THE FIFTH RESERVE.-The numerous friends of Colonel Fisher, late Lieutenant Colonel of the Fifth Reserves, will be pleased to learn that he behaved with great gallantry in the ecent battles before Richmond. He went brough the conflict unscathed, though in the jottest of the fight. The report that he was killed or taken prisoner, arose from the fact that his horse becoming entangled in the undegrowth, he left him run and went into the

THE RESTRICTION OF TRAVEL TO OLD POINT. As there seems considerable misunderstanding on the part of persons desirous of visiting Old Point or Norfolk in the regular Government line of steamers in relation to permission to travel in them, it is advisable to publish the regulations, which are easily understood : All persons attached to 'the Quartermaster's and Commissary's Departments; all agents employed by the Government : fathers and mothers of wounded soldiers; persons employed to furnish meat and provision to the army and navy-providing they produce evidence either from Major General Dix or Captain Goldsborough that they are employed as such.
