

Daily Telegraph

HARRISBURG, PA. Friday Afternoon, June 27, 1862.

In Town.—The friends of Capt. Wm. E. See, of the famous Pennsylvania Eleventh will regret to learn that he is at present lying at his residence in this city, suffering by severe illness.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS advertise a lot of old lumber, the wrecks of Swatara bridges, lately swept away by the flood, together with a lot of old iron. Sale to take place on Tuesday, the 1st of July next.

It was Christian Mums, and not Isaac, in whose family, residing near Middletown, three children lately died of scarlet fever, noticed in last evening's Telegraph. We have since learned that another one of his children has died, and that he is also lying very low of the same disease.

ADVANCE IN TOBACCO AND CIGARS.—It is stated that the tariff and tax bills have already caused a material advance in the prices of tobacco and cigars among the wholesale dealers in Washington. Tobacco which was last week selling at forty cents per pound now commands sixty cents, and some brands of cigars have advanced from three dollars to five dollars per thousand.

DECORATIONS.—The individuals who have charge of the hall of the House of Representatives, imbued with a commendable spirit of patriotism, as well as good taste, have relieved the sombre appearance which that chamber usually wears during the recess, by decorating various parts of the Speaker's platform with red, white and blue colored gauze and silk ribbons, together with a number of small American flags, the whole forming a very pretty combination, and adding much to the appearance of things generally.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.—Veto Message of the Mayor.—The City Council held a meeting last night to consider a message from the Mayor, returning to that body, with his objections, an "Ordinance in relation to public sewers." The ground taken by the Mayor in his objections, is that the passage of the ordinance will add additional expenses to the government of the city. The Council, however, seemed to take a different view of the matter, and passed the ordinance notwithstanding the veto. The ordinance will be found in the advertising columns of this evening's Telegraph.

SANFORD'S.—The Napoleon of Opera Managers will open in his Opera House in this city to-morrow night, with a sterling troupe, including the old Harrisburg favorite, Harry Lehr, formerly of Kunkle's Serenaders, whose ludicrous style of acting needs only to be seen to be appreciated. Besides Harry, there are a number of other first class performers, mostly new faces, who shine in the upper gallery of Ethiopian stars. These attractions, with the full brass band, will create a sensation, and make things lively at the Opera House to-morrow night.

OUR SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.—An intelligent contemporary makes a suggestion in reference to a mode of raising a collection in aid of our sick and wounded soldiers, which strikes us as feasible, and worthy of trial in this city. It suggests that boxes be placed in the P. at Offices, Hotels, Saloons and other places about town, into which contributions be deposited, to be given to a committee of ladies and gentlemen for the purchase of such articles as they think will be needed the most by our soldiers. If any one can think of a better plan to raise money we should be pleased to hear from them. Let us do something on Independence Day, to let them know that, although on that day we rejoiced, we were not unmindful of the brave men who languish in our hospitals. Harrisburg has already done much for the soldiers. Let us continue in the good work.

THE CROPS in this region promise to be abundant and superior. From what we can learn, the grain crops will be immense. Wheat never looked better, at this season, and the corn in the ground certainly never presented a more promising appearance than at present; there are promises of an excellent harvest throughout the North and West, and the yield will be as abundant as that of last year, if storms and droughts do not interpose. From the Gulf States we learn that the wheat fields are pretty generally blighted. This appears to be the case in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, and the probability is that the Cotton States, so far from having abundant crops of grain this year, are likely enough to be ravaged by a famine, more or less severe, according to the proximity of places to the rebel camps. As the Border States will hardly be able to supply their own wants, an immense demand for produce from the North-west must spring up everywhere in the South, as the tide of war recedes towards the Gulf.

AFFAIRS AT THE "UPPER END."—Our country cousins at the upper end of this county expect to have a lively time on the approaching Anniversary of American Independence. A grand demonstration is to come off at Gratztown, and we learn by the Lykens Journal that times will also be "numerous" in that picturesque village on the occasion. The United American Mechanics of the latter place will have a parade, and several of the Sunday Schools have picnics. The Odd Fellows, propose an excursion to Gratztown, and an effort is making to have a display of fireworks in the evening.

The Lykens Journal also gives us the following additional items of intelligence respecting affairs in that neighborhood: The contractors on the Buchleron tunnel will commence work early next month. Part of their tools, &c., are already here. The water has at length been got out of the Lykens Valley Company's Slopes. The large extent of fall in crops to these mines makes every heavy storm of rain, a serious and expensive matter. We understand that Mr. Thomas will make a handsome advance in the wages of the miners and laborers of this region, the first of next month.

ACCEPTED THE INVITATION.—The members of the Mount Vernon Hook and Ladder company have accepted the invitation of the First City Zouaves to participate in the 4th of July celebration.

THE COMMITTEE of arrangements of the First City Zouaves will meet at their army this evening at a quarter of seven precisely. All fire companies who have not reported upon the invitation received to parade with the company on the 4th, will please hand in their reports this evening at that hour. By order of the committee.

THE FORTY-SIXTH PENNSYLVANIA.—The Forty Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment under the command of our gallant townsman, Col. Joseph F. Knipe is now at Front Royal. Its officers and men are in good health and spirits and eager for a fight with the enemy. We predict that it will distinguish itself as much, if not more than before.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Swager, a lady of about seventy-seven years of age, residing on Front street, above Mulberry, met with an accident this forenoon which may result in her death. In the attempt to burn some caterpillar webs of a tree in her yard, her clothes caught fire and were mostly burnt on her body. Her cries attracted the attention of some of her neighbors, who ran to her rescue and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, not, however until the old lady was so badly burned that life is despaired of.

PENNSYLVANIANS RELEASED.—Among the prisoners released by the Rebels upon parole, recently in the Shenandoah Valley, were the following:

Eighty-fourth Pennsylvania.—Jacob Barr, Co. G, James W. Kelly, Co. E. Forty-sixth Pennsylvania.—Jacob Myers, Co. C, Patrick Golden, Co. K, Thomas M. Linebaugh, Co. H, Lester Stone, Co. G, Edward Bradshaw, Co. G, D. S. Pifer, Co. K. Twenty-ninth Pennsylvania.—J. D. Rea, Co. C, Theodore D. Bow, Co. I, Samuel W. Gaylord, Co. H, Robert G. Wilson, Co. D. One hundred and tenth Pennsylvania.—A. J. Henderson, Co. B, Martin Wirtz, Co. A, James Hicks, Co. D, Dixon Ramsey, Co. B.

THAT "CONTRABAND."—Our readers will recollect the "contraband," who was confined with the rebel prisoners at Camp Curtin near this city last week. It seems that his former master was among the additional squad of prisoners that arrived here last Wednesday, and that when the cars which conveyed the rebels to Philadelphia en route to Fort Delaware, arrived at Washington street, in that city, the "contraband" proceeded to whip him in true artistic style. He gave as a reason that his master had been flogging him for ten years and that now it was his turn. He was allowed to have his own way till the owner was well nigh exhausted when he was removed and left with some companions of his own color, while the coward Tiger was shipped for Fort Delaware. We learned, also, that an indignant female offered to thrash any one of the prisoners who desired it at her hands in revenge for the death of her son.

EXTRAORDINARY AND PAINFUL MISTAKE.—The night of the 3d of June, says the Lewistown True Democrat, will be remembered as having been pitch dark, with rain falling in torrents. That night the Express train east brought Mrs. Vanormer and daughter, (the latter an invalid aged about eighteen years,) on their way from one of the western counties to visit friends in Juniata county. When the train stopped at Lewistown station, about midnight, Mrs. V. inquired of the conductor how soon she would reach Patterson, as she desired to stop at that point. The reply was, "The next time that our stop will be at Patterson, and as we are behind time I would like you to get out as quickly as possible, after they stop. I will attend to your baggage, madam." On the train sped, but when only five miles below this place, in the very depth of the long Narrows, the whistle sounded and the train stopped.—Mrs. V. and daughter, agreeable to directions, got off "as quickly as possible," and had scarcely done so, when they, as well as a passenger who had kindly assisted them out, discovered that this was not Patterson; but the discovery was too late, for in another second the train was off. Few can imagine, and it were impossible to describe, the feelings of the two ladies at this juncture. Mrs. V. knew she was in the middle of the Long Narrows.—Throw all the darkness and rain she could see the river below her on one side, the steep and craggy mountain on the other, and nothing but a double track railroad under her feet—not even room enough on either side to avoid a train if one should come along. The daughter, an invalid, screamed with terror, and was with difficulty pacified by the mother. After vainly trying to find a shelter, it was determined to walk to Patterson, though neither party knew how far that place might be. At this moment a light was discovered, and believing it to be the front of an approaching train, new fears burst upon the already horror stricken ladies. Another effort was made to get outside the track, but no room was found upon either side. It was then determined, as the only alternative, not knowing upon which of the tracks the train might come, to stand as nearly as possible between the two. But fortunately no train came; but instead the light proved to be in the hands of a watchman. The ladies called, and he came. The nearest house was two miles off—that of Robert Shaw, three miles below this place. After an exhausting walk along the railroad, this house was reached, and the ladies there received every attention that kindness could dictate. Next day they were taken to Patterson, and thence they reached their destination in safety, but they will never forget the fearful adventures of the night of the 3d of June.

Whether anybody is to blame in this affair, we are not prepared to say. The conductor when he advised Mrs. V. to get out "the next time the train stops," of course had no idea that he would be obliged to stop this side of Patterson, and when he did stop, the thought that the ladies might get out in such a place probably did not once occur to him. But why the gentleman who assisted the ladies off, and knew they had made a mistake, did not immediately inform the conductor of the fact, is a mystery to us.

A SPECIAL meeting of the Paxton Hose company will be held at their room this evening (Friday), for the purpose of participating in the parade on the Fourth of July.

THE MEMBERS of the BASE BALL CLUB are hereby requested to meet at the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot at 8 o'clock this (Friday) evening, June 17, 1862, for the purpose of organizing.

ADAM HOFFMAN, a graduate of DuRoi Mercantile College, Pittsburg, is desirous of forming a class in Double Entry Book keeping. He can be seen at his residence, Walnut street, near Fourth 16

A CARD.—At a meeting of the Citizens Fire Engine and Hose Company, held last evening, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the invitation just read, from the First City Zouaves, inviting us to join with them in celebrating the Fourth of July, be accepted, and that they be notified that the company recede that we cannot participate for reasons beyond the control of the company.

A SILK VELVET MANUFACTORY in CHESTER Co.—Few of our citizens are aware, says the Record, that we have had in Chester county, an establishment at which the finest silk velvet is manufactured, of every style and pattern. A specimen of the goods was exhibited at the Horticultural Exhibition in West Chester last week. They rival the best imported articles, and are made at prices which command the market.—The factory is on the Valley Creek, four or five miles north-west of West Chester, known as "Baldwin's Factory." Mr. John Brooke is the proprietor. He sells his goods in New York, where we have no doubt they are sold to Philadelphia and thence to Chester county.—Mr Brooke is a practical workman, and has established among us one of the best velvet factories in America.

SOME STRANGE things will be elicited by the present rebellion. The Indiana American says that one day last week, the parents and friends of a young man in East Westfield township, Indiana county, were startled at the reception of a letter from a son who had been absent for some four years and upwards, during which time the parents had entirely lost sight of the whereabouts of their son, and did not know whether he was living. The letter, however, gave the information of his whereabouts. He was then lying in Harrisburg, a prisoner, captured by Gen. Fremont's men in Virginia. He says he enlisted in a Louisiana regiment, to avoid being drafted, and wishes his friends to secure his discharge. He also says that with him are quite a number of young men who have went from the north and are now in a similar situation. He is the son of Patrick Smith.

DISINFECTING AGENTS.—As the warm weather approaches, our citizens should thoroughly cleanse their premises, rendering them as pure and healthy as possible. There are a number of disinfecting agents which will be found efficacious in removing offensive smells from the damp, mouldy cellars, yards, pools of stagnant water, decaying vegetable matter, &c. Either of the following will answer the purpose, while they cost but a trifle.

1. One pint of the liquor of chloride of zinc, in one pailful of water and one pound of chloride of lime in another pailful of water. This is, perhaps, the most effective of anything that can be used, and when thrown upon decaying vegetable matter of any description, will effectually destroy all offensive odors. 2. Three-fourths of a pound of sulphate of iron, (copperas) dissolved in a pailful of water, will in many cases be sufficient to remove all offensive odors. 3. Chloride of lime is better to scatter about places, in yards, in damp cellars, and upon heaps of filth.

A MODEL ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of prosperity and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Ely & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city.

The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock challenges competition.—Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted,) and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase or not.

COL. WM. F. SMALL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of taking by the hand Col. Wm. F. Small. The Colonel was wounded in the leg, (we think at Winchester), and has suffered severely for the last six weeks, but is now slowly recovering, and expects to be at the head of his command soon. He has our best wishes, and in speaking of Col. Wm. F. Small, we associate his military services in Mexico, his gallant bearing at Baltimore, and his qualities as a soldier and gentleman—while the humble dry goods firm of Ulrich & Bowman continue to sell cheap at the south east corner of Front and Market streets.

$5000 DOLLARS WORTH of New Goods!—400 pair of mits direct from auction, at 25, 37, 50, 62 and 75 cts.; 1000 Ladies' white collars, at 10, 20, 30, up to 75 cts.
