HARRISBURG, PA. Saturday Morning, May 31, 1862.

SALE OF CHOICE FLOWERS.—A new and choice lot of flowers will be exposed at public sale at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning in the lower market house.

HIS NAME.—The name of the man injured at the Round House of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company above our city, noticed in last evening's TELEGRAPH, is Mr. Geo. Smith, the father of the triplets, born a few months since.

MISS WOODWARD'S SCHOOL.—Col Fitzgerald, of the Philadelphia City Item, thus speaks of a recent visit he made to Miss Woodward's School in this city:

"I spent an hour very pleasantly in the public school over which Miss Woodward presides. An examination of the pupils in drawing, music, reading, &c., furnished abundant evidence of the ability of the teacher and the proficiency of the pupils.

SPRING BONNETS.—The milliners of our city are busily engaged in supplying their customers with new spring bonnets. There is nothing more noticeable, or add more to a lady's appearance than a pretty bonnet, "a love of a bonnet," as they term them.

THE LOCHIE CAVALRY.—It will be seen by the following from the Louisville Journal of the 24th inst., that the Ninth regiment, Pennsylvania (Lochle) cavalry, is doing efficient service against the rebel guerillas who infest the country adjoining the boundary line between Kentucky and Tennessee:

On Sunday last, Major Brown, of Colonel Williams's Ninth regiment Pennsylvania Cavalry, with a squad consisting of companies G and K, captured four men of Morgan's band near Allen's Springs.

DISMISSING SUICIDE.—A most sad incident occurred in Frederick, Maryland, on Monday night, in the death by suicide of Miss Madess.

THE STORM AT THE "UPPER END."—Our readers will recollect the heavy storm of wind and rain which passed over our city last Wednesday week. The same storm appears to have previously visited Lykens and Clark's valley, in the upper end of this county with unusual severity, attended with destruction of property and loss of life.

GAS FITTING AND PLUMBING.—Mr. William A. Parkhill has taken a leased the building in Third street, adjoining our office, formerly occupied by Harry Cunkle, deceased, and is now fully prepared to attend to all orders for gas fitting and plumbing with which he may be favored by our citizens.

THE FORTY-SIXTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT.—This regiment, under the command of Colonel Joseph F. Koipe, of this city, took a prominent part in the engagements with the rebels during the recent retrograde movement of General Banks's division.

Captain W. L. Foulk, of Pittsburg, in a letter to the Chronicle of that city, thus alludes to the action of the regiment in these engagements:

The First Brigade, consisting of the Forty-sixth Pennsylvania, Twenty-eighth New York and Fifth Connecticut regiments were encamped close by, and southeast of the town, while the Third Brigade—Twenty-seventh Indiana, Third Wisconsin, Second Massachusetts and Twenty-ninth Pennsylvania regiments—was encamped on the southwest.

Our infantry were closed en masse immediately after the first fire of the rebel battery, in readiness to be moved to any place to form line of battle. The firing was kept up on all sides for two hours, and there was nothing but a continued roar of cannon, and their shells and balls fell close to our batteries, but no injury was sustained by them, the range being generally too high, but falling and bursting quite close to them.

The rebel infantry on the east of the town gradually advanced under cover of woods and a ravine until they reached a stone fence about fifty yards in advance of the first brigade, where they commenced an attack upon us with their musketry, which was promptly returned, and with such precision that they were soon obliged to retreat, suffering severely, our fire being kept up on them until they were out of range of our musketry.

On our right, to the southwest of the town, the rebel infantry advanced in large numbers, evidently very strong, and, after a constant fire, our third brigade commenced to retreat, but slowly and in perfect order. Up to this time, nearly nine o'clock, the first brigade was confident of success, although aware of the superior force in numbers of the enemy; but when the third was obliged to commence retreating, it cast a gloom over every man who witnessed it.

In addition to the above, we gather the following particulars of the battle, and the conduct of the 46th Pennsylvania, from another source.

The Major, Adjutant, and in fact all, were alike cool and brave. Capt. G. A. Brooks, of Company D, the color company, received a ball through the skirt of his coat. Himself and his company are referred to in excited terms, as is, also, that of Capt. Wise, of Reading.

While bearing the colors, he was wounded by a Minnie ball, in the calf of the leg. For a moment he dropped, and then, with his hand raised above his head, cheering his comrades, and with the other waving the Stars and Stripes, he arose and apparently forgetting his wound, marched in advance.

FASHION.—At every age of the world fashion has commanded a reasonable consideration; and while we do not advocate a blind adherence to all the mushroom productions, we think that it is within our province to adorn nature's fair creation with suitable and becoming garments, and, in this view, we refer to those beautiful new styles of black silk sacks for ladies.

CARPET! CARPET! CARPET!—Having returned from New York, I now have on hand, and I am daily receiving from the New York auction sales, a large assortment of goods, which I offer cheaper than ever.

BATHORLOR'S celebrated Hair Dye produces a color not to be distinguished from nature—warranted not to injure the hair in the least; removes the effects of bad dyes, and restores the Hair to its GRAY, RED or RUSTY color, and cures a splendid Black or Brown, leaving the Hair soft and beautiful.

CALL at Finley's stall in market this morning and try his Bread at 3 cents a pound, or 4 cent loaves for 3 cents.

INDEPENDENCE ISLAND.—We are under obligations to Mr. Geo. W. Cole for a complimentary ticket to pass to and from Independence Island during the season. We shall certainly avail ourselves of Mr. Cole's favor whenever an opportunity occurs, for in our opinion there is not a more pleasant and agreeable spot in the vicinity of this city, or one that presents greater inducements to enjoy a few hours' recreation from the cares and toil of business than this same island. Put us down for frequent chances, Mr. Cole.

THE LANCASTER EXPRESS does not rely on frank style of making up "Our roll of Honor." That is natural, simply because a spice of envy constitutes a certain description of rivalry in good deeds. But the Express should have published the names of those immortal "six."

SINGULAR FANOT.—The West Chester Republican records the death of an old man who has kept his coffin in his house for thirty years.—Until within a few years he resided on a small farm three miles from West Chester. On one occasion he cut down a fine walnut tree growing on his place, had it sawed into boards, and the coffin was made from a portion of the lumber.

MUCH has been said in the papers urging the farmers to plant largely the present season, and it is not too late to encourage them to persevere in the work of plowing, planting and sowing every foot of land that they can possibly work to advantage.

MORNING WALK.—We agree with an intelligent contemporary that those who have never tried the exercise of a morning walk, (we mean an early morning walk taken about the time Aurora is shaking the dew-drops from her golden locks,) are entirely strangers to its rejuvenating, (there now, we did not intend to use that big word,) and exhilarating influences.
