ADMITTED TO PRACTICE. - On motion of C. C.

Rawn, Esq., B. F. Etter, Esq., was yesterday admitted to practice as an attorney at law in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

COMPLAINT has been made to us by several ladies of the bad conduct of a crowd of boys. who make a practice of loafing at the north corner of Third and Market streets until late hours at night, and disturbing peaceable people with their doings and conversation. We commend them to the attention of the police.

THE OWNER of the street sprinkler requests us to inform the public that unless he meets with better patronage he will be compelled to withdraw that machine from service. The "sprink ler" is an excellent institution, and we would very much regret to see it laid aside just as we are approaching the season when its services are so much needed. Viva le sprinkler, say we.

Yorktown. They caught a secesh dog outside paper with an account of the taking of Fort to his tail, and started him back to his brethren, whither he went at an Eclipse pace.

PICATUNE BUTLER. - A correspondent, writing from New Orleans, inform us that the rebel melody, beginning

"Picayune Butler has come to town," has almost ceased to be sung by the secessionists of New Orleans. Our men, however, have caught it up; the camps of the federal army moonlight evening on the vessels ascending the ed and the petitioners remanded. Mississippi.

THE REMAINS OF GEN. KEIM will be removed from the Brady House in this city at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning to the Lebanon Valley railtute the funeral escort, prescribed for a briga-Zouaves, Capt. F. Asbury Awl, and from thence the Adjutant General, Quartermaster General and Commissary General of the State.

AMUSEMENTS NEXT WEEK .-- Our citizens are promised a fund of amusement next and the following week, which will come all the better after the long interval. The first on the carpet will be Mr. and Mrs. Peabody's entertainments at Sanford's Opera House, which commence next Monday evening. The elegant refinement, wit, humor, and sparkling vivacity which pervades their entertaiments, have rendered them at once deservedly popular, whilst the extraordinary changes of personal identity are perfectly bewildering. Mr. and Mrs. Peabody will receive the thanks of the community for introducing a new parlor pastime of a moral and amusing character, free from all theatrical drawing room among friends, and which will serve to while away many a weary hour, and provoke boundless merriment.

Closely following the Peabodys will come the renowned ventriloquist and magician, Wyman, who opens in the same hall, on next Monday week. Wyman is so well known hereabouts, that it would seem to be almost work of supero-day evening next, when it will be decided gation for us to say anything in his praise; and, whether the several offices will be permanently we, therefore, need only add that he is the same old Wyman-full of fun and mystery, and as lively as a bag of flees.

SERIOUS RENCONTRE ON THE CANAL .- A des perate rencontre occurred yesterday on the burg." Pennsylvania Canal, between two boatmen, which came very near terminating fatally to one of the parties.

It seems that an elderly man named Frederick Moss and his son had charge of a raft of timber consigned to Messrs. Wilt & Bigler of this city. As the raft was approaching this point on the canal from the west, a canal boat, whose progress was much more rapid, attempted to pass it, which movement, however, was objected to by the occupants of the raft, one of whom, Moss' son, declaring with an oath that the boat should not pass upon any conditions, and then commenced abusing an old man, who seemed to be the owner of the boat. These proceedings continued for some time, and the parties were getting considerably excited, when suddenly old Moss sprang to the canal boat and in various parts of this State, and one good caught hold of the old man, its owner, and commenced beating him, when a son of the ing employment will do well to call on J. R latter hastened to his father's assistance, and Asher, at Mrs. Johnson's boarding house, corattempted to push Moss away. Moss, at length ner of Fourth and Market streets, before 92 finding himself likely to be overpowered, seized hold of an axe and with it struck the canal boat owner's son a violent blow on the head, which felled him to the deck of the boat, where he lay for several moments apparently am daily receiving from the New York suction and I am daily received the New York suction and I am daily received the New York suction and I am daily received the New York successive t lifeless. The act caused quite a flutter among the pickpockets, and indignant protests of its unconstitutionality were uttered by the few of that class who laid claim to legal knowledge. Two of this number, Byers and Davis, were arrested, and under its provisions committed for the term just mentioned. They employed counsel, and took the case to the Supreme Court, where the constitutionality was argued. It was insisted that the act was repugnant to that clause in the Declaration of Rights in the Constitution which guarantees "that trial by jury shall be as heretofore, and the rights thereof remain inviolate.' The case was heard in this city last week, and the opinion of the Court, as delivered by Justice Strong, has been published.

In it the Judge stated the objection to the act, and then refers to the condition of the law A Novel mode of giving the rebels news was prior to the adoption of the Constitution, and recently practised by some of the soldiers of takes the ground that the clause quoted is to the Sixty-second Pennsylvania regiment, before be interpreted by a knowledge of the usage and practice prior to the use of that language. Simon Cameron,' is manifestly a mistake, as that position has been for some time, and is at present very creditably filled by A. B. Warford, Esq., of this city. We presume our Baltimore cotemporaries, (for the Sun and Clipper made an almost precisely similar notice,) confounded the office of "president," with that of "director," and was thus inadvertantly led into making the error. In regard to that portion of the para- P. M. graph announcing the removal of the different offices of the company, at present located in this city, back to Baltimore, we have only to say in reply to the inuendo in this morning's Patriot and Union, that it is more than probably the Baltimore papers were led into the error by the following announcement which appeared in the local columns of our morning cotemporary on the 13th inst., just seven days preobjections, capable of re-production in any vious to the meeting of the Board, at which the local reporter of that journal this morning, states positively no action relative to the relative to the removal of the offices was enter: tained, "the resolution to that effect having

But perhaps, we should exercise charity, and overlook the blunders of our morning local cotemporary on the subject of motive power and machine shops, as all his thoughts and associations just now tend to horse flesh and horse stables.
