Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most distressing and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Head-ache, Vertigo, Deafness, a Weakening of the Frame, Gout, Consumption, Decay and Death.

Office, No. 7 South Frederick Street.

Left hand side going from Baltimore street, a low door from the corner of the street in the second building, between the Baltimore and the Washington streets. Letters must be paid and contain a stamp. The Doctor's Diplomas hang in his office.

A Cure Warranted in Two Days.

No Mercury or Noxious Drugs.
Dr. Johnson, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known or reported in any age. He is in the habit of seeing patients, great numbers of whom are alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

Take Particular Notice.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence in solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, uniting them for either business, study, society or marriage.
These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, etc.

Young Men

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are not only ruinous to the body, but which might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence or waked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage

reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary and dreary one, and the prospective happiness of the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with their own.

Diseases of Imprudence.

When the mind and impudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from a mixture of respectability and care, alone best friends him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms on this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sores, rheumatism, disordered vision, neuralgic pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, designed nodes on the skin, bones and arms, blotches on the face, and all the extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the patient, by seeing him to "the Discovered," is driven to seek a refuge in some distant and remote country from whence no traveler returns.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant practitioners, who by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miserable.

Strangers

Treat not your lives, or health, to the care of the many Unlearned and Worthless Pretenders, destitute of knowledge, name or character, who copy Dr. Johnson's advertisement, or style themselves in the newspapers, regularly licensed Physicians, and endeavour to deceive the public by monthly taking their filthy and poisonous compounds, or as long as you will feel health to sigh over your galling disappointment.

Indorsement of the Press.

The many thousands cured at this institution year after year, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnson, witnessed by the reporters of the "Sun," "Clipper," and many other papers, notices which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

Skin Diseases Speedily Cured.

From our Morning Edition.

FROM SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

GEN. FREMONT STILL PURSUING THE RETREATING REBELS.

THE REBELS DRIVEN BEYOND WOODSTOCK.

300 Prisoners Taken and Others Constantly Arriving.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE PURSUIT.

THE REBELS ENDEAVOR TO MAKE ANOTHER STAND.

THEY ARE DRIVEN RAPIDLY, AND WITH GREAT LOSS.

WOODSTOCK VA., June 2.
The enemy was driven out of Strasburg last evening by Fremont's advance guard, and have been closely pursued to-day by Fremont's forces, and Gen. Bayard's Cavalry Brigade. They have several times made stands, and skirmishing has been constantly going on, but with trifling loss on both sides.

One of Bayard's commands was killed, and Col. Pillow, chief of artillery and one of Fremont's aids was wounded.

The enemy are now encamped about three miles beyond Woodstock, we holding the village.

We have taken about three hundred prisoners, and more are constantly being brought in.

SECOND DISPATCH.

FREMONT'S HEAD QUARTERS, WOODSTOCK, VA.—General Fremont, after occupying Strasburg last night, was obliged by the darkness and tremendous storm and fatigue of his men to delay his advance till this morning.

At six o'clock the pursuit of the retreating enemy was resumed and vigorously continued during the day.

Gen. McDowell's advance being a part of a brigade under Gen. Bayard, reached Strasburg this morning, and was ordered forward by Gen. Fremont to join in the pursuit with the cavalry and artillery.

The enemy, to retard the pursuit, endeavored to make a stand in three strong positions, with artillery, but were driven rapidly and with loss from each.

Jackson's rear guard passed through Woodstock this p. m.

The head of his column had reached it at sunrise.

Col. Pillow, chief of artillery on Fremont's staff, who selected with great skill the successive positions for the batteries, is wounded by the fall of his horse, which was shot under him while reconnoitering within thirty yards of the enemy.

The batteries engaged were Schiermer's and Buell's, of Gen. Stah's brigade, the 1st New Jersey and 1st Penna. cavalry, under General Bayard, and the 6th Ohio and Stewart's Indiana cavalry, under Col. Lagoyere, were in the advance, driving the enemy before them and in support of the batteries.

The read and woods were strewn with arms, stores and clothing. A large number of prisoners have been taken.

Our loss is one killed and several wounded. Gen. Fremont's rapid march, combined with Gen. McDowell's movement, has wholly relieved the Shenandoah valley and Northern Virginia.

Jackson will be overtaken and forced to fight, or must abandon his ground entirely.

FROM GEN. M'CLELLAN'S ARMY

THE REBELS UNABLE TO RALLY THEIR TROOPS.

THEY RETREAT TO RICHMOND.

OUR FORCES ADVANCE TO FAIR OAK.

The Union Army within Four Miles of the Rebel Capital.

Jeff. Davis and Governor Letcher both at the Late Fight.

THE FATE OF RICHMOND SEALED.

GEN. M'CLELLAN'S HEADQUARTERS, June 2, 1862.

The rebel officers were unable to rally their troops this morning, and have retreated back towards Richmond.

Our men have moved forward to Fair Oak, which is five miles from the city.

Jeff. Davis and Gov. Letcher were both at the fight yesterday.

The dead are being gathered and buried.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY POTOMAC, Monday evening, June 2-9 p. m.

Gen. Hooker made a reconnaissance to-day on the Williamsburg turnpike, to within four miles of Richmond, without meeting the enemy in force. The pickets kept in sight, but retreated on his approach.

Several ones felt sanguine of the fall of the rebel capital whenever our troops advance for an engagement. The fight of Saturday and Sunday sealed the fate of that city, when the body of the rebel army assailed the troops on our left wing with the view of crushing it, and they were defeated after two day's hard fighting and forced to retreat.

Among our wounded were Col. Hunt, 92d N. Y., in the leg.

Lieut. Colonel Harry, 89th Pennsylvania, in the leg.

FROM MISSOURI.

Meeting of the State Convention at Jefferson.

CONDITION OF THE STATE.

St. Louis June 3.
[Special to the St. Louis Democrat.]

JEFFERSON June 2d.—The State Convention met in the Representatives Hall at noon, President Wilson in the chair.

There not being a quorum present, the convention adjourned till 5 p. m., when the convention resumed and proceeded to business, there being eight members more than a quorum present.

A communication from the Governor was received and read. He reviews the history of the State affairs for the past year, in detail, especially in reference to the provisional government in raising and supplying troops, and expresses the obligation of the State is under the general government for the promptness and liberality with which its wants have been supplied.

There has been issued to disbursing officers seven hundred and twenty thousand dollars in the State defence in warrants, and a further amount of fifty-five thousand dollars will have to be issued. One hundred thousand dollars have been redeemed by receipts for taxes from forty-one counties. The depreciation of this paper the Governor attributes to interested parties, but gives assurance that it is better secured than any bank paper in the State, as it is receivable for taxes, and in one year will all be redeemed. Besides this, it has the collateral security of bank stock, and the debt will be assumed by the general government.

The provisional government began with an empty treasury. The State credit was gone because the interest of our debt was not paid. Sherris resigned rather than collect taxes, and even now only forty-one counties have returned tax books for 1861; and out of $640,220 due from them, only $258,386 had been paid in.

From seventy-three counties not heard from the amount due is very large, but officers are finding it more easy to make collections, and altogether the condition of things is not worse than when the present authorities received control of the government. The bond holders will hardly expect the full interest to be paid, but none doubt the ability the State to pay ultimately.

The appointments to fill county offices made vacant by incumbents refusing to take the oath of allegiance, have generally been acceptable. In most parts of the State, the courts of justice are open, and laws are properly administered; but in others disturbance and crime are perpetrated under the name of guerrilla warfare.

Sufficient force is now ready, however, to compel the cessation of such outrages. Troops hostile to the people and institutions of the State have been supplanted by home volunteers, who will be less objectionable.

The trials of securing peace and prosperity will be done, under the providence of God, to the patriotism and wisdom of this convention.

Much remains to be done, and nothing must be allowed to distract the attention and energy of all classes of the people from the means heretofore employed.

The Governor is doubtful as to the wisdom of electing members of Congress seventeen months before taking their seats, as questions may come up for consideration, but different from those on which they were elected, and that would be a recommendation on the subject as to the ordinance prepared last November, ordering an election of executive officers and for the ratification of the provisional government, which was postponed till the coming August.

He submits whether it should not be annulled, in view of the fact that thirty thousand citizens are absent from the State, as volunteers, who ought to have a voice in this matter, as to an oath of loyalty, for the qualification of voters.

He submits the question without recommendation, although he thinks the State ought to be protected against the influence of those who have been recreant to its interest.

Resolutions were passed authorizing the President to appoint commissioners on congressional district elections, elective franchise, finance militia, and State constitution. Some members are confident that the question of emancipation will be voted out of a consideration in the convention, while others are sanguine that the President's propositions will be discussed and recommended.

All seem resolved on stringent measures against allowing active secessionists to vote at the approaching election.

XXXVIIth Congress--First Session

WASHINGTON, June 3.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Brown, (Va.), presented a memorial asking that Western Virginia be admitted into the Union as a free and independent State.

The new State Constitution was among the papers presented.

The subject was referred to the Committee on Territories.

JOHN B. STELES was qualified and took his seat in the House, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Cooper of Pennsylvania.

The House resumed the consideration of the Senate bill for the recognition of Hayti and Liberia.
