"INDEPENDENT IN ALL THINGS--NEUTRAL IN NONE." VOL XVIII. HARRISBURG, PA. TUESDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 27, 1862. NO. 22.

Medical. DR. JOHNSON'S BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL!

HAS discovered the most certain, speedy and efficacious remedy in the world for DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. RELIEF IN SIX TO TWELVE HOURS. No Mercury or Noxious Drugs. A Cure Warranted, or No Charge, in from one to Two Days.

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Loss of Sleep, Constipation of the Bowels, Headache, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Sightlessness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible diseases arising from the Solitary Habits of Youth—those sordid and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the most violent poisons of the Mariner's Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

Young Men Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that sordid and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellects, who might otherwise have embraced illustrious Stations with the hand and the sword, or taken to the sea, the living life, may call with full confidence.

Marriage. Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, or other ailments, should be cured. He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may rely upon his skill as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

Organic Weakness. Immediately cured, and full vigor restored. This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the medical consequences which may ensue. Now, who understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner or later, falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Powers weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constipation, Debility, a Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

Take Particular Notice. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, uniting them for either business, study, society or marriage. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

ALBANY, May 26. J. D. Stiles, Democratic candidate for Congress, has been elected to fill the place of Thos. B. Cooper, deceased. He had over 500 majority. XXXVIIth Congress--First Session. WASHINGTON, May 26. SENATE. Mr. HENDERSON (Mo.) presented the memorial of citizens of southeast Missouri, asking protection from guerrilla bands. Mr. WILSON (Mass.), from the Military Committee, reported back the bill legalizing the acceptance of 200,000 additional volunteers. Mr. SUMNER (Mass.) offered a resolution that the Secretary of War be requested to communicate to the Senate copies of any instructions to any of our Generals, in pursuance of the act of August, 1861, setting free slaves employed against the United States by their masters. Also, to inform the Senate whether any steps had been taken to make State statute effective. Laid over. Also, a resolution that in the prosecution of the present war and for the suppression of the present wicked rebellion, the time has come for the Government of the United States to appeal to the loyalty of the whole people everywhere, especially in the rebel districts, and to invite all, without distinction of color or class, to make their loyalty manifest by ceasing to fight or labor for the rebels, and also render every assistance in their power to the cause of the Constitution and Government, according to their ability, by arms or labor, or in any,

and since protection and allegiance are reciprocal duties, it is further the duty of the Government of the United States to maintain all such loyal people in all their rights as men, according to the principles of the Declaration of Independence. Laid over. Mr. GAMES (Iowa.) offered a joint resolution to compensate the crew of the steamer Yarnum for their clothing and all other property lost in the public service. Adopted. Mr. SUMNER introduced a bill to relieve the national government from all obligation to support slavery, and of all responsibility for it under the Constitution. Mr. HOWE (Wis.) introduced a bill to aid in restoring order, and to preserve the public peace within insurrectionary districts. Mr. DAVIS (Ky.) referred to Gen. Hunter's proclamation, and to the bad policy of weakening Gen. Banks so as to leave him to be whipped by the rebels, and said he believed that Gen. Stanton took charge of the armies. Mr. WILSON (Mass.) said the President was entirely responsible for the orders for the arrest of Gen. McDowell's progress toward Richmond and for the withdrawal of the troops from Gen. Banks. It was done by the President with the approval of the Secretary of War and several generals and military men.—The President gave a written order that a certain number of men should be left for the defense of Washington, which should be agreed upon by the cabinet and the army corps.—Twenty thousand troops were retained by Gen. McDowell, and men were withdrawn from Gen. Banks in anticipation of just such a movement as has taken place. These movements were directed by the President and he was entirely responsible. Mr. TRUMBULL (Ill.) said he should ask if it was not at repeated and urgent request of Gen. McClellan that troops had been sent to him. Mr. WILSON said he was desirous of having these forces, and the President sent a part of McDowell's forces, about one-third under Gen. Franklin to Gen. McClellan, he (Wilson) thought events of yesterday completely vindicated the President for retaining McDowell's force. The tax bill was then taken up. The tax on telegraphic dispatches were modified so as to be one cent: where cost of first ten words does not exceed twenty cents; where cost of first ten words exceeds twenty cents, tax to be three cents. Tax on insurance policies modified so as to be twenty-five cents on each policy except life insurance. Amendment adopted. That the act of August 5, 1861, imposing direct tax of twenty million shall only be held to authorize collection of one tax to that amount. This finished direct consideration of amendments offered by the Committee on Finance, leaving the bill open to further amendment. Mr. SUMNER moved to amend by reducing the tax laid on linseed and mustard oils from five to two cents. Agreed to. Mr. HENDERSON moved to strike out twenty cents, and insert fifteen on a tax on tobacco, containing twenty cents was a tax of over a hundred per cent. on poorer qualities of tobacco. Pending question. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The House resumed the consideration of the confiscation bills. Mr. ELLIOT (Mass.) in closing the general debate, remarked that it was a pretext, a legal fiction, to say that these bills are designed to punish treason. They are designed for no such purpose, but to weaken the power of the enemy, to bring about a speedy and permanent peace. They proposed to take from the enemy the instruments of war, without which they could not carry on the rebellion, six months longer. Mr. NOBLE (Mo.) wished to make a few remarks. Mr. ELLIOT said that as the gentleman was a member of the Select Committee, who reported the bills, he should be allowed to do so. But Mr. KILLINGBEE (Pa.) objected to further debate, inasmuch as he was compelled to print his remarks, and had no opportunity to deliver them. Debate here was useless, but our people at home had a right to understand our position on these great questions. His speech would advocate confiscation as a measure of indemnity for the past and a military necessity for the future. He was against the passage of an abolition amendment, and in favor of the passage of it. While he stood on the platform of compensation and colonization, he was against negro legislation per se. He was opposed to the negroes swarming in Pennsylvania and protesting against their being supported by the government's liberality. Mr. NOBLE obtained permission to print his remarks. Mr. ELLIOT resumed, explaining and advocating the bills reported from the committee and examining the pending substitutes. The House first voted on Mr. Roscoe Conkling's amendment to the third and fifth clauses of the Select Committee's Confiscation Bill, relating to persons whose property is to be confiscated, the amendment being as follows: "Provided, That such persons shall have accepted their appointment since the date of the pretended Ordinance of Secession, or taken the oath of allegiance to the so called Confederate States. This amendment referred to any person acting as Governor of a State, member of a Convention or Legislature, or Judge, or who may hereafter hold any office or agency under the so called Confederate States. The amendment was agreed to—yeas 100, nays 50. The House next voted on Mr. MATYARD's substitute which proposed to punish all persons in any way aiding or abetting rebellion by fine and imprisonment and empowering the President, whenever, in his opinion, the public safety may require it, to suspend any officer to any or all officers within the provisions of the act, excepting only such as have held offices of honor or profit under the Government of the United States, or have, at any time engaged in rebellion against its authorities, and while engaged have borne any offices, civil, military or naval. Mr. MATYARD's substitute was rejected—yeas 9, nays 40. The substitute of Mr. Morrill (Vt.) was next voted on. It declares all estate of property, money, stocks, credits and effects of persons acting as officers in any capacity under the so called Confederate States forfeited, and to be lawful subjects of seizure and of prize and capture wherever found for indemnity of the United States against expenses of suppressing the present rebellion. The substitute also denationalizes such person forever, and incapacitates them from voting or holding any office, profit or trust, under the United States of America. The substitute was negatived—yeas 25, nays 122. House passed Senate bill for relief of Robert Small and others, concerned in delivering a rebel vessel from the port of Charleston to our fleet, 121 against 9. Adjourned.
