OUR PLATFORM. THE UNION—THE CONSTITUTION—AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

THE PEOPLE'S STATE CONVENTION

THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA, who desire cordially to unite in sustaining the NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION in its patriotic efforts to suppress a sectional and unwholesome rebellion against the UNITY OF THE REPUBLIC...

A. K. McCLURE, Chairman People's State Committee. GEO. W. HAMMERSLEY, Secretary. JOHN M. SULLIVAN, Secretaries.

HARRISBURG, PA. Wednesday Morning, July 16, 1862.

THE UNION PLATFORM.

In the following resolution, offered by Schuyler Colfax, in the recent caucus of the Union men of both houses of Congress, we have a clear and unmistakable definition of what is meant by loyal principles. It is the platform on which all true Union men can stand, and as such it will be adopted by the people.

Resolved, That we hold it to be the duty of all loyal men to stand by the Union in this hour of its trial, to unite their hearts and hands in earnest, patriotic efforts for its maintenance against those who are in arms against it, to sustain with determined resolution our patriotic President and his administration in their energetic efforts for the prosecution of the war and the preservation of the Union against enemies at home or abroad; to punish traitors and treason with fitting severity, and to crush the present wicked and senseless rebellion, so that no flag of truce shall ever again be raised over any portion of the Republic; that to this end we invite the co-operation of all men who love their country, in the endeavor to rekindle throughout all the States such a patriotic fire as shall utterly consume all who strike at the Union of our fathers, and all who sympathize with their treason or palliate their guilt.

THE WISDOM OF THE PRESIDENT.

The special message of President Lincoln, which we printed in our morning edition of yesterday, deserves the careful perusal of all our readers. It is another of those statesmanlike propositions which have distinguished the action of President Lincoln when dealing with rebellion, while it is of that plain and practical character which brings it within the comprehension of every man in the country.

We are repeatedly told by our dough-face partisans, that slavery is the result of the combined action of the American colonies. The dough-face declares that the negro was brought to this continent by the people of the northern or eastern States—and that notwithstanding those States have since abolished slavery, the American people in common, are responsible for the evils which have or may hereafter flow from that institution.

"THE YANKEE idea that free negroes will work, is all nonsense," exclaims the slavery enlightening Representative Wickliffe, of Kentucky. And if he speaks the truth, why should dough-face howlers for conservatism be alarmed about competition between white and free negro labor?

CONFISCATION.

The proceedings had in Congress within the last few days, demonstrate to the world that the American people have taken a long step in advance of civilization. Whatever we may have done heretofore, and however we may have labored to render this government potential and impregnable, nothing half so efficacious when regarded as tending to these results, has been achieved, as the proceedings of Congress on the subject of confiscation will prove.

The nature of the present war has been such as to render it imperative that the slavery question should be met and disposed of finally. We were engaged with foes who have nothing else to do but to fight battles. The people, the lordly land owners, slave dealers, and white men generally of the south, had no inducement to keep them out of the ranks of the rebel army.

Out of this confiscation act, we look for results that will extend further than the influence it is designed to have in crushing rebellion. It will prevent treason where that crime has not been committed and enlarged. It will demoralize American slavery, and teach the upholders of that institution that the power of this government is neither to be trifled with or set aside; and any short lived embarrassment which may grow out of confiscation will be compensated by such results.

THE SERVICE OF A YEAR.

When the tender of troops, by the loyal Governors, was made to the President, we do not believe that it was premeditated to extend the term of service of such troops for three years. The very idea of making the offer of such troops, was to conclude the struggle finally and forever end this war, in as short a period as possible.

The official announcement that the time of enlistment has been changed, from three to one year, will fill up the quota of Pennsylvania troops in sixty days. By such a change, Pennsylvania could put into the field, fully armed and equipped, and respectably, if not efficiently disciplined, from thirty-five to forty thousand men before the 1st of September.

THE CLOVEN-FOOT EXPLODED.

The Patriot and Union is the personification of all that is evil. If any person wishes to look upon the picture of a traitor, let him read the editorials of that sheet this morning. With Pharisaical professions of loyalty to the government, it reeks with evidences of hatred and revenge. Its hatred of the administration "sticks out" in almost every utterance, and its sympathy with Jeff. Davis and his rebel friends, is as glaring as the noon day sun.

Again, the Patriot has something to say about the "Confiscation Bill" just passed by Congress. It "roars" on this subject "as gently as a sucking dove!" About the 4th instant, when that treasonable assemblage, called a "Democratic State Convention," convened in this city and gave utterance to its treasonable sentiments, among other absurdities it denounced the idea of confiscation as "unconstitutional!"

The rebel Governor Harris and Andrew Ewing, active secessionists, are known to have been at Beersheba Springs, near Sparta, a few days since, organizing a raid on Murfreesboro, which is approached and will be extended to the capital of the State.

THE AFFAIR AT MURFREESBORO.

LATER PARTICULARS. 6,000 Rebels Marching on Nashville. New York, July 15—14, A. M. The following special despatch has been received by the Herald, of this city:

The Unionists lost $80,000 worth of army stores at Murfreesboro. The Union forces engaged were the 3d Minnesota, Col. Leslie, 800 men, six companies of the 9th Michigan, Col. 800 men, the 3d and 4th of the Pennsylvania 7th Cavalry, 225 men, Hewitt's battery, 70 men, and the convalescents of the 14th Kentucky, 25 men.

The rebel Governor Harris and Andrew Ewing, active secessionists, are known to have been at Beersheba Springs, near Sparta, a few days since, organizing a raid on Murfreesboro, which is approached and will be extended to the capital of the State.

The public are still in great excitement. Many families have left for Louisville, and the cars were crowded this morning with armed, coolie speculators and adventurers.

It is reported that Gen. John C. Breckinridge, Col. Forrest, and Col. Bains, of Nashville, commanded the rebel forces at Murfreesboro. It is also reported that they have taken Lovegreen, fifteen miles from Nashville, and Kirby Smith is advancing on Nashville, from Chattanooga, with 15,000 men.

Murfreesboro is barricaded by blocks of hay, and the Federal shells have set fire to many houses. Colonel Lester is falling back towards Nashville. Reinforcements to the Union army are coming in by special trains. The 23rd Kentucky regiment have just arrived, and are being heartily cheered as they pass through the streets.

The city is in a great state of excitement. The secessionists confidently expect the arrival of the rebel forces some time to night. Battered and bloody, they have been placed on Capitol hill and at other points.

If there is any duty a man owes to his business, "in season and out of season," it is to advertise it. "Now is the time to advertise," said one friend to another. "Yes," was the reply, "that is what you always say." And the rejoinder was—mark it—"Because now, in its application to ADVERTISING, means always, with me."
