HARRISBURG, PA.

Thursday Morning, June 19, 1862.

WOODCOCK SHOOTING.—The season for shooting woodcock in this State commences on the 4th day of July next. Persons found killing them before that date are liable to pay a fine of five dollars.

MORE POCKET PICKING.—A passenger on the Northern Central Railway had his pocket relieved of a wallet containing some money, at the depot yesterday. Is there no way of having these "light fingered gentry" weeded out of the city?

SANFORD.—The gay and incomparable Sam, we see by our exchanges has organized a new Ethiopian Opera Troupe, and is doing a thriving business among the towns and cities in the States of New York and New Jersey. One of the attractions is a full brass band, which enraptures the people up handsomely to the patronage point. Sanford is a favorite in this city, and we hope to have him along here shortly.

THE PIC-NIC to be given at Haehlen's woods to-day (Thursday) by Mr. Sprucebanks, promises to be one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind we have had in this vicinity for a number of years. The beauty and gallantry of the city will be on hand in great numbers, and a good social time generally will prevail. Omnibuses are to run every hour during the day from the Washington Hotel, corner of Sixth and Walnut streets. No improper characters will be permitted to remain on the grounds.

FIREWORKS—Caution.—The attention of our citizens is directed to the following city ordinance:

Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the Common Council of the City of Harrisburg, That if any person or persons, except on military occasions, shall fire off any gun, pistol or fire arm, or shall at any time sell, or cause to be sold, or shall fire off any squib, cracker or annoyance in the nature of a squib or cracker, within the limits of the said city, he, she or they, upon conviction thereof before the Mayor or any Alderman thereof, shall forfeit and pay for each offence the sum of one dollar, for the use of the city. Provided, That this section shall not be construed so as to prevent or prohibit the sale or casting, throwing or firing squibs, rockets or other fireworks on the 3d and 4th days of July of each and every year, (Sundays excepted.)

FOUND DROWNED.—On the 13th inst., the body of an unknown young man, supposed to have been from twelve to sixteen years of age, was found on a rock in the Susquehanna river, just above Sour's ferry, in Manor township. Deceased was about five feet in height, stout built, had Auburn hair, very short, and was entirely nude and considerably bruised, and may have been in the water from five to ten days. An inquest was held by A. R. Witmer, Justice of the Peace; and after a post-mortem examination by Dr. H. S. Mellinger, the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning. Lancaster Express of yesterday.

We publish the above under the belief that the body is that of the boy Wennels drowned, while swimming at one of the piers of the bridge in this city, about two weeks since. The fact can be definitely ascertained by writing to the coroner of Lancaster county.

NEW USE FOR COAL OIL.—Coal oil is said to be a sure destroyer of bed-bugs. Apply plentifully with a small brush or feather, to the places where they most congregate. The cure is of a permanent and permanent. Gilt frames, chandeliers, &c., rubbed slightly with coal oil, will not be disturbed by flies. Exchange.

The editor of the Easton Argus says on reading the above the idea struck him that if coal oil was good for bed bugs, it would be equally efficacious for roaches or "varmints" that many house keepers are more or less troubled with and heartily detest. He accordingly applied some of the oil with a stiff feather to the cracks and holes the roaches were in the habit of visiting in his kitchen, and it drove them away—the smell of the oil being so offensive to them that they immediately sought other quarters. He also applied a few drops of oil to the heads of several live roaches, and in a second they laid over and "gave up the ghost forever." We publish his experience for the benefit of such of our readers as may have the misfortune to own a colony of these troublesome insects. The remedy don't cost much, and is worth a trial at all events.

ACCIDENT AT THE MARKET ON WEDNESDAY.—A young woman met with an accident in the upper market house on Wednesday, which came near resulting in the loss of one of her hands. There are several reports in circulation with reference to the affair, some of which reflect very severely upon a certain butcher, who is charged with having purposely committed the deed. In fact, so well attested did some of the reports of this character seem to us, that we were at first convinced of their truth, and had made up our mind to speak very plainly on the subject, when we fortunately encountered a gentleman of reliability who witnessed the whole transaction, and who made no hesitancy in declaring that the unfortunate affair was the result of pure accident. His statement was, in effect, that the girl while waiting to be served at the stall of Mr. Walters had set her basket on the meat block of another butcher, whose stall is adjoining. While there, the last named butcher had occasion to use the block for the purpose of cutting a roast of mutton which our informant had purchased, in doing which the lid of the woman's basket became displaced by the concussion, and in attempting to replace it, her hand unfortunately got under the descending cleaver, and received the wound, which is of the most frightful character. Our informant quickly stannched the flow of blood, by binding up her hand with a handkerchief, after which she left the market for the purpose of proceeding to some physician to have the wound dressed, and he has not heard of her since.

PROPOSED RE-OPENING OF THE "GROTTA."—Some parties in yesterday's Philadelphia Ledger advertise for performers for the "Gaiety Music Hall," Harrisburg.

CAPT. M'CALLUM, of Dickinson township, Cumberland county, was killed at Tompkinsville, Ky., on the 6th inst., in a conflict with the rebels. He belonged to the 9th regiment of Pennsylvania cavalry.

THE "OLD SOLDIERS" AND THE FOURTH.—The old soldiers—the scattered veterans of the war of 1812—held a meeting last Saturday evening, and resolved to celebrate the approaching anniversary of the natal day of Freedom, by a dinner on Independence Island.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire about twelve o'clock Wednesday night was occasioned by the burning of the remains of the old frame school house on Broad street, 6th ward. The fire was put out by the Good Will Button Engine. It was evidently the work of an incendiary.

RELEASED.—By a recent order from the War Department, published in yesterday's Telegraph, by which medical officers are not regarded as prisoners of war, a surgeon in the rebel army, among the prisoners in custody at Camp Curtin, was yesterday unconditionally released by Capt. Dodge.

JUDGE PARSON IN LUZERNE COUNTY.—The last number of the Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county Record of the Times, contains the following:

During next week Judge Pearson will hold a special court here to try causes which Judge Conyngham cannot hear. The following week, the business being disposed of, the court, according to custom, will go to travelling. We understand the distinguished Judge displays ability in the creek, as well as on the bench.

LIQUORS.—Section 5 of an act amendatory of the license laws of this State passed in 1862, reads as follows:

"That it shall be the duty of every city or county treasurer to sue for the recovery of all licenses duly returned to him by the mercantile appraisers, in each and every year, within ten days after that date, and said treasurer shall not be discharged from any such license, unless he brings suit to recover the same within said date, and presses the same to judgment and execution as soon thereafter as practicable."

SHALL WE CELEBRATE?—We notice that in most other cities preparations are being made to celebrate the coming anniversary of our National Independence. It seems to us that we should this year, of all others, in consideration of the brilliant victories attending our arms, and the gratifying prospect of a speedy suppression of the rebellion, feel especially grateful and joyous. Do not, then, let the day pass without a celebration of some kind.

DEAD SOLDIERS.—A few days ago the bodies of five soldiers killed at the battle of Fair Oaks passed through this city, on their way to the homes of the deceased. It has become so common to see the coffin in the cars, that it excites little attention. Poor fellows—they have fought their last battle.

"Oh abroad them in the flag of stars
Beneath whose folds they won their scars
Through which their spirits fled,
From glory here, to glory where
The banner blue in fields of air,
Is bright with stars forever there
Without a streak of red."

PAY OF RETURNED VOLUNTEERS AND PRISONERS.—Important Notice.—We previously announced the arrival in this city of Major Lyon, United States Paymaster. The Major comes here under a special order from the War Department for the purpose of paying all the Pennsylvania volunteers, who have been discharged by reason of disability, as well as those who have been held as prisoners in the South. There are a large number of both these classes scattered throughout the State, who will find this an admirable arrangement for the hasty settlement of their claims against the government. Major Lyon will remain in this city for several weeks, where he can be addressed in all matters concerning his mission here. As a matter of information to the volunteers interested in the matter, all the papers throughout the State are requested to notice. Letters should be addressed Major A. N. D. Lyon, U. S. A., United States Hotel, Harrisburg, Penn'a.

SWARNING RAILROAD EMPLOYEES.—To insure the transit of Federal troops, government supplies, and the persons and property of loyal citizens over the Baltimore and Ohio and North-western Virginia railroads, from loss or damage or danger arising from the action of disloyal employees, if any such there be, operating on the said roads, Gen. Kelly has issued an order directing all officers, agents, clerks, conductors and other employees of said railroad companies and the agents, clerks and other employees of Adams' Express company, or any other Express company, within the limit of his district, to take and subscribe respectively, before competent authority, to a stringent oath of allegiance prepared for the occasion. The work of swearing the employees commenced on Monday, and thus far it is believed that all have taken the oath without hesitation.

EXCURSION UP CUMBERLAND VALLEY.—We learn that a few days ago Col. Thomas A. Scott, President pro tem of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Messrs. Bodine, Morris and Bacon, directors of the same company, left Philadelphia in that elegant car known as the "Director's Car," which has its distinct compartments, dining, sleeping and sitting rooms elegantly furnished with its stewards, attendants, &c., for Hagerstown, Md. They by invitation were accompanied by Hon. F. Watts, president of the Cumberland Valley Railroad company, and some of its directors, and A. J. Jones, Esq., president of the Franklin Railroad company. They occupied the sleeping departments at Hagerstown, and breakfasted on the cars. They were attached to a special locomotive, and made their own time. They were uncommonly pleased with their visit and the rich promise of an abundant harvest in season. On their return they spent an hour in dining with Judge Watts in Carlisle, where the entertainment was of the first order and very abundant, from which place the car reached Harrisburg, and thence Philadelphia.
