The Battle Before Richmond

From the 93d Penn'a, Regiment.

HEAD QUARTERS, COMPANY I, (93D REGIMENT P. V., Va., May 27. MR. EDITOR :- I am very sorry to contradic my fellow companions in arms, but upon this occasion I feel it my duty to uphold my own native State, as well as my own brave brothers in arms that have so nobly and truly defended their beloved country in the late battle at Williamsburg, and proud are we of the laurels that we so well deserve as well as won upon that day. A day that cost many a brave hero to breath his last in the defence of his glorious country. A day to be remembered as long as this race may exist, as one of the greatest fought battles upon record. And may it be remembered, that the old Keystone State participated freely under a very galling fire from the enemy. The position shown of our brigade in action upon the map of the New York Herald of the 24th is not altogether correct. There are a few exceptions. They represent our brigade Van Amburg & co., (ake both pride and i leasure in calling the attention of a discriminaring public to the fact that they (with a determinarion to cast aside every opprision of what sever, kind or rature.) have expended on this (stablis ment the enormous sum of the Fifty-fifth New York regiment was de-spatched to the left when the enemy was trying to carry off Capt. Weber's guns. This much is right; but they did not arrive too late as they to make it surpass anything the world ever before have seen. It is they did not arrive too late as they world ever before have seen. It is they did not arrive too late as they competitor. All the advantages that weath, talent and experience could command, have teen brought into requisition in starting this giganic requisition in starting this giganic enterprise. Some have gone in the United States steamers to Annapolis and New York. Those on board the Whilldin have been sent to St. Joseph's Philadelphia the circulated, but VAN AMBURGH STILL LIVES York. This was the position of our brigade and will accompany the yenagerie, and bear living testimony that he is nor dead. This first fire of the enemy; after which our regiment opened a most murderous fire upon the enemy, which checked their mad career. Our brigade remained after we had expended out amunition almost half an hour, before we were relieved by the 2d Rhode Island and another regiment. But we had driven the enemy back egiment. Date we have directly before being relieved. The other regi-ments fired but two volleys after the retreating cases. Those discharged were either returned. ments fired but two volleys after the retreating enemy, when the lateness of the day prevented them from continuing the fight. I am sorry that the Herald should try to claim all the honors for the New York State boys; but sensible people know much better; right is right, and wrong is wrong; and I think that they are very wrong in not giving our General a little more praise than what they have, for he deserves it. His brigade decided the battle, and fought

. THE TRIP OF THE WHILLDIN.

Our reporters were on board the Whilldin at an early hour this morning, and learned some interesting incidents of the trip. The boat after leaving Philadelphia went to Fortress Monroe, and thence up the York river and CINE FOR UNPLEASANT AND DANGEROUS DISKASES.

Pamunkey to White House. It took sixteen OHEMS. wounded men on board. The boat then started In all their Stages, on Monday at 9 o'clock on her return. She Little or no change in Diet; on Monday at 9 o'clock on her return. She ran aground in the Pamunkey, and had some rough weather in Chesapeake bay, but came through the Chesapeake and Delaware canait to this point without much difficulty, though this trip was made rather slow by the breaking of some of her machinery.

The Col-says that the 104th, (which was in Casey's division.) was about the first regiment engaged It advanced to support a battery, and held its ground, without much support, for some time, though overwhelmed by an immense force of the enemy. Finally it retired to near its camp, and there fought, near the ground of Couch's division, until all the ammunition was gone. The Col. although wounded, spent Saturday evening trying to find good ammunition. and got but a scanty supply, as there was but little on the Richmond side of the Chickahominy at that period. He earnestly assures us that there was no flincing in his brigade, though the men were forced to retire, which they did

Capt. Harvey, of the 104th, was captured on Saturday by five rebels, but one of the rascale being shot dead by a picket, the Captain escaped. He then hunted up a party of men of the 11th Maine, and captured forty-five rebels and brought them into camp.

CAPTURE OF AN OMNIBUS. The Richmond people sent out to the field an omnibus and four splendid horses, by way of an ambulance. There were one or two whites inside of the vehicle, and it was driven by two negroes. The omnibus was by mistake driven inside our lines. The pickets of Casey's division shot the white men and made the negroes drive the omnibus into camp, where it was quite useful.

SAVED BY A BIBLE.

Capt. Ell Dougherty, of company K, Ninety-third Pennsylvania regiment. (Col. McCarter's) was on board the Whilldin with a slight wound in the breast. In the battle of Saturday a minie ball struck him just in the heart or rather in the clothes over his heart. It went through his coat, vest and shirt. It smashed a gold watch (which he had brought for his sister) all to pieces. The ball then went into Corporal N. N. Stephenson, Co. E, 108d a Bible and dug its way through the lid and through about six hundred pages. At the be-ginning of the 4th chapter of 2d Timothy, it vent out the Bible and inflicted a slight wound in his breast. It left its last mark on the 1st verse of that chapter. It is as follows: "I charge thee, therefore, before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his king-The watch Captain Dougherty showed us in The watch Captain Dougnerry showed us in fragments. The Bible is so disfigured that it will only be valuable as a relic. It was given to the captain by a lady, and his wearing it next his heart is undoubtedly the cause of that organ continuing to beat to day.

Marriges and Deaths to be charged as regular ad-

In the next berth to Capt. D. was a soldier with a fearful wound in the leg. "I wish," he said, as we looked at the Bible, "that I had had a book in the calf of my leg on Saturday. LIEUTENANT COLONEL PURVIANCE.

Among the wounded is Lieut. Col, H. A. Purviance, of the Eighty-fifth Pennsylvania.— Purviance, of the Eignty-Intel Louisian, (Pa.,)
He was the editor of the Washington, (Pa.,) herore the war broke out. He is Reporter, before the war broke out. He is wounded severely, but not dangerously, in the leg. His name was printed wrongly in the papers this morning. He is quite cheerful, and looks well.

CHEERFULNESS OF THE WOUNDED.

While the Whilldin lay at the wharf and out in the stream, the wounded appeared perfectly cheerful, and their faces brightened at the idea of coming ashore in Philadelphia. We did not hear a grean either in the upper or lower cabin, Everything appeared to be done for them quickly, quietly and kindly and there appeared to be nothing in the way of stores or medicines which was lacking. We cannot speak too highly of the arrangements as they appeared at our visit, and we only wish that every State was as well provided with sanitary devices as Pennsylvania
