As the enemy could be seen advanving in force, the regiment was rapidly posted its right resting on the One-hundred-and-second Pennsylvania volunteers; thus occupying the middle front of the brigade, and extending its left in the rear of the Fity-fifth New York. About two-thirds of the command were in About two-thirds of the command were in F line, when the charge of the enemy was made; ; and the fire of our right wing, under direction of Lieut. Col. Johnston, began. The enemy's charge was led by a squadron of cavalry. The rebel fort, known as 'Fort Magruder,' and a smaller one on the extreme right of the brigade front, four pieces of artillery, which had been brought into position about five hundred yards in our front, together with cavalry and infantry, poured into us a storm of shot, shell, grape, canister and bullets. For three hours the fire of the regiment was incessant, on account of its position commanding a view of both the openings of the roads, or either side of which were fallen bushes and trees, over whose tops volleys of musketry blazed upon our line. At the end of this time the right and centre had expended forty-five The two companies of the left—company B, Captain Arthur, and company G, Captain Mait-land—had been posted by me in rear of the left of the Fifty-fifth New York, under Captain Derr, acting Major, where the energy work of the Fifty-fifth New York, under Captain Derr, acting Major, where the enemy made three attempts to flank them, but where they were driven back as often. Gen. Keyes commanding 4th Corps, met me and gave me important directions. General Couch, though ill, accompania me to the field and mented the field, and reported my arrival, and advised in the dispositions. Reports of movements against my front were quickly followed by a shower of shot, shell and cannister from seve-ral batteries in the advance, the enemy's infail outceries in the advance, the enemy s in-fantily displaying Union colors. My line was pressed back under this combination of cir-cumstances. At this juncture I moved to the left centre of the 68d Pennsylvania regiment,

ICE OREAM ! ICE CREAM ! !

NE of the greatest improvements of NEt of the greatest improvements of the set is Pyne & Barr's Patent ice Cream Freezer, and Egg Beater, the great saver of 1 hor. The small quantity of ice used and the exceeding short space of the required to make good ice cream in one of their Freezers, ought to induce erevy family to purch use one of them. They have received several silver medals and the highest premiums at exhibit ons, over all other Freezers now in use. A prained circular containing the very best receipt for making ice cream, froz a custard, ice waters, &c., with a number of certificates a d fail directions accompany each Freezer. All orders for Freezer, county or State rights will be attended to by addressing W. BARR
