HARRISBURG, PA. Saturday Afternoon, July 12, 1862.

CAPT. McCONREY, of General McCall's staff. arrived here at noon to day, on his way home. The Captain participated in the recent bloody battles near Richmond, and received several se-

COMFORTS FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.—Amongst the articles needed by our sick and wounded soldiers in the various military hospitals, none would be more acceptable than properly prepared elastic pads or cushions, designed to relieve pressure on sores or wounded surfaces .-For this purpose wool, of any quality, it is said, is the best substance.

THE ADMIRERS of Terpischore should not forget the benefit of M'lle Leonetta, at Sanford's Opera House this evening. M'lle Leonetetry" hereabouts, and if beautiful goses, agility and skillful dancing may give title to that distinction, it has not in this case been misapplied, for she possesses all these attractions in a remarkable degree.

one of the acknowledged institutions of Middletown, and commands an extensive patron age. The shelves of the establishment contain esteem it a pleasure to make purchases there.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.—The Repubiican State Convention meets in this city on 17th of the present mouth for the purpose of putting candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General in nomination. The Convention promises to be very largely attended, and will attract a large number from the State besides thes regular delegation. We presume the Pennsylvania railroad will issue excursion tickets for the occasion, in which event the attendance will be large beyond precedent.

TAKEN TO FORT DELAWARE.—The rebel guerrillas brought to this city last Saturday, from the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, have been taken to Fort Delaware. Among the men was a young man named Louis Cook, a son of Stephen Cook, a former citizen of Carlisle, who removed to Kentucky about 2 years ago. Cook Senior, when here, was a violent Breckenridge Democrat and sympathizer with Southern treason. The son was not old enough then to have any decided opinions, but the germ had been implanted in him, and only waited an oppor tunity for developement.

· IMPORTANT ORDER-The recruiting Service.-By an order of Capt. Dodge, U. S. A., Superintendent of Recruiting Service in Pennsylvania, is sued this morning, persons raising recruits dated July 11, in our telegraphic columns. under "Order No. 28, Headquarters, State of Pennsylvania," will not send small squads to to the Recruiting Depot in this city; but will keep their men together until the number proposed to be raised is complete, or until the twenty days for which subsistence will be paid, adelphia. has nearly elapsed.

The above conditions being fulfilled, the efficer will make his application for transportation directly to Capt. Dodge, in this city, in every case sending with such application the certificate of the prothonotary of the county, or where that cannot be obtained, of the nearest Postmaster, that the person applying for transpor tation is trustworthy, and has actually enrolled the number of men for which transportation is applied.

SCARGITY OF SILVER .- Small silver change continues to be very scarce hereabouts, and where it is all gone to we cannot say. A year ago Spanish quarters were taboed. They were a drug at twenty cents valuation, and some of the storekeepers actually refused to take them. These Spanish quarters are now avenged. Instead of being snubbed they are treated with serious consideration. So far from being at discount they are at a premium. Four of them are better than the best dollar bill we can name. Taking advantage of this state of things, the "bar-room setters" are exulting in free drinks. With a dollar note they can traverse the town, getting an imbibition at every bar-room, free of charge. "Pay next time" is the word; "we have no change," and the dollar bill therefore becomes a magician's wand, that conjures up gratuitous drinks at every corner. So great is the temporary scarcity of small change that even nickel cents are at a premium. How long this state of things is going to continue, remains for time to deter-

THE ANDERSON TROOP.—A correspondent writing from this celebrated troop under date of June 21st says: We are still lingering on the banks of the Tennessee as if loth to leave it .-There are several reasons for our lingering here, one of which is that the means for transporting troops, &c., across the river are very slender. It has to be done by ferryboats. Another and more weighty reason is that the river is too low to admit of the shipment of supplies to this point sufficient for our army to draw from for our march to another point where supplies can be had. It is difficult for even light draught boats to come up the shoals between this point and Eastport. They load only about fitteen tons. The railroad was opened a few days since from Corinth to Tuscumbia, and the intention was to ship supplies by rail-hauling six miles from Eastport to Inka by wagonsbut a few nights ago some rebel vandals (in citizens dress no doubt) tore up some track and zerne county. threw the engine and cars off, disabling the engine considerably.

The health of the company is good.

One of the amusements of the 4th, in New York, was a display of fireworks in front of the Institution for the Blind. It was a big thing for the inmates of the Institution, but they couldn't see it."

IRISH UNIONISTS.—The gallant exploits of the Irish officers and regiments in the American war are eagerly copied by the papers in Ireland, and the birth place and early life of each hero is proudly narrated. This has already stimulated a powerful Union feeling throughout the entire country.

Corron.-A number of farmers and garden ers in Chester county, from a desire to experiment, as well as to demonstrate if possible our independence of the fractious Southern slaveocracy, have been planting cotton seed in small quantities, and the result of the effort is being eagerly looked for. In a number of instances, whether for want of knowledge in its planting or on account of the soil being unfavorable, or from other causes, yet the fact is patent that it resolutely refuses to sprout and come forth; while others say that in some places it is com ing on finely.

POSTAGE STAMPS AS A CURRENCY.—The York Pennsylvanian in noticing the fact that petitions are in circulation praying the council of that borough to issue corporation notes of a less denomination than one dollar, recommends the use of postage stamps in transacting ta has been styled the "Empress of Motive Po business. It says of stamps, the denominations are 1 cent, 3's, 5's, 10's, 12's, 24's and 30's. With these any sum between a penny and a dollar may be made. It is objected to shin plasters that they form too large a bulk for pocket room. This objection will not THE "UNION CANAL STORE" owned by our en. apply to stamps. Corporation notes are good terprizing friends Messrs. J. & H. J. Meilly is only in the town where issued; postage stamps are good everywhere.

THE RECENT ENGAGEMENT OF THE LOCHIE almost every desirable commodity, and being CAVALRY WITH THE REBEIS. - We have been presided over by gentlemen, polite and affable kindly permitted to publish a copy of the in their deportment, the citizens of the place following dispatch received about half-past eight o'clock last night by Gov. Curtin in answer to one sent by him in reference to the recent engagement of four companies of the Lochiel Cavalry with the rebels near Tomkinsville, Ky. It will be seen that Major Thomas E. Jordan, at first reported killed, is now reported safe; and as no mention is made of Col. Williams, it is reasonable to suppose he was not in the engagement, being on service with a part of his fine regiment elsewhere.

Capt. Harris, reported wounded, is a son of Geo. W. Harris, Esq., and formerly a practising physician in this city.

Lieut. Sullivan, noticed as being killed, was formerly a clerk in the Prothonotary's office of our county, under Wm. Mitchell, Esq., of whom he is a near relative.

ARRIVAL OF EMIGRANTS. - Two hundred and fifty emigrants passed through here day before at least a week in Chicago.

WHAT A LITTLE GIRL DOES .- The Cleveland Leader says: Every Saturday morning finds Emma Andrews, ten years of age, at the rooms of the Soldiers' Aid Society, in this city with of the Soldiers' Aid Society, in this city with pair of mitts direct from auction, at 25, 37, 50, an application for work. Her little basket is 62 and 75 cts.; 1000 Ladies' white collars, at 10, an application for work. Her little basket is soon filled with pieces of half worn linen, which, during the week, she cuts into towels or handkerchiefs, and returns, neatly washed and ironed, at her next visit. Her busy fingers have already made two hundred and twenty-nine towels, and the patriotic little girl is earnestly engaged in her good work. What little girl in this city will "go and do likewise."

AARON SULLIVAN IS DEAD!-Such was the terrible news which greeted the people of Harrisburg yesterday, and scarcely a single indiviburg yesterday, and scarcely a single indiviburd the appropriament refused his dual that heard the announcement, refused his dual that heard the announcement, refused his sincere regret, or failed to receive the fact linen pocket handkerchiefs for gentlemen with the mournful feeling which its import deserved. Aaron Sullivan was a Second Lieutenant in company D, Lochiel Cavalry, and was pets from auction; 5 pieces of black silk at all killed in a late encounter of a battalion of that regiment in Iennessee, with some fifteen hundred rebel guerilla mauraders. He was a son of Moses Sullivan, a former member of both branches of the Legislature, and at one time also Canal Commissioner. His impulses were of that character which led him to emulate all that was noble, chivalrous and patriotic. His first attempt at usefulness was in a printing office, where he arrived at great perfection in that branch of mechanism. His next effort was as a civil engineer, in which he was regarded as highly efficient and practical. This pursuit he gave up to engage as a clerk in the Prothontary's office during the term which Mr. Wm. Mitchell was Prothonotary. While in that office, young Su'livan won the esteem and confidence of the legal fraternity, and the respect of every man who came in contact with him. both branches of the Legislature, and at one of every man who came in contact with him. Here he conceived the idea of studying law, and when he obeyed the summons of the government and entered the army, he was about to apply for admission to the bar of Dauphin county. His studies had been completed. The certainty of his brilliant admission had been a matter of congratulation among his friends, and a long career of usefulness, and honor seemed about to open to him in the profession of the law. But all this was generously sacrificed on the alter of the Union. Ambition, fortune, fame and repose in the comparatively quiet pursuit of a profession, lost all their charms in the presence of a men aced government, and in hearing of the threats of traitors clamoring for war. The clerk and he student became the soldier and the patriot and thus he died in the service of his country. There are many, very many in Harrisburg who will never forget Aaron Sullivan. His memory will be eternal in some hearts-and present field and line officers of the Lochiel his virtues, which begatsuch goodness and generosity for those around him, will long illuminate that memory with the blessings of those who have been blessed by his acquaintance.listory, and not journs

> Aaron Sullivan died. OUR AMIABLE and good-natured friend of the Pittsburg Chronicle is jocular over a slight mistake made by us in a notice of Harry Davis' fine painting representing the Pennsylvania Bucktails in the battle of Fair Oaks, instead of Harrisonburg. We confess to a rustiness in our geography, especially just now, when the exciting events of the rebellion are bringing into prominence localities that even the most accomplished geographers themselves never previously neard of. No matter, however, where the battle was fought, it was a most brilliant engagement, and reflected the highest honor upon our brave Pennsylvania Buckteils So. far as regards the painting of the affair by our artist friend Davis, the matter of the location of the battle will in no wise lessen it in the estimation of the public as a masterly work of

A Model Establishment .- Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of pros perity and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city.

The building is not only one of the largest devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock chillenges competion. Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted,) and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase But Baker

For County Commissioner. To the Editor of the Telegraph: As the time for the meeting of the Republican Union Convention approaches, it is of vital importance to present such names for the various nominaions for ther consideration of the loyal votes of the county, as will enable them to select candidates of strength and integrity. In this crisis of our country, offices of all degrees must be filled by men of strict honesty and patriotism, and, whilst expenditures in the nation, state and county, are greater than heretofore, we must be watchful of the pecuniary interests of the media media and fit mentals. yesterday over the Pennsylvania railroad.— of the whole people. EDGEHILL SCHOOL PRINCETON, N. J.

THIS institution, founded in 1829, is designed to prepare boys thoroughly for college or frabusiness life. The buildings are large and commodicus, and the grounds embrace more than theren acres. Both of the Principals devote their whole time to the school, aided in the department of Instruction by competent teachers. In multiary instruction and drill, (under the charge of an experienced instructor), is arranged so as not to interfere with the regular stadies, occupying a part of the time appropriated to exercise and recreation. Pupils are received at any time and charged only from the date of adaission. Transs:—$125 00 per session of five menths.

For circulars, or further information, address either of the Principals. Reference is also made to the Rev. Mr. Cattell, Harrisburg.

I have great confidence in the Rev. Jas. P. Hughes, as a teacher, both in his apiness to give instruction, and his tact in the administration of discipline. I have bad two sons under his care, and from the most careful observation I am free to recommend the Edgehill School as one of sefe and those well instruction. e and thorough instruction.
