Wednesday Morning, June 18, 1862.

THE REBEL PRISONERS.—We secured, with much trouble, a list of all the rebel prisoners now confined at Camp Curtin, but withhold its publication for prudential reasons. The authorities have positive assurance that a large number of them are deserters from the rebel army, and as many of them have families still residing in the south, and engaged in business, a publication of their names might be attended with very serious results.

We understand that a large number of the prisoners are ready to submit to the oath of allegiance, whenever orders to that effect are received from Washington.

The negro, with the party, is a slave, who belongs to a captured rebel officer, confined at same other point. The contraband is held as a prisoner here until further orders.

A foolish rumor prevailed last night, that a dozen or more of the prisoners had effected their escape from the camp. Such a result is not only impossible, but from the knowledge we have gained of their disposition, by our intercourse with them, we very much doubt if any of them would escape if even they had a chance.

SAD INCIDENTS.—Says the Easton Express: Two sisters who had barely escaped the flood with their lives, at Penn Haven, one having been pulled out of the water by the hair, came to Mauch Chunk yesterday afternoon on their way home. The father had just arrived in town to see if his daughters were safe, and finding that they were, he started for home. A short time after he was gone, the daughters got into a boat to cross the river, and while they were sitting in the boat a young man jumped in to cross with them, when the boat upset, and both of the girls were drowned. Their bodies were recovered in a few hours after, and by the time the father had reached home he received the news of the death of his daughters.

A woman was found drowned a short distance from Mauch Chunk, she had a child in her arms, also dead. The child was receiving nourishment from its parent when overtaken by the water, as its position upon the mother's breast when found proved. The complete history of the recent disastrous froth will never be written. Many a heart has been wrung by it, and many homes rendered desolate by its ravages.

DOUGH-FACE TAMPERING FOR THE ESCAPE OF THE REBEL PRISONERS AT CAMP CURTIN.—An offer is made in the Traveller. "We have always believed that there were those in this city whose sympathies ran to such a height that they could be induced to extend to the rebel cause any comfort in their power. We have always believed that there were in our midst, too, those whose prayers and hopes were centered in the traitor cause, but we never imagined that three men would venture so far as to plot the escape of rebels taken in battle, and sent north that they might feel the clemency as well as the rigor of the government. But such has actually been the case in relation to the prisoners at Camp Curtin. Developments have been made since yesterday, that certain of the dough-faces of this city have offered to afford any aid and facility to secure their success. These developments were made by some of the prisoners who do not desire to escape, and we have it on the authority of the Colonel and Lieutenant in command at Camp Curtin, that such developments were really held out to the prisoners.

We submit these facts to the loyal men of Harrisburg. When we have such wretches in our midst, a foe that plots for the escape of traitors taken in battle, we may well be watching for a more positive demonstration in favor of rebellion.

THE UNKNOWN.—We had presented to us, yesterday, a neatly printed photographic miniature of The Unknown, the Harrisburg correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Journal. It is full length, thus displaying the superb proportions of the man. Adopting the adaptation what the Great Bard put into the mouth of the rash and sensitive Danish Prince, we were forced to exclaim, while gazing at this picture:

See what a grace is seated on this brow;
 Hyperion curls, the front of Jove himself;
 An eye like Mars, to threaten and command;
 A station like the herald Mercury,
 Lighted on a Heaven kiug-slug-bill;
 A combination and a form, indeed,
 Where every God doth seem to set his seal,
 To give the world assurance of a man.

The Unknown, is, perhaps, personally, the best known man in the Keystone State. He has been identified with the legislation of Pennsylvania for the last twenty years, and in this particular, the force of his intellect and the effect of his capacity and energy, are spread through the laws which have given a stimulus to the enterprise of the Commonwealth, in a manner which must make his name immortal. In principle, he is a man—in motive, he is a patriot, and in action, a gentleman. His memory, with us, will outlast his miniature; because photographs, like pleasant dreams, are bound to fade and vanish before the light of time; but the recollection of one clever fellow (that's the title) outlives the vicissitudes of years, and becomes strengthened and increased as it grows older and more hallowed. Has The Unknown faith in our friendship? Let him only hedgecock one-tenth of that which we pledge to him, and the beauty in which the Commonwealth on paper before us is wreathed, will be increased and enhanced in attraction in the original.

Let every milk drinker join with us, then, in this glorious toast, and drain their palls, "to the health of Uncle Jacob."

IMPORTANT ORDER FROM THE WAR DEPARTMENT.—We have been requested to publish the following important order issued recently by the War Department:

GENERAL ORDERS,
 No. 61.
WAR DEPARTMENT,
 ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 Washington, June 7, 1862.

The great number of officers absent from their regiments without sufficient cause is a serious evil which calls for immediate correction. By paragraph 177, General Regulations, the power of commanding officers to grant leave of absence is limited to a "time of peace." In time of war leaves of absence will only be granted by the Secretary of War, except when the certificate of a medical officer shall show, beyond doubt, that a change of location "is necessary to save life, or prevent permanent disability." (Paragraph 186, General Regulations.) In such cases, the Commander of an Army, a Department, or District, may grant not exceeding twenty days. As the expiration of that time, if the officer be not able to travel, he must make application to the Adjutant General of the Army for an extension, accompanied by the certificate of a medical officer of the army, in the usual form, and that he is not able to travel. If it be not practicable to procure such a certificate, in consequence of their being no army physician in the place where the officer resides, the certificate of a citizen physician, attested by a civil magistrate, may be substituted. All officers of the Regulars and Volunteers, except those on parole, now absent from duty with leave, will be considered "absent without leave," (paragraph 182, General Regulations,) unless they are found at their posts within fifteen days from the date of this order, or are authorized by orders from the Adjutant General to be absent, which orders will in all cases be based on a certificate as above described, and must be exhibited to the paymaster before payment is made thereon.

All invalid and wounded officers who are able to travel, although their disability may not have been removed (paragraph 187, General Regulations) will repair, without delay, to the General Commanding the Camp of Instruction; those from the West to report to the commanding officer at Camp Chase, Ohio. At those points they will remain until able to proceed to their regiments, or until an examining board may decide adversely on their ability to return to duty within a reasonable time, and orders may be given by the President for their discharge. Their Excellencies the Governors of States are requested to make known this order, and to contribute to its execution, as may be in their power. Muster and recruiting officers are directed to do the same. Extra copies of this order will be furnished them for distribution. Failure to comply with the above regulations will be reported to the Adjutant General by Regimental Commanders.

By order of the Secretary of War,
 L. THOMAS,
 Adjutant General.

[Official]

PARTRIDGES.—Last fall a number of gentlemen of Williamsport formed themselves into an association for the preservation and propagation of partridges, and offered a reward of 20 cents for each pair furnished alive to them. Under this proposition they received about three hundred, which were carefully housed and fed during the winter. These were in spring set at large. It is hoped that any person who may encounter these birds, or any other of their kind, will permit them to go unmolested, and in case of a severe storm, afford them shelter, if he should seek it, as they probably will.

LYCOMING GAZETTE.
 We copy the above for the purpose of appealing to our farmers to be particularly careful that no injury shall be done to the partridges and other birds on their farms. To kill one of the former now is to destroy 20 to 50 in the fall, for they always brood not less than 20 and frequently repeat during a season. To kill a cock pheasant or partridge is as bad as to kill the hen, for she will not hatch without him, and he performs his full share in brooding. These birds are not only important to the farms, because they destroy inconceivable numbers of insects, but if cared for and cultivated would prove profitable for marketing at the proper season.

In importing trees from all parts of the world, the nurserymen are filling the land with almost every fruit-destroying insect known to civilized nations. As the woods are out away, the insects that inhabit them are driven to the farm, to multiply amazingly and to live upon whatever suits their natures. Birds of every species are the most effective guards against these, and if the farmer will allow careless gunners to destroy them, his grain and fruit must pay the penalty.

TRANSPORTATION FOR SOLDIERS.—It seems the item in last evening's Telegraph, with reference to transportation for volunteers was slightly incorrect. The following is a copy of the general order in relation to the matter.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
 ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 WASHINGTON, June 5, 1862.
General Orders,
 No. 69.

1. The Volunteer Recruiting Service, discontinued by General Orders, No. 3, of April 3, 1862, is hereby restored according to the principles laid down in "General Orders," No. 105, of 1861, and 8, of 1862. Invalid or disabled officers, necessarily absent from their regiments, will be detailed for this duty whenever they are able to perform it.

2. A large number of volunteers are absent from their regiments who are now fit for duty. To enable them to return, the Governors of States are authorized to give them certificates or passes, which will enable them to transportation to the station of the nearest U. S. Muster Officer or Quartermaster, who will pay the cost of transportation on such certificate or pass, and provide transportation for the soldier to his regiment or station.

3. All captains of companies are hereby required to report quarterly to the chief of ordnance the kind of arms in use by their companies, their opinion of the suitability of the arm, the general extent of service, and the number requiring repairs since the previous report.

4. The principle being recognized that medical officers should not be held as prisoners of war, it is hereby directed that all medical officers so held by the United States, shall be immediately and unconditionally discharged.

By order of the Secretary of War,
 L. THOMAS, Adjutant General.

A DAY THAT WILL BE REMEMBERED.—Events are crowding upon each other in rapid succession. All the surroundings seem to indicate the final conflict of arms at Richmond, so long expected, and now about to take place. The very air, the lowering and flying clouds, the heavy atmosphere, and frequent rains, tend to impress the mind with a deep and solemn awe. Amidst the roar of cannon and modern war, death-dealing engines of destruction, the Union troops will come out comparatively unharmed, with the glorious emblem of liberty floating over them. Amidst this general rejoicing, it will not be strange if you call at the cheap goods store of UNION & BOWMAN.

THE UNION PRISONER to be given at Heehlen's woods on Thursday next, promises to be the largest and gayest party of the season. Extensive arrangements have been made, and several large tents have been engaged, so that in case of rain the participants will have a place of refuge. Omnibuses will run every hour during the day from the Washington Hotel, corner of Sixth and Walnut streets.
