past shows that we need larger displays of patriotism, military skill, personal bravery, and a firm spirit of devotion to the just cause in which we have enlisted. Unless quisites develop themselves to a fighting ex-tent we fight in Halassa have more clear indications that the great heart of the people is with us our efforts will be futile The government is impatient to retrieve the disasters that have befallen us, and that yet stare us in the face on every hand, unless the people rally to its standard.

M'Clellan is already moving on the Potomac. Halleck's operations in the south-west are at overy step successful against us; the Federal army and navy are already menacing the metropolis of the south-west and the key of our graneries; Florida is overrun by Northern invaders, while, where we look we gaze upon and they are advancing

In this trying emergency the Government appeals to the prople, to the brave hearts and turdy hearts of the South. It cries, AWAKE! Your hands have been put to the plough; will you now look back and repent your past act? You have struck nobly pledging your lives and fortunes to its procure ment. Will you submit quietly to the invasion and desolation of your homes—the destruction or confiscation of your property—the abandon ment of your Christian Institutions? Arise, and convince the world that the boasted chiv alry of the South is more than a mere myth. This appeal is made to the country, not openly, for obvious reasons. First of all, we ask for material aid in money, or such an equivalent therefor, as will enable us to maintain our army. Clothing and provisions will be accepted as substitutes for money, when the latter cannot be obtained.

Second, we need men. The ranks of our army in the field are fast becoming thluned by the casualties of battle, the sickness incident to camp life, and the expiration of the terms of nlistment. We cannot close our eyes to the fact that the places are not filled so promptly as they should be.
