A. K. McCLURE, Chairman People's State Committee. GEO. W. HAMMERSLY, Secretaries John M. Sullivan,

HARRISBURG, PA. Friday Atternoon, June 27, 1862,

Iscanior had a right (?) to betray the Saviour if he insisted on the liberty of speech to which the Patriot lays claim this morning. We all have a right to differ and cavil and object, but is it discreet or patriotic to exercise such a right, when the example thus set may lead others into wider extremes tending in the most serious danger to the country. It is thus with those who are attempting to misdirect the public mind on the subject of taxation. They take the fact that enormous sums of money have been spent in preparing to put down rebellion. and make that an argument to prove the extravagance of the Liccoln administration. They do not state, however, that more than one-half of the sum expended by the government in thusecuring its own protection, was made neces sary by the fact that, under a Democratic ad ministration the resources and the property of the country were shaniefully squandered or destroyed for the very purpose of giving force to treason. If a Democratic administration had not countenanced the dismantling of forts and the robbing of arrenals, traitors would never have been able to organize an armed corporal's guard. If the cabinet of James Buchanan had not countenanced and conducted the larcenies by which the government was thus deprived of bellion would not have exceeded that which was necessary to defray the cost of recruiting and subsisting an army. But we all know that the rebel army is now fighting the government with arms which were placed at the disposal of south by a Democratic adminis while the men themselves, who composed that administration, are all in the ranks or the command of that same rebel force. With these facts before the country, such journals as the far as taxation was concerned, would become student for the manner in which he had preone of the most sacred duties of the American people. Of course such boldness of editorial effort, comes under the head and was justified by the great right of the liberty of speech; but as yet we have heard of only one man willing to lay down his arms, and he is determined to get all the pay possible for services which he never rendered. There is nothing wrong about over paying the failures of an ambitious Lieutenant Colonel but it is most before the failure of this time-tonored institution. tenant-Colonel, but it is most outrageous to think of remunerating any number of tax collectors. This, joined to the Patriot's notions on the subject of the freedom of speech-the freedom which permits that sheet and its upholders to belie the administration for the purpose of retarding the operations of the army, and inducing the masses to repudiate the taxation which Democratic misrule and treason made it with it. The straggling and conflicting managethe presumption, that the Patriot and its editors are as much imbued with treason as are its old southern allies who are now engaged in cutting the throats and rifling the pockets of the wounded defenders of the Union.
