HARRISBURG, PA. Saturday Afternoon, June 7, 1862.

PREBYTERIAN SERVICES.—On and after tomorrow, until further notice, the Sabbath evening service in the Old School Presbyterian Church, will commence at six o'clock, P. M.

RES OVER.—A boy about twelve years of age named Charles Moore, was run over this afternoon by one of the Adams Express wagons, at the depot. His right arm was broken above the wrist and his jaw considerably bruised.

FOR THE LADY who dispelled the ink odor from her bosom to-day, by the presentation of a splendid bouquet, redolent with the richest perfume, we can only express our simple gratitude, and the hope that her life may ever be as bright and as beautiful as the flowers she smiled and laid on our table.

CHURCH NOTICE.—At a meeting of the Ministerial Association of Harrisburg, June 2d, it was resolved, That the bells for Sabbath worship commence ringing at 10 o'clock in the morning, and a quarter before 10 in the evening.

The various congregations of the city will assemble during the summer in accordance with the above resolution.

W. S. WARD, Secretary.

A SWARM OF BEES ON A MAN'S HEAD.—A most singular incident occurred in Bridge-wagon, Mass., a few days since, illustrating the peculiar habits of these insects. Mr. A. P. Benson, noticing an unusual stir among his hives, proceeded to examine into the cause, whereupon an entire swarm withdrew from their old hive, and settled upon his head and shoulders. Mr. B., without any serious inconvenience, succeeded in transferring the swarm to a new hive.

That's nothing. We know any amount of "fellows" hereabouts who get up in the morning with a swarm of bees in their heads.

SWARMS OF "CONTABANDS."—The Chambersburg Times says: "During the last few days the roads leading from the Virginia line to this place have been black with 'contabands,' making their way North. Numbers of them, too, have passed through on the railroad. They are of all ages, colors and sizes—from the gray-haired slave, who has passed his days of usefulness to his master, to the infant in arms—and are of various degrees of intelligence, many of them quick and knowing, other dull, lazy and stupid. Some of them have passed through, but many are still quartered among the negroes of the town—some of the houses being crowded almost to suffocation."

OVERTAKEN IN HIS CUPS.—William Letta, a small boat pilot, in his cups, was overtaken by the effects of strong gin yesterday afternoon, and by a police officer shortly after. Although used to the steering of boats, the pilot found the greatest difficulty in steering his own case, and when found by the officer was "half seas over," or in other terms, "three sheets in the wind and the other sheet shivering." The gin staggered him; the officer sighted him out and walked him off to the pier. William's face presented a very pleasant spectacle, on which looking as if it had been laid on and then treated with a mustard plaster. He accounted for it by saying that he had fallen down, but he must have fallen a great distance to produce any such extraordinary disposition. He was sent over for ten days, and he will come out a new man.

THE GREAT CARAVAN of Van Amburg & Co's. Bazaar will make its public entrance this evening on Monday morning, coming from Palmyra, and will parade our principal streets in order to give the public an opportunity of judging of the extent of the establishment. This parade will be a pageant of a brilliant character, affording an entirely gratuitous exhibition, which no one should fail to witness. Among the principal features of the display will be the gorgeous music chariot, the most magnificent chair of the kind ever constructed. The immense train of cages, decorated with paintings, representing every description of beasts and birds. The monster tent, which is capable of accommodating six thousand people at once, will be located upon Second street, near the cotton factory. The manager will be open both afternoon and evening, when the public will have an opportunity of seeing the finest collection of beasts and birds in the country, as well as a variety of performances by the most celebrated animals, which cannot fail to excite the wonder and admiration of all.

PARADE BARRIERS.—The subject which now seems to be engrossing the public mind, next to the movements of the army before Richmond is Barnum's Baby Show at New York. Probably there never was such a caucus of infants, such a conglomeration of small sized fragments of humanity under one roof before, as that now on exhibition at the Museum. Babies of all ages and complexions greet the astonished eyes of the visitor, from the attenuated specimen which is but just visible to the naked eye, to the fat baby of wonderful proportions. Mothers who wish to keep up with the age in their knowledge of babies, gentlemen who have a taste for the curious, and young people whose interest in the subject of infants is both natural and commendable, will find a visit to the Baby show both instructive and amusing. A part of the premiums were awarded on Tuesday. Geo. Augustus Magrath, 4 years old, took the first premium of $100 as the finest child on exhibition. Chas. Staw, 10 months old, took the premium as the fattest child, and weighing but 1 lb. 7 oz., took the premium of $100. This is the last week of the exhibi-

CUMBERLAND VALLEY RAILROAD.—The Company are about laying a siding from the Harrisburg bridge to the head of the river grade, for the acceleration of business, which has increased so as to make this necessary.

STRAWBERRIES.—Mr. Eby will have a fine lot of strawberries at half past eight o'clock this evening, by the arrival of the Baltimore cars, and will offer them for sale at the Market house.

ANY INFORMATION of Margaret Sheehan and her whereabouts will be thankfully received by her father, Patrick, living in Barnett, Huntingdon county. When last seen she was at the depot in Washington taking a seat for Harrisburg.

A FINE MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.—Knoche, No. 98 Market street, has just disposed of one of the finest pianos we have ever seen. It is of Shomack & Co's celebrated manufacture, seven and a half octaves, made of carved rose wood, and of exceeding sweet tone. Knoche is the agent of this celebrated manufacture, and if any of our friends desire to invest in a piano, we recommend them to buy one of Shomack & Co's.

"BRANT'S HALL" is indeed one of the institutions of our growing city. To the liberal enterprise of the popular "Colonel" there seems to be no limit, and when he shall have completed the improvements now going up in the rear of the hall, the accommodations for even a fastidious patronage will be unequalled in our city for both style and substantial comfort. Not the least attractive feature of this establishment is the spacious and well furnished bar. This department is presided over by the superior genius of our friend Jefferson Snyder, late of the "Hay House," Major Power, Williamsport, Pa. We are informed by reliable friends, that he is great on a "fancy," from a "whiskey smash" through a "sherry cobbler," up to a blood red "strawberry julp." Long live the Colonel and his efficient assistants!

THE GRAND LODGE of the Independent Order of Good Templars meets in Columbia on Wednesday next. This excellent Order is gradually extending its influence in our State, and those at the helm deserve the highest commendation for the manner in which it has been managed. We trust that the Order will ever flourish, and that this Grand Lodge, which will contain representatives from every Lodge in the State, may be a pleasant and useful meeting. The following persons have been elected to represent the two Lodges of this city: Washington Lodge, No. 1, Wm. T. Bishop, Jr.; Advance Lodge, No. 39, Geo. H. Morgan.

The Right Grand Lodge of the United States and the Canadian convened at Detroit, Mich., last week. There were present delegates from every State in which the Order exists, excepting Maine and California. Jas. Black, Esq., of Lancaster, represented the G. L. of this State.

THE MARKET this morning favored buyers—this was particularly the case with butter. A few lucky sellers disposed of some at 18 cents per pound, but a little later too much was offered, and it went off at 12 and 14 cents. When the market was nearly over, some sold their remaining lot, the quality having been good, at 10 cents per pound. Vegetables were plenty and cheap, onions and radishes selling at 1 cent per bunch. A considerable quantity of home-grown strawberries were sold at 10@12 cents per quart. A few May cherries were offered, and commanded 12 cents per quart. Fish continue plentiful, but the warm weather operates adversely to sales. Forages are selling at 3@4 cents each. The time has arrived when vegetables and fruit will be brought to town in large quantities. Of small fruits the yield will be enormous, hence for all except the earliest varieties, prices will necessarily decline. So look out for cheap strawberries, blackberries and cherries.

CONFIRM ARROGANCY.—We cannot but admire endurance in anybody, if the subject be not a wicked one, and more than others do we pay homage to those who make their stomachs do penance that their backs and bodies may exult in adornments, decorations, &c. As long as such privations are confined to the stomachs of those who adorn themselves at their expense, we have nothing to say, and continue our admiration of these self imposed sufferers. But when others suffer, and have no corresponding compensation in the decorations of their backs, then we may put in our protest and denounce the selfishness. We were led to those remarks by an incident which occurred the other day, and which we are assured occurs frequently at a certain grocery store in our city. At half-past eleven o'clock, a lady stopped in the door; she wore one of the new styles of bonnets, worth at least ten dollars; she was attired in a costly silk robe, with three elaborate flounces; on her back she wore a lace shawl, which must have aggravated a husband's purse to the tune of twenty dollars at least; rich lace under- sleeves and bracelets completed the costume. Probably the value of the clothes, &c., exclusive of the human being in them, was about one hundred dollars.

She said, "have you any mackerel?" "Yes," replied the grocer. "How do you sell them?" "One shilling, returned the grocer. "Oh! haven't you any cheaper than that?" "Yes, ma'am, we have No. 2's, but they are not very good." "Oh! I don't care for that—do me up one, and be sure and send it home for me by twelve o'clock, so that it can be cooked (a salt mackerel) for dinner." The grocer promised, the lady had no money in her purse, and requested the grocer to charge it, which he did, and sent the mackerel a half a mile to her residence, in time we trust, to be cooked for dinner.

This is but a sample of daily occurrences, and we pity, deeply, the families of which such persons form parts. The same performance can be seen any day at all our groceries, varying from a salt ciscoette, and a pound of neck or shank beef up to half a pound of sugar and three ounces of tea.

DAMAGE TO THE UNION CANAL.—We learn by a private letter received to-day by Col. Hother Hage of this city, that the damage to the Union canal by the recent flood, is much more extensive than at first reported. Both of the reservoirs, the Swatara and Blue Lock acqueducts, and the embankment at many places, lock-houses and other property of the company have been totally demolished. Two families of lock tenders on the canal, and Mr. Henry Myers, grain merchant, at the water works near Lebanon, were drowned by the flood.
