GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.—The health of our city is rapidly improving, the disease which excited so much apprehension in our midst for the last few months having dwindled down to very few cases:*

Jones seems to have played his last card this morning in the columns of the Patriot and Union, but it was not of those which he is in the habit of playing in a certain lager beer saloon, on the corner of a certain alley, when the opportunity of visiting that den of iniquity, as he supposes, unobserved. When will he ask us to explain?

M. C. MERCUR, Esq , of Towarda, visited our sanctum this morning. Mr. Mercur is among public interests and further the general welfare in the present great crisis. He informs us gion is unabated, and that the enrolment of this evening men to fill up Pennsylvania quotas in the offer of troops by the loyal Governors, is being pushed forward with great success.

WE agree with an intelligent cotemporary that to criticise the operations of Generals in the field and in the face of the enemy has become fashionable, and of late many heated discussions have taken place as to the relative merits of certain high officers, the advocates of each being stimulated in their appreciation of their favorite by his being on the same side in politics. The government wants more men, and if some of these criticising gentlemen possess the military qualifications which their language in condemning certain Generals would indicate, let them buckle on their swords, raise brigades is opened a draft of air will be always passing or regiments, take the field, and prosecute the war as, in their judgment, it should be prosecuted.

The Journal of Lyke says: "The 'Mechanics' paraded in full force, corting the Lutheran Sunday-school to their pic-nic grounds, where a very pl assatt day was agreeably spent. An able oration was delivered to the 'Mechanics' by Mr. Wm. Straub, and Mr. Jas. L. Yoder read the Declaration of Independence with good enect. The Old Fellows enjoyed their trip to Gratz highly, where A. Herr, Esq., delivered a fine address to them. In town H. Bueck's dancing platform was thronged with trippers on the light fantastic toe,' not only all day and evening, but also Saturday and Saturday evening. John Hain made the neighborhood of the 'Continental' merry with his 'fing horses,' where, as elsewhere during the day, Adam Robinson made numerous addresses. Dancing was in order at all the hotels in the evening. Wonderful to relate, there was no fighting to speak of."

Col. Simmons.-Mr. William Garrett, grocer, corner of State and Second streets, and sutler of the Fifth Pennsylvania Reserve, arrived in town last evening, direct from the army of or, if married, motherless. No young wife the Potomac. He was present at the first and with "six small children" ever wore spectasecond day's fight with the rebels in front of cles. They go a good deal into company, Richmond, of which he gives a very graphic and interesting account. Mr. Garret brought with him two horses belonging to Gol. Simmons, but can give no intelligence respecting the fate of that gallant officer further than that he was seen to fall from his horse wounded on one of the two last days of the battle, and was carried to one of the hospitals where he most probably fell into the hands of the rebels. There is reason to believe, therefore, that he is yet living.

Mr. Garrett fortunately lost none of his stores during the retreat of the right wing of our army to the James River, and will return shortly to the seat of war. Col. Simmons' horses are for the present quartered in Colder's stables, River alley, and attract many visitors. One of them is a full blooded animal purchased in Kentucky at a cost of $250, and made a present

NOVEL IDEA. - The American Tract Society of Boston have adopted a novel way of putting Scripture truth before the wounded and sick soldiers. A large number of handkerchiefs having been sent to the Tract House, they have caused to be printed upon them such texts as the following: "Come unto me all ye that lathe quiet and peace of the Sabbath affords him bor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

> NUMERICAL RATIO OF COMMON NAMES.-What the numerical ratio of the most common names is to each other and to the whole lot has never been settled in this country. English statistics, however, are more complete, and give the following facts: Of the entire population, they have one Smith in 73; one Jones in 76; one Williams in a 117; one Taylor 148; one Davy in 162; one Brown 174. If Brown don't like that, we can inform him that his initial B. commences more names than any other letter in the alphabet.

> BEAUTY has three stages—the coy, the dignified and the intellectual. The first exists until about twenty, the second until twenty-five, and the last until beauty has made itself wings and flown away. It is in this last stage that women wear spectacles. The symptoms of spectacles begin at an early age. The young Miss has a of aspect at variance from her years. They never seem young; there is a freshness of heart in them: they become women faster than women; they are remarkable for thin lips. sharp noses, and white, artificial teeth. They are walking strictures upon human life-bleak visions of philosophy in petticoats-daughters not it would seem of love, but of Fellows o the Royal Society! They are fond of phrenology and meetings of scientific associations.-They like a good pew in church, and write

The moment spectacles be come really useful they are abandoned; it is the harmonious combination of youth and short-sightedness which gives beauty to the guise. Intense interest is expected to be felt tucky at a cost of $250, and made a present towards her who, still young and lovely, abanto the Colonel by the men of his regiment.

Since writing the above account, we have cluded pleasures of intellect. This is the point received by Lieutenant Bogle, of Milton, Pa., the most cheering news of the safety of Colonel Simpson and Contain Conta towards her who, still young and lovely, abanquettes, prudes and a host of other orders into and as we have a buyer in New York, who buys which the sex are classified, have their failings, but they, at least, are women; while the "lady goods at city prices.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire about 6 o'clock last evening, was occasioned by the burning of a bed at the residence of Mr. Frailey, corner of State and Sixth streets, set on fire, it is said by by the careless use of matches in the hands of children. The fire apperatus were in motion but the flames were extinguished before they were put in service. There was no damage done to the building.

Box RAN OVER .- During the alarm of fire last evening, a son of Mr. Thomas Berry residing in Liberty street, west of Second, while crossing Third street, above Walnut, was ran over by an approaching wagon drawn by two horses, and had one of his jaws broken, besides receiving some internal injuries, the nature of he received prompt medical attention and is now doing well.

FAST DRIVING .- Not withstanding the numer ous instances of parties being arrested and fined by the Mayor for fast and reckless driving in our streets, there are still a number of the hoys, owners of fast nags, who continue to indulge in the reprehensible practice, apparently regardless of all consequences. There is one individual, in particular, a business man in Market Square, who seems to be particularly fond of driving a fast team, and never fails to whip his animal up to the required scratch when on the road, to the great prejudice of the lives and limbs of unwary predestrians. He should be looked after.

HARVEST Home -During the latter part of July 1861, the Farmers of Dauphin county, in connection with a number of the citizens of Middletown and Harrisburg, held a grand "Harvest Home" pic-nic, at Derry Church. It was then resolved, that the next annual celebration be held in Fisher's woods at Middletown. There is not a more pleasant place to be found for holding a celebration of this it can, must necessarily depend upon private enterprise for assistance. We are sure that nothing more is necessary than simply to make but when almost every family in it has some elative or friend lying sick or are sure they will at once respond liberally to the petition of the sick and suffering. If each township would form a committee to go among their neighbors, large supplies could speedily be sent. Quite a variety of necessaries, in the way of hospital clothing, pillows, sheets &c., together with delicacies, are wanted, so that there is scarcely any one who cannot furnish something, even though he is not prepared to primness, a staidness and a miniature severity give money. We hope an effort will be made at once, and that it be not neglected. Let every one feel that he is personally interested, and not depend on some one who way be supposed other girls, and become old faster than other to have more interest or be better suited in time or circumstances to attend to it.

> A Model Establishment -Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of pros perity and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that
