HARRISBURG, PA Friday Morning, June 6, 1862.

MILITARY RELIEF FUND.—The weekly payment will be made as usual, at the sheriff's office, in the Court House, this (Friday) evening, opening at half past five and closing at half past six. By order. GEO. BERGNER, Pres't.

O. EDWARDS, Sec'y.

NEEDS REPAIR.—The floor of the bridge over the canal at the foot of Market street is in a deplorable condition, and unless repaired shortly will cause serious accidents to life and limb. We hope those whose duty it is to attend to this matter, will see the necessity of acting promptly upon this information.

PASSED THROUGH.—A fine regiment, the 19th, from Wisconsin, passed through the city en route for Washington, Wednesday. It was commanded by Col. Saunders, and numbered some nine hundred and fifty men, all strapping, stalwart fellows, and likely, in any work to which they may be assigned, to give a good account of themselves.

OUR LADY READERS in want of anything in the military line would do well to step into the establishment of Mrs. Jane Mather, North Second street, next door to the Golden Lamb Tavern. Her stock of goods is large and varied, and cannot fail to give satisfaction to the most fastidious in such matters. Give her a call.

CAPT. JOHN J. BALL has opened a recruiting office, for the 116th regiment, at No. 14 Market Square, this city. Capt Ball was one of the military instructors at Camp Curtin for a long period, and is an accomplished officer.—Young men who desire to serve their country, would do well to hunt up the flag of Captain Ball.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Sunday evening, a heavy shower of rain, accompanied with lightning and thunder, passed over Middletown. The lightning struck the iron bridge at the Union canal. No damage was done. The lightning rod on the house occupied by Mr. E. Allen, on Furnace Hill, was also struck, as well as a number of large trees, about a mile below town, some of which were torn to pieces.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RESERVES.—The First Brigade of the Pennsylvania Reserves, consisting of the First, Second, Fifth, and Eighth Regiments, was paid off, yesterday, by Major Pomroy, Mr. William Garratt, of this city, took to Washington city, $7000 of the pay of the Fifth Regiment, Col. Simmons, which he forwarded to their families. The other regiments in the Reserves will be paid off during the next few days.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On last Saturday, while a number of young girls were playing in a barn, a daughter of Mr. Abram Landis, residing near Middletown, aged seven or eight years, playfully jumped from a feed trough, about four feet high, upon some hay, which resulted in the breaking of both her legs below the knees. One of her limbs was broken in two places by the sad misfortune, and the sweet little girl suffered severely. She is now lying as well as can be expected.

FOUND DROWNED.—Yesterday, Alderman Bloom was called upon to hold an inquest upon the body of a man, found lying under a stable leading to Mr. John Wallower, Jr., near Paxton creek. An Irishman testified before the jury that he had seen the same man lying under the stable night before, and had warned him of the danger of being overpowered by the men of Paxton Creek, which was then rising rapidly. The man, however, paid no attention to the warning, and it is supposed that he laid himself asleep, and becoming suddenly engulfed in the water, and was drowned. The deceased was a German, nearly six feet high, stout built, and apparently about thirty years of age. The only articles found in his pockets were twenty-nine cents in gold and copper coin, and a small pass book, memoranda written in German. The remains were interred in the burial ground of Franklin county poor house.

REPORT OF A SUPPOSED "SPY" SPY.—Excite of the Mayor's Office.—There was quite a rowing stir at the Mayor's office yesterday, occasioned by the arrest of an individual wearing the uniform of a lieutenant in the Union Army, who gave his name as S. S. Bloom, and with being a "spy" spy. The admission of a party of returned Union prisoners, at the depot, yesterday, they were approached by Bloom, who asked them if they had not been well treated in the South, and if they did not prefer living there than being with the Union army, to all of which they indignantly replied in the negative, and proceeded to express their opinion of the rebels and their sympathizers in pretty severe terms of condemnation. This it seems obtained the so-called lieutenant, who spoke of Jeff Davis as being a better man than Lincoln, and one of the greatest generals in the country. From this, and various other suspicious circumstances, he returned prisoners were led to believe that Bloom was a spy in the service of the rebels, and recollecting the sufferings they had endured in the south, some of them were anxious to give him a sound thrashing; but fortunately wiser councils prevailed, and he was escorted to the Mayor's office, where he was confronted with the charge above stated.

A number of witnesses were examined, the gist of whose testimony amounted to what we have already stated; but as it was scarcely of a character sufficient to establish the case, and as nothing was found upon his person to confirm the charge of being a spy, the Mayor very properly sent him to prison for using seditious language, and inciting to a breach of the peace.

THE RAIN.—High Water.—Never within the memory of that ubiquitous individual—the "oldest inhabitant"—has such a large quantity of rain fallen in this vicinity within the same time, as during the past few days. The storm opened on Tuesday evening, accompanied with thunder and lightning, and continued without scarcely a moment's cessation, until Wednesday night, at which time the wind subsided, though the rain still continued to fall, less violently, all night, and up to the time of writing this morning, there is very little prospect of any immediate change for the better.

During Tuesday night and Wednesday, the rain fell in perfect torrents, flooding many of our streets, filling cellars, and doing a great deal of damage to the new buildings in course of construction throughout the city, in the way of undermining stone foundations, &c.

Of course, the fall of so large a quantity of rain was not without its effects on the small streams throughout the county, which are overflowed to a great extent, doing a great deal of damage to public and private property.

Paxton creek, east of the city, commenced rising early Wednesday morning, and Thursday evening all the adjoining fields were overflowed, presenting a desolate scene, and resulting in the destruction of a large quantity of property. At some points, so rapidly did the water overflow, that it was with great difficulty horses, cattle, hogs, and, in one or two instances, even human beings, were saved from being drowned.

A great portion of the stone bridge across the stream near Bigler & Will's saw mill, at the lower end of the city, and one or two smaller bridges, have been swept away, which will intercept travel until the water is in a condition to ford.

It is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage done along the creek, until the water recedes to its ordinary level. Among those, however, who are known to have sustained the heaviest losses, are Messrs. Daniel Hocker, Wm. F. Murray, John Till, Wm. Collier, John B. Simons, and Chas. F. Muench.

The Susquehanna river also commenced rising suddenly Wednesday, and yesterday it was bank full, and the surface of the water filled with floating wood. At the time of writing, it is still rising, and if the rain has been equally as severe north and west of the city, we may look for an extensive flood.

We learn that the Swatara river at Middletown commenced to rise rapidly on Wednesday, threatening destruction to all the timber in the stream. Some twenty rafts were swept away early in the evening, and as the storm continued through the night, we fear that the lumbermen have lost heavily. The Swatara is now overflowing, and still rising.

ARRIVAL OF RELEASED UNION PRISONERS.—Yesterday twenty-two of the released prisoners of company "I," of the 16th regiment, P. V., commanded by Col. B. A. Oakford, for the three months' services, called upon H. C. Allen, Esq., who was a first lieutenant of company E, of the same regiment. These men were captured at the battle of Falling Waters, on the 2d day of July last, by Stuart's cavalry, numbering four hundred and thirty men.—There were two of the regiment killed, four wounded, and forty-two taken prisoners, among them Lieut. Hutchinson. The prisoners were placed in irons immediately after their capture, and marched to within five miles of Winchester the first day. The next day they reached Winchester, and remained there until the 18th of July. The day following the march of Gen. Patterson's Division from Banker's Hill to Charleston, they were taken to Richmond and remained in the tobacco warehouse until the 26th of September, when they were taken to New Orleans. They were placed in the Irish jail and remained there in close confinement until the 6th of February, when they were taken to Salisbury, N. C., and placed in a large barracks with Col. Corcoran, Lieut. Col. Bowman and other officers. They left Salisbury for New York on the ship Stars and Stripes, May 22d, and reached Harrisburg this morning. They report having received hard treatment from the rebels, and having been the first of the federal forces captured, were paraded for show to the extreme delight of the secessionists and ladies in particular. They report Colonel Corcoran in good health, but Lieutenant Colonel Bowman as being almost blind, and gray as a badger. Two of the men died since their capture. They have all been ordered to Camp Curtin for pay, but yet having received one cent of pay, although they were mustered into the service on the 23d of April, 1861. They say they hardly know what money looks like, not having seen any since their capture. They also report that Gen. Joseph E. Whetton had but fourteen thousand men, while Gen. Patterson was at Banker Hill with twenty-two thousand, and that the fortifications around Winchester were of a very trifling character. They left Winchester on the same day that Gen. Johnson marched ten thousand of his men to reinforce Beauregard at Manassas. The men generally look to be in good health, and are all anxious to return to service to pay the rebels a big debt they owe them. They say there are a great many true Union men down south. They found them at Richmond and Salisbury quite numerous, but the secessionists compelled them to keep quiet, or else take the consequence of being forced into service.

The following is a list of the returned patriots: Hiram Edmiston, Lewistown. Mathew Hyde, Mifflintown, Juniata county. A. H. Edwards, Lewistown. W. J. Carver, Fredericksburg, Lebanon county. J. T. Farmer, Potter's Mills, Centre county. Samuel Day, Audenried, Carbon county. David Beard, Bradmont, Schuylkill county. John Dubbs, Fredericksburg, Lebanon county. Wm. Berger, Perryville, Mifflin county. Fred. Klitz, Carlisle. Jacob Ashleman, Philadelphia. James Owen Brooks, Wilmington, Del. Amos Beaton, Potter's Mills, Centre county. Patrick Glench, Carbondale, Luzerne county. Joseph Kaley, Lancaster county. S. H. Hoffman, Tuscarora valley, Juniata county. Jacob R. Dietrick, Thompsontown, Juniata county. Mannus Onabren, Ashland, Schuylkill county. Christian Ernst, Minersville, " " John Jenkins, Audenried, " " Thomas Fleming, Summit Hill, Schuylkill county. One Gaddis, Lumberville, Bucks county. 6th regiment.

THE EMANCIPATION JUBILEE among the colored people will take place this evening at the Masonic Hall on Tanner's alley, the weather permitting.

THE FIRST CITY ZEPPERS will meet at their Army this evening, at 7 o'clock. Every member is desired to attend, as business of importance will be transacted. There is a prospect for active service. By order.

VAN AMBURG'S MENAGERIE.—The anticipated advent of this celebrated zoological exhibition, on Monday next, is exciting no little interest, especially among the rising generations, as it is the first great animal show that has visited this place in several years. Being entirely unconnected with any circus performance, it will undoubtedly draw out all classes of the community.

MUTILATED TREASURY NOTES.—An important decision in reference to Treasury Notes has been made. The points may be stated as follows: 1st. Treasury Notes which have been torn will be redeemed by the Department if all the genuine fragments are returned. 2d. Portions of notes will be redeemed in full only when accompanied by an affidavit stating the cause and manner of the mutilation, and that the missing portions are totally destroyed. 3d. In the absence of such affidavit the parts will only be redeemed in proportion to their size, receiving the whole note by twentieths. 4th. Less than half of a note will not be redeemed. 5th. Fragments of notes will be retained for a year, to enable the owners to return the missing parts. 6th. Mutilated notes and fragments will not be redeemed except at Washington.

THE SHOOTING CASE.—The Verdict.—The Coroner's jury summoned to investigate the case of the shooting of Mrs. Eliza Redwitz, Wednesday night, noticed in yesterday's TELEGRAPH, after several hours' session, during which a dozen of witnesses were examined, returned a verdict "that the said Eliza Redwitz came to her death by a ball discharged from a pistol in the hands of Emma Wingert, whether accidental or otherwise is not known to the jury; but they would recommend her (Emma Wingert) to the mercy of the Court; and so they agree."

The inquest was held by Alderman M'Farland, of the Sixth ward, and the gentlemen who composed the jury were Henry Becker, B. Campbell, Geo. S. Allen, Jno. Cline, David K. Callender and Adam Golconerthor.

A further hearing of the girl Wingert took place before the Mayor at three o'clock this afternoon, but we did not learn the result. We presume, however, that she was admitted to bail.

"THE FEAST OF ROSES."—In eastern lands—the original home of the fairest and sweetest treasure of the garden, the rose, at the season when the atmosphere is pervaded and heavy with the sweetness exhaled from the perfumed bosoms of untold myriads of these "queens of the garden," and before the "rose harvest" begins, it is usual to celebrate what is termed the "Feast of Roses," marked by peculiar ceremonies, and hailed with especial rejoicings, the harvest about to be gathered being no less important in the section alluded to, than the vintage of vine-clad France and Italy. To this occasion Moore alludes in one of his exquisite ballads:

"Now hearts with joy are bounding, And young and old arise, To hail the 'Feast of Roses,' And bless it as it flies."

It is true that here the condition of things would hardly justify an occasion similar to the one in question, but we may, nevertheless, feast our eyes on those beautiful gifts of God, the flowers, which in such profusion greet us on every side, and which was never so liberally scattered around as at present, filling the air with their grateful odor, and compelling our admiration. Who is it that called a flower the "smile of God"—of a Providence "Who might have made enough for great and small, And yet not made a single flower at all?" These beautiful children of "sunshine and shower" preach to us more deeply impressive sermons—involuntarily lifting our thoughts and hearts to Him who arrayed them in their beauty, and breathed upon them their perfume—than we have ever heard from human lips, and he who does not hear and heed their mute yet persuasive eloquence, although he may not be "fit for treason, stratagem and spoils," is, nevertheless, dead to some of the gentler, more refining, and nobler attributes of humanity.—Thanks! for the flowers!

RECOLLECTIONS OF HARRISBURG FOR THIRTY YEARS.—In retracing life's pathway for thirty years, how many thousand changes and incidents memory presents to our recollection, in connection with the olden borough of Harrisburg and its citizens, which would if printed strip the Arabian Nights of romance or Jeff Davis of wicked ambition; if then we possessed the power to bring back youth to the aged, fortune to the impoverished, and all the loved ones, and pleasant associations that have passed away in thirty years, how delighted we would be. As we cannot do this, we will but say that Ulrich & Bowman's cheap dry goods house is at the South East corner of Front and Market streets.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

THE STOLEN MARK; or the Mysterious Cash Boy. By Willie Collins.

Mr. Collins, from an incident connected with a bust of Shakespeare, originally preserved in one of the many chapels of England, has written a very credible novel, and woven a romance such as is excelled by few of the late English writers of fiction. The story has a moral, too, by the inclusion of which no man or woman can fail to be benefitted. It is for sale at Bergner's Cheap Book Store, Market street.

THE TWO PRIMA DONNAS: A Novel of Real Life. By George Augustus Sala.

This is one of those highly colored French novels, lacking the lasciviousness peculiar to most French works of fiction. For an hour's delightful reading, we know of no romance capable of producing a more charming sensation, while at the same time it advances that refinement of sentiment which impresses the reader at once with the noble objects of the author. The novel is for sale at Bergner's Cheap Book Store, Market street.

PETERSON'S Philadelphia Counterfeit Detector and Bank Note List, for June, has just been issued. This work now possesses a deserved large circulation. It is the safest and most comprehensive counterfeit detector issued in this country, and no merchant should be without such a periodical. It is for sale at Bergner's Cheap Book Store, Market street.
